

GREAT THINGS HANG ON LITTLE THINGS.

A few years ago, a little boy had a present from his grandmother of a little text-book. It was bound in red leather, and had his name written on it. One day when he went to visit his aunt at Lynn, his little book fell out of his pocket. He was a very little boy, and much troubled at the loss of the book, for his name was written on it by his grandmother herself.

The matter was almost forgotten, when, a year afterwards, the Rev. R. C., the clergyman of W., (a parish about eight miles from Lynn) gave the following history of the lost book: He said he had been sent for to see the wife of a man living on a wild common at the outskirts of his parish, a notoriously bad character. The message was brought to him by the medical man who attended her, and who, after describing her as being strangely altered, added, "You will find the lion become a lamb." And so it proved. She who had been wild and rough, whose language had been violent, and her conduct untamed, lay on a bed of exceeding suffering, patient and resigned.

On arriving at the house, the clergyman heard the following story from the woman herself, explaining the cause of the marvellous change: Her child had picked up the text-book, and carried it home as a lawful spoil. Curiosity, or rather some feeling put into her heart by Him without whose leave a sparrow falleth not to the ground, had induced her to read it. The word had been blessed to her, and the understanding opened to receive the Gospel of truth. She could not describe the process, but the results were there. Sin in her sight had become hateful; blasphemy was no longer heard from her lips. She drew from under her pillow "her precious book," as she called it, which had taken away the fear of death.

She died soon afterward, filled with joy and hope in believing, having in those detached portions of Scripture found a Saviour all-sufficient to bear her heavy burden of guilt, and present her, clad in his own spotless righteousness, before the throne of God—thus proving the truth of that verse, "My word shall not return unto me void; it shall accomplish that which I please, and shall prosper in the thing wherunto I send it."—Friendly Visitor.

THE COLD OF SPACE.—For every mile that we leave the surface of our earth the temperature falls five degrees. At forty-five miles distance from the globe we get past the atmosphere, and enter, strictly speaking, the regions of space, whose temperature is 225 degrees below zero; and have cold regions in all its power. Some idea of this intense cold may be formed by stating that the greatest cold observed in the Arctic circle is from forty to sixty degrees below zero; and here many surprising effects are produced. In the chemical laboratory the greatest cold that we can produce is about 150 degrees below zero. At this temperature carbonic acid gas becomes a solid substance like snow. If touched, it produces just the same effect on the skin as the red hot cinder; it blisters the fingers like a burn. Quicksilver or mercury freezes at forty degrees below zero; at seventy degrees below the temperature at which water freezes. The solid mercury may then be treated as others metals, and hammered into sheets, or made into spoons; such spoons, however, would melt in water as wax in fire. It is pretty certain that every liquid and gas that we are acquainted with would become solid if exposed to the cold of the regions of space. The gas we light our streets with would appear like wax; oil would be, in reality, "as solid as rock;" pure spirit which we have never yet solidified, would appear like a block of transparent crystal. Hydrogen gas would become quite solid, and resemble ice. We should be able to tread upon butter in a lathic like ivory; and the fragrant odours of flowers would have to be made hot before they would yield perfume. These are a few of the astonishing effects of cold.—Scientific American.

LORD, SAVE ME!—A minister asked the maid of an inn in the Netherlands, if she prayed to God. She replied she had scarce time to eat, how should she have to pray? He promised to give her a little money if on his return she could assure him she had heeded said three words of prayer night and morning. Only three words, and a reward, led her to make him the promise. He then gave her the following words to repeat "Lord, save me!" For a fortnight she said the words unmeaningly; but one night she wondered what they meant and why he bade her repeat them. God put it into her heart to look at the Bible and see if it would tell her. She liked some verses where she opened so well that next morning she looked again, and so on. When the good man went back he asked the landlady for her, as a stranger served him. "O sir, she got too good for my place, and lives with the minister!" He went to see her, and so soon as she saw him at the door she cried, "Is it you, my blessed man? I shall thank God through all eternity that I ever saw you. I want not the money; I have rewarded you for saying those words!" She then described how salvation by Jesus Christ was taught her by the Bible, in answer to this prayer.

GLORIOUS REVENGE.

"I will never forgive him, that I won't!" exclaimed Basil, bursting into the room where his eldest sister was quietly seated at her work; "I will never forgive him!"

"Why, Charles West," replied Basil, as he put his books away in their place.

"And what has Charles West done to offend you? Come and tell me this. Now, tell me all about it!"

"Well," said Basil, "my Raymond, who is a friend of Mr. Matthews', and is staying with him, came into the school-room to day, the greatest gentleman, and so he offered a half-crown to the boy who first did a sum he should set us. Five boys beside me took up their staves; he set us all the same sum, and then we all set to work. Charles West came and sat next to me, and I saw him copy down every figure as fast as I did it. When I had only one figure to do, Mr. Matthews left the room. I looked to see who went out, and when I turned to my slate every figure was rubbed. I knew Charles did it, because he colored so. In a minute he had finished his sum, and carried it off. It was first done and correct, and so he had the half-crown. I was so angry, the bell rang to go home, and I ran off directly, but I am determined to have a glorious revenge on him. Was it not proper, Alice?"

"Yes, dear, very good what you have said to be!"

"Oh, I know, I will tell you; he just deserves it. Mr. Matthews said that he would give any boy out of the school who uses the Key to the Grammar Exercises. Well, I saw Charles using one yesterday, and I will tell of him—"

"Listen to me a moment, Basil. Charles is only at school for one more year. At the end of that time, my gentleman has promised, if he behaves well, to place him in a situation where, in a few years, he will be able to support his education. Do you think the gentleman will give him his situation, if he is turned out of school?"

"And what would be the disappointment of his aged mother, to think that her son, who she hoped, would support and comfort her latter days, had disgraced himself?"

"Silly! he would bring down her grey hairs with sorrow to the grave."

"O Alice!" exclaimed Basil, with tears in his eyes, "I never thought of all that, nor, I would not ruin poor Charles for the whole world!"

"This would be a glorious revenge, my dear boy," said Alice, quietly.

"Oh, no, no, dear Alice! I never, never would be so wicked as that, though Charles did make me very angry at the time; but you know I should like to punish him a little for it."

"Well, Basil, I know a way to punish him, and to have a really glorious revenge."

"Alice dear, pray tell me," said Basil.

"Well, do you remember the text, 'Be not overcome with evil, but overcome evil with good,' to be sure, Alice. I know what you mean now."

"Well, then, think over what a glorious revenge you can have by obeying the command in that text, my dear?"

"Alice left the room after that, and I went to my study. Basil did not sit thinking long before he decided what he would do. With Alice's permission, on the following day he invited Charles West to tea. He was much surprised on the invitation, but accepted it. They had a very pleasant evening together. The principal amusement consisted in sailing Basil's ships on a pond in the garden; for the finest Charles expressed great admiration. Basil took him up to the play-room."

"Charles," said he, "you admired the Hero most of all my vessels, so I will make you a present of it."

"Oh, no," cried Charles, stepping back, "I could not think of such a thing!"

"Oh, but, Charles, you must have it. Alice lets me do what I like with my ships, and I can make myself another just like it; and papa says if Mr. Matthews will allow you, you can come up on Saturday and sail it with mine, and will teach you how to make ships too."

"Basil," he exclaimed, as they bid each other good night, "I will never try to injure you again, as I did yesterday; and I never will sail your Hero."

From that time Charles and Basil were firm friends. Charles was easily persuaded to use the key to the exercises again. He always after tried to imitate his friend's example, and to gain the esteem of his master and the love of his schoolfellows. My young reader, was not Basil Lee's a glorious revenge—Child's Scrap Book.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER, STILL TRIUMPHANT!

AND AFTER A THOROUGH trial by innumerable living witnesses has proved itself to be THE MEDICINE OF THE AGE, and is now being sold in many medicinal preparations brought before the public since the first introduction of Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, and large amounts expended in their introduction, the Pain Killer has continued steadily to advance in the estimation of the world as the best family medicine ever introduced. As an internal and external remedy, it is truly a source of JOY TO THE WIDOW.

One positive proof of its efficacy is, that the sales have constantly increased, and upon its own merits, as the proprietors have not resorted to advertising to gain for it the rank it now holds among the great medicinal preparations of the present time. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of Colds, Coughs, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medicinal preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sore, Sprains, Cuts, Stings of Insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it such a host of testimony, as an almost infallible remedy, that it will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest medical discoveries of the nineteenth century. The magical effects of the Pain Killer when taken or used according to directions are certain. You have only to be sure that you buy the genuine article, and adhere to the directions in its use, and you will obtain its wonderful medicinal properties.

In the genuine Perry Davis' Pain Killer is now put in panel bottles, with the words "Vegetable Pain Killer" blown in the glass; and with two steel engraved labels on each bottle—one an excellent likeness of Perry Davis, the original inventor of the medicine, the other a steel engraved label in hand—none others can be relied upon as genuine. Prices of bottles 12-13 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 respectively.

VALUABLE MEDICINE.—We presume no medical preparation ever offered to the public has been more thoroughly tested than PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. Thousands of people, were they tallied up to do so, would absolutely testify that they have used it for various ills, with the most satisfactory success. It is within our own knowledge, that an immense amount of suffering has been relieved by it. Its proprietors, Messrs. Perry Davis & Son, save no pains or expense in order to satisfy the public. Being strictly honorable men, they observe the utmost uniformity in the manufacture of their celebrated Pain Killer. The materials of which it is composed are carefully selected—none but the best quality being used. By these means the high reputation which the Pain Killer has long since acquired, is at all times triumphantly sustained. In view of these facts, we are by no means surprised to learn that Messrs. Davis & Son's sales are constantly and rapidly increasing. While we congratulate our friends generally that so valuable a preparation as the Pain Killer is placed within their reach, we must be permitted to rejoice at the well merited success of its liberal and enterprising proprietor.—Presidence General Advertiser.

DR. A. JOHNSON'S AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT, FOR THE CURE OF COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pain in the Sides or Breast, Rheumatism, Cramp in the Stomach, Spitting of blood, and all Lung Complaints. Manufactured by J. S. JOHNSON, Bangor, Maine.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT, an entirely vegetable preparation, prepared and intended for internal and external application. It was in the constant practice of medicine for 20 years, and by a long course of experiments upon the various diseases for which this Liniment is recommended, he became perfectly satisfied of its efficacy, and others have since been led to collect, as the result of his long experience and best efforts.

This has long been a standard medicine, and enjoys the privilege of being known and patronized by a large portion of the medical Faculty, wherever it has been introduced. With the firm conviction that it is the best remedy of the present age for all diseases for which it is recommended, he has determined to present it to the Public, not doubting that it will sustain the high reputation it has already acquired. We do not assert that this article is a cure for the ten thousand ills that afflict the human race, but those who are afflicted with the following diseases, try it, and we can assure them, that it will find relief.

It is a powerful remedy for the Bronchitis or Bronchitis, Croup, Catarrh, Hard dry Cough, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness and common Cold, Pain and Soreness in the Lungs, Stomach and Sides, caused by lifting or carrying, Asthma, Indigestion, for Sore Throat and Sore Gullet, for Chronic Diarrhoea, caused by Rheumatism in the bowels, for Cramp in the Stomach, for Strangury, Gravel and Stone, Bilious Piles, &c.

Externally, it is a most happy effluvia, in all cases where any other Liniment would be used, especially for Rheumatic Affections, Childlike Chaps, Hives and Sore Lips; it is a sovereign remedy for the bites of Flies and other Insects, and is equally efficacious in all cases where the hair, when they are carried, cut, bruised, strained or chafed by the harness, and it possesses more than double the power of any other Liniment that can be made.

Inflammation of the Bronchitis or Bronchitis, for the cure of this disease it has been wonderfully successful. Those who had cases of long continuance have found permanent relief. S. D. JOHNSON, 101 Centre Street, Boston, who had a case of three years' standing has kindly permitted us to refer to him in proof of the efficacy of this valuable medicine; also in the case of a young man, who had a severe case of Bronchitis, and who, after the use of the Liniment, and continued till the leaves fall in Autumn—in a few days the disease is not attended to in season, it ends in consumption. Take of the Liniment according to directions, and a cure will be effected.

Catarrh, and noise or confusion in the head may be cured by a faithful trial of this Liniment; drop one or two drops in each ear at night before going to bed, and take it internally according to directions.

In all Coughs, the Anodyne Liniment is a well known remedy, particularly for Whooping Cough. The first symptoms which attend this disease, are a hoarse, dry cough, and a feeling of heat in the chest. The use of this Liniment, at the first attack, will not only relieve the patient, but will prevent the disease from becoming chronic. For children, half a teaspoon full of Liniment at night and morning.

This Anodyne Liniment for sore throat and weak lungs, that complaint so common in all countries, especially in this climate, stands unrivalled, and in every case, a complete trial will be made by the complete recovery of the patient.

The Anodyne Liniment is a fair trial, satisfied that it is in a great number of instances of this distressing disease, made permanent cures. In connection with taking the Liniment internally, external application should be made.

The sale of this invaluable medicine is rapidly increasing, and the Proprietor can say with confidence that he has been the favored instrument of giving relief to the thousands of the afflicted. He earnestly solicits all who may be afflicted to try this Anodyne Liniment a fair trial, satisfied that it is in a great number of instances of this distressing disease, made permanent cures. In connection with taking the Liniment internally, external application should be made.

JOHNSON'S CATHARTIC PILLS, Sugar Coated, in Glass Bottles.

FOR THE CURE OF A GREAT VARIETY OF DISEASES, arising from the impurities of the Blood, and Obstructions in the Organs of Digestion.

These Pills may be used in all forms of Diseases, with the most decided benefit, and without fear of injury. Being of Vegetable extract, they do not cramp or rack the delicate frame or weak constitution, but will be found particularly useful, by stimulating the weakened and disordered parts into healthy action.

The most delicate female, and children of the tender age, can take these Pills with perfect safety, and the most salutary results will follow. Being coated with pure White Sugar, prevents that general aversion which most persons have to ordinary Medicines, for nothing but the taste of sugar is apparent when administered.

Married Ladies, under all circumstances, will find these Pills a safe, and in small doses, a mild cathartic.

The best time to administer these Pills is on going to bed at night, though they can be taken at any time beneficially; at night, however, they have a more general and universal influence over the whole body; the mind, body and nervous system, at that time being in quiet state, give the Pills an opportunity to operate with the fullest effect upon the whole system.

They are an excellent article to be taken in the Spring of the Year. To invigorate and give Tone to the System.

These Pills have a great advantage over other Sugar-coated Pills, in that they are put up in GLASS BOTTLES, well corked; consequently will keep for any length of time without being injured by the action of damp weather.

The Proprietors of these Pills has spared no expense in getting up an article that he trusts will meet the universal approbation of the public, and he is sure that they will, when known, take a stand beside his well known and extensively appreciated AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT.

They are purely Vegetable in their composition, are perfectly mild, give no pain, yet efficient in their operation, and require no change of diet or confinement while taking them. They require only a trial, and need no puffing to recommend them. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

For sale at the Apothecaries', Hall, and at the Drug Stores of W. R. Watson and M. W. Skinner, and sold at all the Stores throughout the Island. Persons wishing supplies at the above preparation as the Pain Killer is placed within their reach, we must be permitted to rejoice at the well merited success of its liberal and enterprising proprietor.—Presidence General Advertiser.
