

BERWICK NEEDS RAILWAYS.

Better railway accommodation is needed in the Berwick, N.S., district, which comprises a section of country on the line of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, extending from Kentville to Middleton, in the Annapolis Valley, a distance of thirty-one miles, and containing a population of 12,000, mostly engaged in agricultural pursuits. The exports and imports are chiefly by way of Halifax, eighty-three miles from Berwick town. Under existing circumstances business can be transacted as promptly with Boston, 400 miles away as with Halifax, only eighty-three miles distant. Factories are needed here, but the manufacturer avoids the locality where he will be handicapped by excessive freight rates and insufficient railway accommodation. We want many things, but we feel that we could provide them for ourselves if we had proper transportation facilities.

¶ The progressive business man cannot afford not to have the machine suited to his particular requirements.
