Our Montreal Letter

(From Our Own Correspondent).

TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATIONS IN TWO VILLAGES.

Within twenty-four hours two great conflagrations broke out within the Montreal District; the first practically wiping out nearly half of the whole village and the second ninety per cent. of the place. The first took place at St. Constant. The fire started in a wood yard in the early hours of the morning and was caused by a spark from a passing engine. Help was summoned from St. Lambert and over twenty miles the Montreal firemen did not arrive until 5 in the morning when the whole place was ablaze. The large and beautiful church together with the presbytery, were destroyed. The inhabitants of the place were aroused from their slumbers by the ringing of the church bells. A young lady sent the SOS signals by telephone, and stuck to her post until the flames were beginning to burn a window right near the telephone booth. That the entire village of over one hundred houses was not completely wiped out, was due to Miss Aline Longtin. Bell Telephone operator at St. Constant, who rang every telephone in the little town to spread the fire alarm, and then summoned help from Laprairie, St. Lambert and Montreal. One woman was seriously burned, one hundred people were rendered homeless, and the damage was estimated at over half a million dollars. The church alone was valued at $200,000, with only $60,000 insurance. The fire destroyed, besides the historic church, over a dozen houses and an equal number of stores, factories, and the Post Office; also the Telephone Exchange. Owing to a very high wind the firemen found it hard to fight the flames, and were obliged to work until late the next night to save the remainder of the village.

One of the village's bells in the tower of the St. Constant church, which was destroyed by fire, survived the general collapse of the church masonry, and, suspended from a loose beam high up in the shattered tower wall, tolling, as it seemed, the death knell of the house of worship.

The second great conflagration took place at the village of St. Urbain, 25 miles from Montreal. Some twenty places have been burned and the loss is $1,000,000. The church was saved. The fire started at midnight in the rear of the Dubuc Hotel and was discovered by a man who was engaged at his radio. He smelt smoke and on coming from his house ran across to the hotel, and aroused the proprietor who, with his family, had barely time to escape. The village had no fire-fighting apparatus and the water had to be obtained with buckets from a pond. So the fire practically burned itself out.

The Morning Sun, a new daily just launched, speaking of the St. Constant fire says editorially:

The story of the little telephone girl of St. Constant, Aline Longtin, who sat at her switchboard calling for help to save her beloved village from the devastating flames should never be forgotten.

While the flames were eating at the very windows of the telephone office, Aline Longtin, fired by the heroic courage of eternal France, sat at her post, flinching not, and forgetting self. Clad in night attire, she had previously run through the streets to give the alarm to her fellow villagers and, having done so, she tried to warn all whom she could reach by phone of the danger to them and their homes, and to send out across the wires her earnest appeals for the help that seemed as if it would never come.

If there be a society for recognizing and rewarding courage, Aline Longtin should be awarded its medal. In any case, The Morning Sun pays its humble tribute of admiration to this little French girl who did her duty bravely and well and proved herself truly a heroine.

Hats off to Aline Longtin!

EVEN COMPILERS MAKE MISTAKES.

Perusing a geography used in the Catholic Schools throughout the Province, and compiled by members of a religious teaching Order of Men, I find the following paragraph:

"Newfoundland is an island located in the East of Canada; it is largely covered with rocky hills, and the soil is not very fertile. Newfoundland has a population of fishermen; the chief export is coal, which is very abundant."

The Only Remedy Says This Doctor

"The treatment of skin diseases (eczema) is difficult, and the only remedy known to me is D.D.D. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy, and it is the only one that I can recommend. It is the only one that I can recommend. It is the only one that I can recommend."

dant all along the coast of the Island. I was not aware of the fact of the "chief export" of coal and of its great abundance all along the coast, until I read of it in the geography. I am afraid that those who compiled this text book, did not apply to the proper source to seek the required information about the exports of Terra Nova.

BURGLARS ARE FOND OF STEALING FURS.

Burglars who forced the front door at the premises of Bordeaux & Sons, furriers, 419 St. Paul St., West, at ten o'clock Sunday morning, grabbed several articles near the forced door and made a quick get-away. Five men are believed to have formed the storming party, having been seen driving hurriedly away by a citizen who informed operators from the Dominion Messenger and Signal Company. The value of the stolen coats was placed at $2,000.

MCGILL CAPTURES ALL THE CRICKET HONORS.

The cricket season for 1924 was brought to a close on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20th, when McGill defeated the All Star team of the city by a score of 157 (for 7 wickets declared) to 117. McGill went through the season without a defeat. They captured all the honors the City Championship, the Challenge Cup, and also retained the John-Ross-Robertson Interprovincial Challenge Cup for the 3rd season. The outstanding feature of the season's work was the growing popularity which the game is fast assuming, every match during the season at the McGill campus being present on Labor Day when Toronto played for the John-Ross-Robertson Cup. The attendance was estimated at over 2,000. The bowling of H. Mitchell, the left hander, who captured 101 wickets during the season. The batting of Godsell, Menno, Hedges, Potter, Saunders and Goodman, who in nearly every match made double figures. It was regrettable, that the "cannon ball" bowler, Potter had a very poor season in the bowling line, but made up for it in his great batting strides. The Champions will shortly be tendered a banquet.

MANY DULL CHILDREN HAVE POOR SIGHT.

Sixty per cent of children classed as dull are merely suffering from defective eyesight.

This was the declaration of W. H. Wilkins, F.S.M.C., President of the Optometric Association of Ontario, who addressed the opening meeting of the Quebec Optometric Convention at the Windsor Hotel.

Discussing the future of optometry, Mr. Wilkins said: "Ninety-nine per cent. of children classed as dull in the past are now known to be physically deficient, and more than sixty-five per cent. have been found to have defective vision."

The speaker dwelt upon the increased interest taken by employers of labor in the physical well-being of their employees. "Vision," he said, "is the most important of physical attributes, sixty per cent. of human energy being directed through its operation. Longer life, happier existence, more efficient work, are the natural outcome of the advancement of optometric science."

MOTHER SAVES HER CHILD IN TIME.

Kidnapping is also on the map here. A few days ago an attempt was made to kidnap a five-year-old boy the son of a Police officer. The mother of the child and a passerby fought two men who were about to take the child away in an automobile. The little boy was playing on the doorstep of his home at 449 Leval Avenue, when the kidnappers drove up and dragged him into the machine. His mother saw the act from the window and rushing out managed to take the boy from the men, but one of them struck her down with a blow in the face and dragged the boy back into the car. Harry Gotthel, of 1040 St. Dominique, who was passing, sprang into the car and fighting off the two men, placed the boy safely in his mother's arms. The kidnappers made off immediately. It was reported that the detective office has a good clue to the identity of the men.

A fantase of uncured ostrich in black and white is used at the side of a square-crowned hat of black felt.

Black satin is quite good. Not only is it used for fur-trimmed ensemble costumes, but bands of it are used as trimming.

"IMP" SOOT DESTROYER

People used to make fire by rubbing two sticks together, it can still be done that way. But time and energy is saved by modern safety matches. People used to hire a chimney-sweep, get up early in the morning to let him in, pay him a dollar or two and spend the remainder of the day cleaning up the mess he made. That can still be done. But for a few cents "The Imp" will do the work thoroughly without disturbing anything or anyone. It also extinguishes chimney fires. 17c. each.
