Curling Post Office Burglarised.

REGISTERED MAIL STOLEN.
The Post Office at Ourling was urglarized on Sunday night, 4th inst and some registered mail taken. As a result three lads are now in fail awaiting trial. The S.S. Home arrived here from north on Sunday afternoon and the mail by her was placed in the waiting room of the Post Office by Mail Officer Skanes. Next morning when Postmistress Batteock opened the mail she found there was no registered mail. She immediately wired to Humbermouth to Officer Skanes who replied there were sixteen registered letters. She then placed the matter in the hands of the police. It seems a pane of glass was removed from the front window and the lock of the sash opened. This enabled the rising of the window through which access was gained The seal on the mail bag was cut, the letters removed and the bag sealed again. So carefully was the pane of glass removed and replaced that the tacks which held it were replaced in the same holes. And about the only clue that the office had been so entered was the unfastened sash lock, and even that was not conclusive. Therefore the police had very little to work upon. However, undaunted they set to work, with the result as stated above.-Western Star.

Big Refrigerator Plant.

TO BE ERECTED AT PORT AUX

Rumor has it that a well known firm in Port aux Basques is about to finalize with a large American fish concern to operate a fishing industry at Port aux Basques, where they will build stores and a 200 ton capacity freezer for bait and shipments to American and Canadian points. This will have a tendency to shift business to the northern side of the harbour where they have plenty of deep water and close to the steamers and trains. We understand operations will begin this coming fall or early in the spring. The establishment of a refrigerator plant at the Western Terminal is a want long felt. And we have on several occasions advocated it, and endeavoured to point out the advantages which would accrue therefrom to the general trade of this coast and to the fisheries particularly.

In times past parties who wished to engage more extensively in the fishery industries have been deterred through the absence of cold storage facilities on the West Coast.-Western

CHANGE OF BASE From southern seas the authors come, astride of reefs and all that coral bunk; and now they turn to WALT MAJON desert chiefs, who're equally as punk. They wearied us with blue lagoons, and damsels dark and fat, and now they hand us Bedouin prunes, and let it go at that. Some gifted damozel or dame produced a Bedouin tale; it brought her seven kinds of fame and fourteen kinds of kale. When this occurred the authors all were earning bread and cheese, by writing stories, large and small, about the southern seas. But when they saw that desert chiefs were strictly in the swim, they passed up all their coral reefs, horizons far and dim. The dusky damsels, promptly canned, were left in native state; and to the wastes of shifting sand the authors pulled their freight. For southern seas I hold no brief, but they are better far than is the bughouse Bedouin chief who's now the fiction star. And now for weary months, gadzooks, the desert stuff will reign, until the sandy line of books gives every one
