The steamer Carroll will make her last trip from this port to Boston, on the 11th inst.

The Londoner Sheriff McDonald returned to the island on Thursday evening.

The dredge Prince Edward is engaged digging the dock between Parnell and Connelly's wharves.

This position against Col. O'Brien, Conservative M. P. for Newcastle, has been dismissed with costs.

The daily Standard has been enlarged by four columns. We congratulate our contemporary on this evidence of prosperity.

A carpenter named Joseph H. Peters, a native of Holly Bay P. E. I., was killed by the care at Gloucester, Mass., Sunday night.

The Ottawa Free Press has published for its sixteenth number regarding Parnell's mission. It is not known whether the paper in this city and the other journals of the province, who have reported on the mission, will now do so.

It is the intention of Mr. T. L. Chapelle, of the Diamond Bookstore, to issue a Hand-Book of the Island for 1892. The work is to fill the void caused by the discontinuance of his annual almanac, and is to surpass that work in general information.

The State of Indiana sailed from Boston Thursday afternoon. Her passengers were: J. C. Ross, J. F. McKinnon, Mary McInnis, M. A. McLeod, F. McDonald, Emma Heron, Emma Graham, J. Humphrey, Miss C. Power, D. McKee, Mrs. F. A. Winslow, C. H. Winslow, Mrs. John Macdonald, Sarah McLeod, Maggie Doyle, Mrs. and Miss Murphy, Miss K. Goodwin, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Murphy, Alice Fielding, J. Mullis, Mrs. Mullis, Miss Mullis, and J. Fitzpatrick.

Prof. D. J. McLeod, the new Superintendent of Education, was on Friday afternoon, the recipient of a feeling address, accompanied by a handsome secretary and deputy superintendent, and a number of his old pupils of Prince of Wales College. The Professor made a touching reply, after which speeches were delivered by the other Professors of the College. Both he and Mr. Robinson, his successor, assumed the duties of their respective offices on Monday.

Timothy the city Hall-ween was a small boy and by mistake was given the Claret, champagne etc., were given their annual holiday by the trustees, and in some cases had not been found to fulfill their duties. A crowd of the big boys came to make away with John Timoney's old sled, which was used on the sidewalk before his show-rooms since the big fire of 1884, but only managed to get as far as the middle of the street.

The Michaelmas Term of the Supreme Court opened yesterday. Mr. H. C. Snow was on motion, admitted as an attorney at law, and the application of John A. Macdonald, of New Glasgow, to be given the customary examination previous to commencing the study of law, was granted. Justice Hodgson delivered judgment on the case tried before him, without a jury, at Georgetown, last July, in the case of Thomas Henry vs. Patriot Publishing Co., an action for libel, a verdict for the plaintiff for $100 was given. The case of Leonard McLeod vs. John Cowan, an action for damages for refusing to allow plaintiff to be sworn in as a member of the lodge, was also tried. A verdict for the defendant was given.

A HANS OVERSEA.—We are prepared to furnish the Herald and the Weekly News from now until the 31st Dec., 1891 for one dollar and seventy-five cents. This offer includes the several volumes of the late Sir John Macdonald. This remarkable album is itself worth the money asked for both papers. It illustrates the career of Sir John from his birth place in Glasgow to his last resting place in (Canada) "our country." It contains excellent photographs of Sir John and James Macdonald, as well as of his birthplace, and different scenes in his eventful career. It has to be seen to be appreciated. This offer extends to ad. as well as new subscribers. Send in your orders at once to the Herald Office.

Hon. MACKENZIE BOWELL, Acting Minister of Railways, and Col. William Schreiber, Chief Superintendent of Government Railways, accompanied by their secretaries, Messrs. Jones and Smith, arrived here from Pictou on Wednesday evening. On Thursday morning they, accompanied by Superintendent Unsworth, Accountant Haggis, Truckmaster Howie, and Mr. Unsworth's secretary, Ragnell, inspected the eastern division of the P. E. I. Railway. On Friday they went to Tignish, returning the same evening as far as Summerside. On Saturday morning they inspected the Cape Traverse branch, and returned to the city the same afternoon. The Acting Minister of Railways expressed himself as much pleased with the condition to which he found matters in connection with our railroad. This is what might be expected, under the careful and skillful management of Superintendent Unsworth. The visitors left here on Monday morning when they went to Halifax. They expect to be back in Ottawa about the end of the week.

REMEMBER THE END.—One of the most controversial books of our time has just been published. The author of the work is Dr. J. H. Parnell, M. P. for Newcastle. The title of the work is "The End of the Matter." It is a book of 100 pages, and is a most interesting and readable work. It is a book of 100 pages, and is a most interesting and readable work. It is a book of 100 pages, and is a most interesting and readable work.

A SEA VOYAGE.—A sea voyage is an expensive and extensive proposition, especially when equally good results can be obtained by a simple taking of Burdock Blood Purifier according to directions. It is a specific for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, regulates the liver, bowels and kidneys and removes all impure matter from the system.

The most recent and very latest style of Burdock Blood Purifier, just issued by J. H. Parnell, M. P. for Newcastle.

A Tribute to the Memory of the Late Bishop McIntyre.

I. 'Twas the tranquil close of a long bright day, His sinking to sleep when his work was done, Like the purgous tints of an autumn eve Is the memory left of the race he's run.

II. What a vision fair in the vista past! Like Peter of old—in his manhood grand, There the moods of grief and the shocks of fate, He gazed the back with a virgin's hand.

III. Ah! the mistle high with its duty stern Of order to wield in profusion and zeal, They the decades three, did he nobly fill For justice and right and his people's weal.

IV. At the Master's voice was the net let down, The labour was hard but the will was strong; There the heat of day and the chill of eve, Unceasing, unchanging the work went on.

V. But the nightfall came; and a mystic sound Arose from the beach—so thrilling, so sweet,— 'Twas the welcome home from the lonely sea, The full net cast to the Saviour's feet.

VI. In our selfish grief for a Father loved We saw but our loss, and aught of his gain; From the fearless bloom of his new-born life, We bitterly turned to brood o'er our pain.

VII. But the sunbeams veil that our hearts enshroud, The sunlight of faith has risen in triumph; On the restful beach, near the glorified There beams a dear face on our own again.

VIII. On our loving trust, no shade is cast,— He breathes on us still a blessing of peace Like the wondrous calm o'er the storm-tossed lake, When Christ bids the winds and the billows cease.

CORRESPONDENCE

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by our correspondents.)

To the Editor of the Herald.

Sir,—I have read with unalloyed pleasure the letter of M. in the Herald. It seems to me that he has written a cord that will find a responsive echo in many a breast. Our educational system is in a state of transition, but it is possibly to be considered from a religious standpoint. Education without faith is but a dead letter, and it is possible to draw out in it or in other words to perfect the intellectual faculties of the child by giving them their proper object which is truth. Hence, children are sent to school that their minds, while yet tender, may be trained up in the way of truth. Now, God is truth. "I am the way, the truth, and the life," is his own testimonial to his nature, and the life, is his own testimonial to his nature, and the life, is his own testimonial to his nature.

THE CENTURY FOR NOVEMBER.

The Century has just "come of age," and in its November number begins its twenty-second year with some notable features.

Mr. Cole's engravings of the masterpieces of the Italian painters reaches a climax in the fall of the year. The work is a masterpiece of art, and is a most interesting and readable work.

PROSECUTING THE OFFENDERS.

The announcement this morning that the Dominion Government has begun the prosecution of the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., implicated by the recent evidence before a parliamentary committee in a conspiracy to rob the public treasury of immense sums of money, is another instance of the most energetic and prompt action of the Government.

Under the title of "A Rival of the Yosemite," John Muir, the California naturalist, contributes the first fully illustrated description which has been made of the great canyon of the South Fork of King's River. This canyon is well known, and has been but little visited, and the illustrations of which this is the first full-page description in a grand National Park, of which the Sequoia Park shall be the center.

The death of Mr. Lowell is further commemorated by a paper of literary criticism by Mr. Lowell, and a paper of English poetry at the same time.

Accompanying this article is a new full-page portrait of the late Mr. Lowell, by John Johnston, and a brief notice by Mr. Lowell, introducing a notable letter from Mr. Lowell, written to critics upon him for his political poems of 1875.

A SEVERE ATTACK.—Dear Sir,—My children were taken ill with what I had thought was diphtheria. I had nothing in the house but your Burdock Blood Purifier, and I gave them a few doses. I am now if it had not been for it the disease would have been fatal. I am a grateful subscriber.

THE TRINITY OF INQUIRY.
