CALVES WORTH HAVING.

At Tweed, Ont., on May 30th, 1894, Mr. R. Robinson said, "Mr. Samuel Coulter, to whom I furnished Herbageum, fed it to a Holstein calf until within a day or two of six months old, when it was exhibited at the Tweed Agricultural Show, and in-re turned the scale at a little over 800 pounds." One of our travellers, on June 20th, 1896, mentioned the above to Jas. McBride, Esq., of Kinglake, Ont. He replied, "I can easily believe that report, for I fed Herbageum to two Durham calves, one of them a heifer. When within one day of six months old she weighed 748 lbs., the other was eleven days younger and weighed 730 lbs."

Another sample is from Messrs. McCarron Bros., grocers, of Wallaceburg, Ont., and who also raise thoroughbred cattle. Under date of August 20, 1896, they say, "We fed Herbageum to a Durham calf till it was three months old, when it weighed 476 lbs." And Mr. C. E. Wilkinson, of Essex Centre, Ont., on August 10, 1896, said, "A customer of mine, Mr. Wm. Sisson, fed a calf with skim milk, a little chop and Herbageum, at five months old he sold it for $20."
