THE COST OF GROWING POTATOES

(Experimental Farms Note.) In potato growing provinces like New Brunswick there is always more or less discussion as to what it should cost to grow a good crop of potatoes, and statements vary from as low as $40.00 per acre to as high as $125.00. Naturally there will be much variation in cost according to local nditions and especially to the ability of the land to produce without expensive fertilizing. It should be borne in mind that it will usually cost the potato specialist more to grow his crop than it will the farmer who follows mixed farming and makes his potato ercp merely one of his many activities. With a view to getting actual figures under average conditions in New guest of her nephew, Mr. C. M. Report of Committee Appointed to Confer with Mr. Shipton re Sheep Industry

Mr. Warden and Gentlemen: In response to the precept given us, we have conferred with Mr. Shipton the matter of his suggestion to the council last January that this Govern nent should take measures for checking the steady decrease of live stock in this County, and we think that he is right in supposing that sheep present the most promising opportunity—in view of the more rapid increase of that stock as compared with cattle, of the probability that wool will remain at a high value for a period of years as far as it is worth while to look ahead, and of the fact that so look far as it is worth while to look need, and of the fact that a large proportion of the grazing grounds of this County will always be suitable for sheep rather than the older and heav-ier of horned stock.

We call your attention to the fact per barrel. Seven barrels of culls were sold for $3.50, so that the total profit for the acre amounted to $75.50.

This land was rather wet naturally, and during the very rainy weather of and during the very rainy weather of the control of the fact that Chapter 55, Revised Statutes of Nova Scotia, does not give to any County powers to encourage and assist the agriculture of its ratepayers. When the land for the Experimental Station now located at Morden, Manitoba, was purchased in 1915, it was found to be badly infected with couch grass (also called quack, twitch or quick grass).

In an effort to exterminate this weed, sixty-five acres of that part of the farm which appeared to be the worse infested was treated as follows:

About the first of June it was ploughed four inches deep and well harrowed. The spring tooth cultivator was then used, serving to draw the roots well to the top of the ground. Next a chain harrow was employed. This implement brought all the loose grass to the surface and left it in large rolls all over the field. These rolls were then forked into heaps to dry and were burned about August 1st.

Immediately after this the land was again ploughed and again given the treatment outlined above, and was
