

OLD SANTA HAS ARRIVED At the Big Department Store !

Old Santa has made his appearance with a various stock and overwhelming supply of Toys for the Children and fancy goods for his friends.

Never before has this old Gent visited town with such a load of Toys and Presents as this Year.

HURRAH FOR GOOD OLD SANTA ! !

It would be worth the time and expense to come miles to see the mammoth assortment he has on display at our store. We ourselves were at a loss to know where he intended to put them, and what he intended to do with them, but that wise old head of his soon had all arranged and has already disposed of a lot.

Among the Toys on show he has Dolls in large and small sizes, Fur Animals, Horses, Elephants, Mechanical Toys, Pianos, China and Tin Tea Sets, Violins, Autos, Trains, Tops, Horns, Nodding Figures, Bath Tubs, Watches, Steam Engines, Beds, Books, Games, Drums, Trunks, Wash Sets, Rocking Horses, Stoves, Sleds, and many other things too numerous to mention.

As for our display of Fancy Goods for Christmas Presents, we would like you to call and inspect our large and carefully selected range.

Old Santa's one request is bring the little ones to see his monstrous display at The Big Department Store.

MARQUIS & CO.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO CAN CROCHET.

Christmas Gifts That May Be Fashioned by Her Needle.

The girl who crochets has a great opportunity to display her skill, especially in this day of beautiful hand work.

A young girl will be delighted to receive a crochet party bag for Christmas. The one illustrated is crocheted of rather heavy cotton and finished at the corners with hand made balls of the cotton.

The bag may be mounted over a lining of silk or satin in any color that is preferred. It is made to accommodate the fan, buttonhook and other dainty trifles that a girl is likely to require at a party or at the dancing class.

Charming For a Young Girl.
In crocheting a bag on this order it is not necessary to adhere to this pattern. Any motif used in Irish crochet may be substituted for the rose shown here. By the use of judiciously adjusted chains re-enforced with rows of double or triple crochet made to look like scallops it may be worked out to form an oblong piece of crochet. This supplies one side of the bag.

Rows of chains or scallops are run around the edge when the two sides have been drawn together with the crocheting needle in a row of single crochet.

To Keep Handkerchiefs Neat.
This little handkerchief case may be made in a short time and will prove a most acceptable gift to any friend, man or woman. It is fashioned of coarse crochet silk. The pattern is a diamond achieved by crocheting a chain of seven and catching it in the center of the chain beneath it.

A square is first crocheted of these chains, and then the sides of the bag are crocheted around and around that. A piece of cardboard padded and covered with silk is tacked to the bottom of the bag. This square is scented and made the same size as a folded handkerchief.

Ribbons are run through the top of the bag so that it may be drawn to gather. Then the handkerchief placed inside will be held firmly in place. Such a bag is a great convenience for the traveler, for the handkerchief may be thus compressed into the smallest possible amount of space, and there will be no danger of their wrinkling.

Useful Crochet Gifts.
Irish crochet belts lined with a soft white ribbons are pretty accessories to a white toilet. Buckles to finish off a pretty neckpiece can also be crocheted. Handkerchief bags to match the Irish belt are also charming, and open bags are made of lace.

FLITTING IN CANADA

Some Curious Mis-statements in an English Journal

Some curious statements about the habits and customs of one country are sometimes published in the newspapers of another. An English publication, "Ideas," has an article about "flitting," or moving, in Canada. The readers of that journal are informed that in Canada we do not flit, we do not move from one home to another, do not engage in househunting, furniture packing, and that we do not employ furniture removers. The way we do it in Canada is thus described: "When a householder decides to remove to another locality, if it is within a reasonable distance, he locks his door, puts the key in his pocket, and walks or drives to the spot he has chosen for his future home, and leaves the house to be brought after him." This is made possible, it is explained, because the houses are of wood. Everything is left in a house just as it was occupied. It is hoisted on jacks, moved on rollers, and is taken to its new site without cracking the plaster or shaking the pictures from the walls. All this is very interesting, and no doubt some frame houses and shacks are moved from one site to another in this way. But one is as likely to see the residences of London or Liverpool on skids as those of a Canadian city.

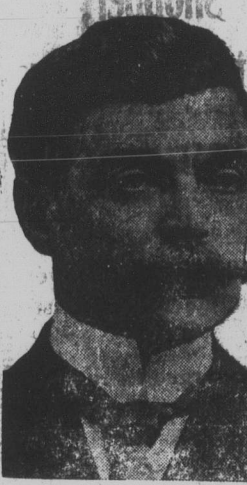

SECRETS OF THE CRAFT.

Side remarks by Distinguished Author while composing the Novel of the Decade:

(a) "For heaven's sake, Mary! Can't you stop that child crying without aing at the top of your voice. How is a man to get anywhere with all that noise going on?"
(b) "Yes, yes, yes, yes, take the paste, take the shears, take the paper, take the ink, take the stamps, take everything, but let me work in peace!"
(c) "Oh, if you say so, I suppose we must pay that fool call, but I do wish you'd remember that every minute taken out of my working day cuts down our income by just so much!"

From the Dedication Page of the completed Novel of the Decade:

TO MY WIFE, MARY,
without whose gentle inspiration, true companionship and constant helpfulness these pages would never have been written, I gratefully inscribe this book

MASTEDON SKELETON FOUND

Tusk Measures Seven Feet in Length, Weighs 175 Pounds

The skeleton of a mastodon was found by Mr. Leaman Hawley on the second concession of Malahide, near Laymer, Ont. A tusk was uncovered which measures seven feet in length by eight inches in circumference, and weighs about 175 pounds. The ribs measure five feet in length, the vertebral joints are as big as a small-sized frying-pan. The upright bones from the vertebrae joints measure from eight inches to sixteen inches in length. One tooth was unearthed which weighs four pounds, and is fourteen inches around. The skeleton was found on the banks of a ravine.

Where Divorce Is Easy

As to divorce, neither Australia nor the United States leads the way, if we admit undivided tribes into the competition. Among some Siberian tribes, for instance, a man need only sever his wife's head and walk away; and the Eskimo has only to leave his house and stop away in pretended anger for a day or two.

In Nepal a woman can divorce her husband at any time by simply placing a betel nut under his pillow and taking her departure. And two chopsticks broken in the presence of a witness are sufficient to divorce a couple in Cochin China.

New Hose Nozzle

A new hose nozzle for washing automobiles has a rubber tip that can be compressed with the fingers to form a spray, while the water can be shut off entirely with a valve controlled by a button resting in the palm of the hand.

For Good Ventilation

A new ventilating device includes an electric fan that will draw air either from or into a room, an advantage in the case of a warm room, which may be cooled by drawing in the fresh air.

WEDDING

HARROLD, Dec. 2.—The prettiest wedding of the season took place on the 2nd inst. in the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Harrold, when Miss Mary Jane Hutchinson became the bride of Mr. Nathan Ward, of Spooner, Minn.

The bride who was given away by her father John C. Hutchinson was becomingly dressed in a travelling suit of navy blue, white and black. Her hat was white with white veiling. The bridegroom was in a suit of navy blue and white. The bride's bridesmaids were in a suit of navy blue and white. The bridesmaids were in a suit of navy blue and white. The bridesmaids were in a suit of navy blue and white.

The guests were met at the door and shown to the seats by the usher Messrs. Hazen, Wylie and Benner Mundie. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with cedar and carnations. The bride and groom were seated under a beautiful arch and bell also arranged of cedar and pink and white carnations. The work of the girls friends of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Rattie, Millerton, owing to the absence of Rev. R. H. Stewart.

Miss Maude L. Atkinson of Derby Junction rendered Lohengrin's wedding march very beautifully on the organ as the bride party entered the church. The choir then sang "The voice that breatheth O'er Eden. After being pronounced Mr. and Mrs. Ward left immediately on the Ocean Limited for the North Shore and after visiting relatives throughout New Brunswick, they will reside in Spooner, Minn., where Mr. Ward is engaged in business.

The bride received many beautiful and costly presents consisting of linen, silver and crochets. The guests present to the bride was a handsome set of furs, to the bridesmaid a crown of hennin and to the groom a fountain pen. Among those who attended the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hutchinson, Mr. Charles Hutchinson, Lower Derby, Miss Bertha Barron, Mr. David Barron, Millerton, Miss Maude L. Atkinson, Derby Jc., and Misses Margaret and Edna McTherson, Moncton.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED AT WORK ON RAILROAD

FREDERICTON, Dec. 3.—A. R. Gould, President of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company, is at the Barker House, having arrived from Presque Isle last evening. He said today that there were 1,500 men now employed on the St. John Valley Railway construction, and he expected work would be started on an extensive scale during the winter.
