Is Your Plant Handicapped for Want of Power?

Mr. Manufacturer, have you ever investigated what electric power will do to increase the quantity and quality of your output?

The features that have made electric power the general driving agent are elasticity, reliability and economy.

It can be obtained in any quantity; it is available 24 hours a day; no more power is used than is necessary for the machines in operation, hence the saving in overtime work.

Why not consult our agents about the best means of making your plant more productive? We have experts who will gladly advise you.
