MY STORY THIS WEEK.

A little native girl was brought from New Zealand for her education. She became a true Christian. After her education was finished she earnestly desired to return to her fatherland. Her friends tried to persuade her not to go back, saying, "Why do you wish to return? You are now accustomed to England, and it suits your health; besides it is possible you may be shipwrecked. And even if you should get there safely, your people may kill you. Everybody will have forgotten you now." "How?" said the little girl, "do you think I can keep the good news all to myself? Can you think I can be content to have forgiveness and peace for myself, and everlasting life, and not return to teach my father and mother how they may get it also? I will return to my fatherland, even if I must swim there."

MY QUESTIONS THIS WEEK.

- 1.—How long was Paul kept in prison in Caesarea?
- 2.—Before what king was Paul taken?
- 3.—Did the king set him free?
- 4.—What did he decide to do with Paul?
