

SUPERIOR HEAT FURNACE HOUSES

There are many reasons why the Pilot Superior is the choice of so many Canadian Farmers. It is particularly well adapted to the requirements of the average farm home, and because of its unique construction has placed the convenience of a safe, sanitary and healthful furnace heat within the reach of these folk who fully appreciate its remarkable qualities. The farm house must have a cool cellar so that the perishable products stored there will not be spoiled. Furthermore the average farm homes are not constructed along lines that permit the installation of furnace requiring a lot of network of pipes and registers.

The Pilot Superior with only one register and no pipes, its insulated casings, large feed door, properly placed to be the best warm air furnace for farm homes. Prices range from $150 upwards according to size. We also handle HECLA, SUNSHINE and other makes.

Carrick Nomination

KLAGES BRIDGE A TARGET FOR MANY OF THE SPEAKERS
Carrick ratepayers gathered in very large numbers to the Municipal Nomination meeting on Monday afternoon to hear the members of the council give an account of their stewardship during the past twelve months. The new roadwork system and the construction of the new road on the 10th concession were subjects on which many different opinions were expressed, and the ratepayers listened with the greatest interest to the addresses.

LIST OF NOMINATIONS
For Reeve—
Henry Schnurr, proposed by John Polfuss and M. Filsinger.
Eckhardt Siegner, proposed by Andrew Schmidt and John Harper.
Chas. Wagner, proposed by John Lerch and John Kaufman.
For Councillors—
Jos. Montag, proposed by Joseph Hoffarth and Geo. Zettler.
John Inglis, proposed by Ervin G. Zinn and Jos. Vogan.
John Weigel, proposed by Simon Goetz and R. Kaufman.
John Juergens, proposed by John Bickel and Wm. Polfuss.
Chas. Wagner, proposed by John Bickel and Chas. Klein.

Moses Filsinger, the first speaker characterized Henry Schnurr as a man of good judgement, and with his experience should fill the Reeve's chair creditably, although he could not say much for the rest of the council. Money was thrown away this year, the Klages bridge and road being an example of the council's extravagance. Carrick said the speaker has only 11 miles on the good roads system and is not being fairly treated by the county.

Henry Schnurr thought he had served long enough as councillor and now it is either to move up or out. Thought he should have the Reeveship by acclamation, but was willing to fight it out. The Carrick township rate was lower than in any of the surrounding municipalities. He appealed for a good vote next Monday.

Andrew Schmidt, moving E. Siegner for Reeve, said it was time for a change. He condemned the council for its big expenditure at the Klages bridge, and suggested at the head of affairs, it would have been handled differently. The council had not spend much money, but had wasted a lot. Carrick was being shabbily treated by the County Good Roads Committee. Take for instance in 1919, Brant received $8000, and Carrick $600.

Mr. Siegner spoke very briefly, stating that the ratepayers were familiar with his record, and was willing to let them decide the matter next Monday.

Chas. Wagner, who was nominated for Reeve, said he would not stand, but just wanted to explain a few things to the ratepayers. Mr. Montag, he said, had circulated the report that he (Wagner) could not write his own name, and this helped to bring about his defeat. Two good men were in the field this year, and the electors would be safe in either case. Messrs. Montag and Juergens were the responsible parties charged with the high taxes. The high expenses in the County Council, with the Good Roads, Mothers' Allowance, High Schools, etc., is boosting the County Rate, and no person can keep it down. He defended the new roadwork system, stating that Carrick should receive a grant of $3000 from the Province.

Ervin G. Zinn, in moving John Inglis for councillor, gave the outstanding address of the day. He had heard so much about the Klages bridge that he had been inclined to look over it himself, and was inclined to think it was a waste of money to undertake a big job like that when labor and material were at the peak price. In the south end of Carrick there were many hills and roads that were in need of repair. He urged the council to adopt more modern methods in road improvement, such as screening large stones out of gravel, dragging the newly graded sections in order to have a smooth surface. In his opinion, the council should rather spend money on the County Good Roads.

The Toronto Star very properly points out that the electionlaw with regard to penalizing candidates to the extent of two hundred dollars if they fail to secure half as many votes as the candidate elected, should be repealed. It is not democratic in a free country any minor should have the right to appear at election time the star cutting had approved of the job. He also gave a summary of his own activities as township overseer.

Mr. Juergens, who had superintended most of the work on the Klages hill, gave a very fair and reasonable report on same. He said while the job had cost more than was expected, his part of the work had been done economically. The filling cost 25c per yard, and the graveling 40c, and in a few years the new road would be one that the township would be proud of.

Chas. Wagner was the last speaker. He was somewhat undecided as to whether to remain in the field for councillor, but finally decided to run and took his declaration of qualification.

OUR NEW MEMBER

Mr. J. Walter Findlay, M.P., member-elect for South Bruce, although up to now comparatively unknown in the county, is a familiar figure in his home township of Brant, where he has been active in township affairs for several years he sat as councillor and for the last two years as deputy reeve. He has stood well at the township polls, particularly last year when he had 168 majority for the deputy's chair. But on December 6th Brant capped the climax, giving him a plurality of 567 over the next highest candidate, Mr. Findlay was born at Portage du Fort, Quebec, coming at an early age with his parents to Brant and settling on the farm where he still resides. His father, the late Captain Findlay, was a prominent man in the township for many years. About three years ago, Mr. Findlay entered into a matrimonial partnership with one of Brant's most highly esteemed daughters, Miss Pauline Thompson, who now presides over the beautiful home. Mrs. Findlay shares her husband's political enthusiasm and is president of the Solway U. W. F. O. J. Walter Findlay, M. P., has taken an active interest in the Farmers' movement from its inception, and has attended the annual conventions at Toronto for six or seven years where he early imbibed the enthusiasm of Halbert and Morrison. Mr. Findlay was entered the nomination at a convention of delegates from the Provincial constituency of South Bruce in 1919, being nominated the same day as the local U.F.O. had not tested out any leaders, and there were several contestants. The nomination was anybody's prize. Mr. Findlay made a short snappy speech which tickled the convention and the candidacy was his. Later there was some criticism to the effect that at the townships of the Dominion constituency were not represented at the convention. Mr. Findlay then called for another meeting and in competition with other would-be candidates he again won out. Mr. Findlay was a very good speaker to begin with and he has improved with practice during the campaign. How he will measure up as a member of parliament has of course yet to be determined. But he has ability, straight-forwardness, enthusiasm and other good qualities which convince his many friends in the riding that he will give a splendid account of himself as South Bruce's representative at Ottawa.—Telescope.

KILLED BY SWINE

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)
William Bell, who was seriously injured on Monday about noon by swine, died about eight last night at the hospital. Everything that could be done, was done to save his life, but his injuries were of such a character that this was impossible. He was conscious until last night. His injuries consisted of a broken breast bone, injuries to the spine, and lacerated bowels. There is a conflict of opinion as to how the accident happened. Mr. Schultz stated that the deceased had gone to the slaughter house about 11 o'clock on Monday with Mr. Sam Schultz, Mr. Schultz leaving Mr. Bell there soon after. In an adjoining apartment was a sow with some small pigs and the little pigs got out into the passageway, and the sow tried to get them. Mr. Bell is said to have gone into the passage way just as the sow jumped over a small partition, striking Mr. Bell and knocking him down. The sow was then said to have fallen on him with its front feet inflicting the injuries. According to another person it was a boar that had attacked Mr. Bell, and there was a large boar in the place, owned by Mr. Chambers. The accident occurred about noon and Mr. Bell managed to make his way over the rough road 600 yards away to his home. He collapsed when he got there and Dr. Danard was called. About four he was transferred to the hospital in the ambulance and was operated on that night. Until yesterday afternoon there were hopes held out for his recovery, but about five he took a change for the worse and passed away about eight. The young man was 30 years and four months old. He was born in Sullivan township and came to Owen Sound when a small boy with his parents.

1922 WARDENSHIP

A new flock of candidates will be out for the Wardenship. Reeve Gideon Ruttle of Huron Tp. was the runner-up last year but his appointment to the County Roads Superintendency puts him out of it. Reeve Rowand of Brant won't run this year. Perhaps he figures out that his fight to make the County Council assume the 6th con. bridge which they had to do, hurt his chances this year. Anyway he is not a candidate. We understand Reeve Jim Lewis of Elderslie has a lot of them lined up to support him for the big chair and he will likely land there. Lewis is a man of sterling qualities and a likeable fellow. Reeve Fred Lippert of Walkerton who will likely get an acclamation this year will be in the field for Warden in January and should take a big enough vote to put him in line for the big job for 1922.—Telescope.

When the Landlord Raised the Rent

"I never do have any fun," complained a young girl petulantly. "Come with me, and I'll cure your discontent," suggested a visiting nurse of the National Sanitarium Association. They visited a humble little home. The mother was struggling to support the three children, while her husband was fighting tuberculosis at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. Life was not rosy. It was tragic when the landlord raised the rent.

NEWSPAPER BURNED OUT

J. R. McIntyre, proprietor of the Dundalk Herald, over in Grey County, had the misfortune on Wednesday of last week to lose his entire plant by fire. The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock in the morning, in a frame building used as a garage. The Herald office was next to this and before the fire could be gotten under control, both buildings were reduced to ashes. The Public Library was also in the path of the fire, and about half the books in the library were destroyed. Mr. McIntyre had a good business, and recently had installed a linotype machine, and this, with the remainder of his plant, is reduced to junk. The loss will be heavy, as, owing to the big increase in the price of printing machinery and type—amounting to one hundred per cent.—in recent years, few, if any, owners of printing plants carry nearly enough insurance to cover a complete loss. Some men are less fortunate than others. This is the third time that Mr. McIntyre's plant has been burned out in ways for which he was not responsible.

A CONTEMPTIBLE TRICK

Some time between Sunday and Wednesday of last week some miscreants broke into the house of Mr. Byers, hydro employe, two miles west of the town, got away with about twenty gallons of cider, and wretchedly cut the tires on Mr. Byers' auto to ribbons. Mrs. Byers came up last Wednesday from Chippewa where her husband is employed as a steam engineer on the Hydro works and on opening the house found it badly messed up by the cheeky visitors at the above damage done. The case was put into High Constable Briggs' hands but the culprits have not yet been discovered. Foot prints were noticed tracking through the snow a certain morning to neighbors' barns but the neighbors were able to prove that they were at home that night. It is believed the real culprits used this clever dodge to throw the authorities off the scent. If they are caught, it will no doubt go hard with them.—Telescope.

THE CHAMPION VOTER

The championship voter of Middlesex County has been discovered in Lawrence Johnston, who farmed for eighty years in Dorchester and who though in his 105th year, voted in having changed his political creed he is living retired. Mr. Johnston claims that in his entire experience he has never lost a vote. This time he was on the winning side again, the Federal elections at Avon where to the U.F.O. in time to be in on the election of Arch. Hodgins in East Middlesex. When he was 100 years old he laid 8 rods of tile across his lot and the day before election day he warmed up by spitting a load of wood. But for the fact that he has suffered a couple of severe accidents in his lifetime he claims that his physical condition would have been much better.

A NEW FOREST INDUSTRY

In these days of lowered prices for farm products anything which gives a farmer another crop is of importance. At the request of the British Forestry Commission, which bears the expense, the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior is collecting the seeds of the Douglas Fir, Sitka Spruce and some other trees of the Pacific coast to be shipped to Great Britain to be used in reforesting denuded areas there. The Forestry Branch has erected a seed extracting plant in New Westminster, British Columbia, and the collection of the seeds is done largely by farmers, in the newer settled districts near the city, who bring in the cones in sacks to New Westminster market. It seems rather odd to see farmers coming to market with sacks of cones instead of apples or potatoes, but as the farmer receives $2 per sack for the cones and as the Forestry Branch thus secures the seed required at a reasonable rate the innovation is considered most satisfactory to all concerned.
