

church below, a corn exchange above—so called from a plot of grass in front, which was paved with stone some six hundred years ago. How strange that the memory of that little plot of grass should be preserved in the name through all these centuries

LAKE AND CITY OF COMO.