NEW MEMBERS OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

ALD.-ELECT STEVENSON.

· ALD.-ELECT BOOTH.

ELECTION AFTERMATH.

With the city council standing six Liberals to five Conservatives, and to the fact that the people were not with Ald. Forristal, independent, the quite sure that there is plenty of Liberals have no fear that they will water for years to come at Springbank pot be treated fairly this year. The school board is also just to the liking of the Liberals, and fair play to all is the river, and he says that if this is assured this year, there being five done, the people will without hesita-Liberals and five Conservatives, with tion sanction the expenditure for a the balance of power in the hands of new main, which he declares to be an absolute necessity.

As far as the council is concerned, the Liberals are in a vastly improved position this year. Last year there were but five Liberal aldermen, and the mayor. This year, there are six say that he was badly hampered by a Liberals, and as Ald. Forristal was lack of conveyances to carry voters to supported mainly by the Liberals, he the polls. A local Conservative stated may be depended upon to see that his against 30 for Sievely. Liberal colleagues are not treated unfairly. Owing to the alderman's attitude in the last Hyman-Gray election, when he supported the Minister of Public Works, a large section of the party attempted to knife him. Ald.
