proper number to be obtained the best success. That brooder improvement has made wonderful strides over the old death-traps of a few years past is beyond dis-pute, and the beginner that selects one of the high-grade brooders now on the market will have success, providing that the proper essentials are compiled with and the main ones to follow are an even temperature, especially for the first 10 days to two weeks, and plenty of fresh air through the aid of windows that do not subject the chicks to draughts.

NOTES. The poultry keeper that wishes the hest in eggs for hatching, day-old chicks, or slock, must expect to pay a fair price. Poultry is graded in the same manner so other lines of slock are graded, ac-cording to the breeder and what that breeder's slock stands for in merit. Not all flocks are alike, and there is a big difference in the skillfulness of the breed-er.

whelly to the skillfulness of the breed-er. The beginner in poultry should plan for an early start. Winter eggs are produced by chicks hatched early, and to obtain the most from poultry one must have a fair egg yield during the winter months, when hen fruit is at its hichest. For good fertility the breeders should not be forced for egg production. A good dry mash should be fed with not over the heavy breeds. Exercise is im-portant. Never allow the fowls to be-comes sluzgish. Fertility is largely due to the manner in which the hens are hendled. Many poultry keevers are sfraid of handled. Many poultry keerers are afraid of fresh air for their poultry. For a num-ber of years the press has put before the public the importance of good ventila-tion for poultry, yet in spite of this, a large number of poultry keepers still clink to the old method of closed poultry buildhores.

FORCED TO QUIT. Eton's Head Master Sym pathizea with Germans.

London, April 3.—Rev. Edward Lyttelton, head master of Lton Colege, has resigned. His resignation will take effect next Christmas.

Dr. Lyttelton in specches during the war has made the declaration that it was the duty of Great Britain to extend the principles of Christian charity to Germany, and as a result he has been assailed by the newspapers as unpatriotic and a visionary. Several of the newspapers have accused him of being pro-German. Dr. Lyttelton denied these assertions.

Alberta Lady Tells of Quick and Complete Cure Through Using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ferguson Flats, Alta., April 10.--(Special.)--"Yes, I am very glad I can cay that I have tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them all that is claim-ed for them." So says Miss Dollie Mc-Clain, an estimable lady residing here. "I was troubled with a sore that made me almost helpless. I took one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and my back is all right. I can do my work and the pain is all gone." Thousands of women in Canada are suffering daily tortures from pain in the back. Thousands of others like Miss McClain are doing their work without an effort because they took the advice of others and cured their backache by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Pills. Every woman should use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are the finest toric in the world because, acting directly on the kidneys, they tone up those organs to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood means new strength for all varis of the body. New strength means new cheorfulness That is why so many women so cheer-fully testify to the benefit received from using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

WOMEN MADE THEM.

Great Men Who Acknowledged Their Wives' Power.

Tom Hood, the pathetic humorist, when absent from home, gave his testimony to the truth of Eousseaus saying that "Man is what woman makes him." "I never was anything, dearest, till I knew you, and I have been a better, happier, and more prosperous man ever since. Whatever may befall, my wife shall have my acknowledgment of her tenderness, worth and excellence."

Happy was the domestic life of Ben-jamin Disraeli, Lord Becconsfield. He married late in life a woman much his senior, who brought him wealth, but to whom he was greatly attached. Once, as he was parting with her at

SEEKING HAPPINESS.

Little Things That Make Living a Joy Not Always Appreciated.

We are told that happiness comes by pieces and that it is these small bits linked together that make our lives worth while. Some of us are not content to take our happiness by degrees or at intervals. We want it all the time in big pieces, and if wo can-not have it that way we think that we are deprived of our natural rights and look upon ourselves as human beings It is a rather singular expression of Perhaps those of us who know what the joy of living means have experi-enced both of these attitudes at dif-ferent periods of our lives and are in resition, therefore, to appreciate a varying viewpoint, but even so it is cally after we lose something of that iou of living and have found out for conly after we lose something of that joy of living and have found out for ourselves that there are shadows which no amount of sunlight can disperse that we can readily appreciate the blessing of whatever happiness may find its way into our lives. ## TRAINING THE FLEA.

How the Tiny Insect is Weaned From His Jumping Habit.

"The teaching of the flea to do any sort of trick is of course, a tedious, difficult matter," said the flea train-er. "The first thing to do is to break it off its natural habit of jumping. "One can see how necessary this is when one considers the flea is less than one-eighth of an inch in length and has a jump of three feet -300times its own length. If a six-foot man had the same leaping power he could make leaps of 1,800 feet, so that when a flea has the advantage of one leap he is as good as gone fcrever. My apparatus for jump break-ing is a round glass ball. I confine him in this for three weeks. I look through this ball, touch it, flash lights into it, talk, do everything to let the flea accustom himself to my pres At first he will jump and He strikes against the curved ence. jump. walls and gets bruised. After a time and I find three weeks to be ample, the flea gets to know mey and he al so gets to know that it is less painful to crawl than to jump and get bruised.

"The flea cannot differentiate between transparent glass and no glass so that when I take him from the ball he still strikes this peculiar obstruc-tion and so he don't jump. So, you see, a flea must have some reasoning power somewhere, but I am in no position to say where it is located. That is why I have to pick fleas up with tweezers and put them on my arms when I want to feed them. They don't dare to jump on me."

Where Pigs Climb Trees.

Presumably the walrus and the car-penter never did settle the discussion as to whether pigs had wings, and there are persons who seriously think it was a foolish time for an argument.

And yet is it any stranger than the undisputed fact that in Morocco pigs climb trees in search of nuts — not climb trees in search of nuts — not only pigs, but goats, too? The puzzle is not in the pigs and the goats, know-ever. They are of the common var-iety that we see in the back lots in our own communities. It is the tree that is strange. It is called the Ar-gan nut tree and grows near Agadir. U ally it shoots out from a steep bill-side. The trunk is broad and flat side. The trunk is broad and flat and almost horizontal and so are the main branches, forming ample and solid foothold for any animal which may be tempted by the olive shaped nuts growing within easy reach of the main branches.

Strength at This Season.

Spring ailments are not imaginary Even the most robust find the winte months most trying to their health Confinement indoors, often in heated and nearly always badly venti lated rooms—in the home, the office the shop and the school—taxes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery and is clog-ged with impurities. Some people have headaches and a feeling of langour. Others are low-spirited and nervous. Still others are troubled disfiguring pimples and skin tions; while some get up in the eruptions; morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order and that a medicine is needed. Many people take purgative medicines in the spring. This is a serious mis-take. You cannot cure yourself with a medicine that gailops through your system and leaves you weaker still. This is all that a purgative does. What Cine that will enrich the blood and soothe the jangled nerves. And the one always reliable tonic and blood purfifer is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weakness, but guard method is a spring but the bus to companying by the bus to barrier the barrier of the sustained the bus to companying by the bus to companying by the barrier of the sustained always accompanying by the barrier of the sustained the barrier of the sustained and energy of Gladstone, the "old cloquent" hay in the fact that domestic relations were alway entirely devoted to his well by the barrier of the barrier of the barrier of the barrier of the the barrier of the more serious ailments that follow. such as anaemia, nervous debility, in-digestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to had blood. In proof of this Mrs D. E. Hughes, Hazenmore, Sask., says: "About a year ago I was badly run down, my nerves were all unstrung, and I could not go upstairs without stopping to rest. As I was a long ways from a doctor I determined to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in the course of a few weeks I felt like a new person. As an all round restora-Jean heartily recommend

Though suffering greatly, she hade him a smiling adieu, in order that he might not be disconcerted, before driving to the surgeon to have her crushed thumb dressed.

Thackeray's tenderness to the poor insane wife whom he loved to the last is a well known fact. The poet Longfellow, who, by a fearful catas-trophe, lost the queenly woman whom he wooed through the pages of "Hy perion," maintained a domestic life as nearly perfect as falls to the lot of nearly perfect as fails to the for of mortals. "During twenty years," wrote a friend, "following this event, he only waited for the hour which came at last. Through all the grar I poise of his being, through his meek but manly acceptance of all the events of life, this was the one prevailing truth—he was waiting for the end."

The secret of the sustained power and energy of Gladstone, the "old man lay in the fact that were always de entirely devoted to his well being. Always accompanying him even to the hustings, ready to shield him from every exhausting condition, sne was likewise the companion of his in-tellectual life. And no man of true edgment to such womanly influence whenever he has been its happy recipient

Among such may be numbered the blind Postmaster-General who brought in postal orders, Mr. Fawcett. ### INDIA'S QUEER BELIEFS.

Buddhists Would Die Rather Than Lose a Limb or Eat Meat.

India's population is 325,000,000. Practically all the races and religions of the world are represented. Ninetyeight and six-tenths per cent. of the people cannot read or write. Four per cent. of the inhabitants eat regular meals. The remainder eat when they can and where they can. The average native in India lives on less food per diem than any other human being in the world. Religious preju-dices are intense. Men willingly die rather than submit to some dismem bering surgical operation, for did not Allah command them to appear be-fore him as they left him to come into the world?

The Buddhists will not eat meat or take even a medicine derived from an animal. They died by millions dur-ing the bubonic plague rather than take a prophylactic serum made from pepsin—because the pig from which pepsin was obtained was unclean to the Mohammedan and Hindu, and the killing of this animal and the bull from which the broth was made was against the tenets of the Buddhistic faith. I know an editor in Poong, India, to absolutely Scfuse a $1,000 yearly advertisement of a patent med-icine because it contained pepsin. Indians are fond of sweets and last year imported over $40,000,000 worth of sugar. Clothing is made chiefly from cotton, which is largely grown in the country.—W. E. Aughinbaugh in Leslie's.
