QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS, Veterinary.

INDIGESTION.

After mare was put in stable last fall, she was troubled with griping spells, which lasted for a few minutes. I fed hay, bran and oats. Changed food to straw and corn on cob, which seemed to agree with her better. Changed back to hay, bran and oat chop, and the trouble reappeared. For the last week, she has had diarrhoea.

H. V.

Ans.—Give her a pint of raw linseed oil. Follow up in about 18 hours with 2 ounces tincture of opium, 4 drams catechu and 4 drams prepared chalk, in a pint of cold water as a drench, every four hours, and add to her drinking water  $\frac{1}{4}$  of its bulk of lime water until diarrhoea ceases. Give her 1 dram each of gentian, ginger, nux vomica and bicarbonate of soda, three times daily. Feed on the kind of food that appears to suit her best. She has congenitally weak digestive powers, and will need to be carefully fed and used.

NASAL GLEET—CONDITION POWDERS.

1. Young team has had distemper since last fall. They cough and discharge from the nostrils.
2. Give prescription for good condition powder.

NONAME.

Ans.—1. This is not distemper, but the result of neglected cases of either distemper or influenza. The horses are now affected with a chronic disease known as nasal gleet, which is very hard to treat. Take 6 ozs. each of sulphate of iron and sulphate of copper and 4 ozs. iodide of potassium, mix and make into 48 powders. Give each horse a powder in damp food twice daily. It will probably be necessary to repeat the prescription, as recovery is usually very slow.

2. Healthy animals should not be given condition powders or other drugs. When animals are not healthy the medicines to be given are indicated by circumstances. The idea that all animals should be given medicines in the spring or at any other season is radically wrong. A good general tonic is equal parts by weight of sulphate of iron, gentian, ginger, nux vomica and bicarbonate of soda. Dose, a tablespoonful two or three times daily.

SWOLLEN LEG, ETC.

1. Mare is not doing well. She had scratches, but I treated them successfully. One hind leg is swollen, but not sore. She is fed on hay, oats and bran, and does no work except a little driving occasionally.

2. Cow is due to calve this month. Advise treatment.

G. F. R.

Ans.—1. Have her teeth dressed. Give a purgative of 8 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger. Follow up with 1 dram iodide of potassium twice daily for two weeks. Feed lightly on grain, and give regular exercise. Hand rub the swollen leg frequently, and bandage for three or four hours after driving.

2. Keep in moderate condition. See that she gets regular exercise. Provide a comfortable stall for her. See that she does not eat the afterbirth, and if it is not expelled in 36 hours after calving, get your veterinarian to remove it by hand. Allow the calf to nurse her for at least four days, and do not milk her by hand, but do not, on any account, milk her dry for at least four days after calving.

Brown Lee Shorthorns—Present offering is 3 to 15 months old, a nice straight, good-looking lot, sired by Blenheim Stamp; also females of all ages, daughters of Imp. Sir Christopher and Imp. Beaumont. Prices very reasonable. DOUGLAS BROWN, Ave. P. O. and Station.

In every part of the country, says the Chicago Live-stock World, inquiry into the condition of the rural real-estate market develops the fact that values are still gradually crawling up. Farm land, within a radius of 40 miles of Chicago, that could have been bought at $60 an acre five years ago, cannot be touched now for less than $100. Great swarms of emigrants have gone to the Dakotas, and other parts of the West, and values there have appreciated in the same ratio. The farmer who pays $150 to $200 an acre for land must understand the same pretty well to make a good interest on his investment.
