

Advertisements.

To be published in the Autumn of 1895, or as soon as the first 250 orders have been received.

Fcap. 8vo, boards, price 1/- . Also cloth, gilt lettered, printed on fine paper, price 2/- .

A CONCISE HANDBOOK OF
BRITISH BIRDS,

By H. K. SWANN,

Author of "The Birds of London," "Nature in Acadie," &c.

The want of a cheap, concise and reliable handbook of British Birds has long been apparent, almost all the standard works on the subject being so high-priced as to be beyond the reach of the great majority of bird-lovers or students. It is to supply this want that the present handbook will be published. It will be by far the most useful book on British Birds ever offered to the public at the price. The book will, in fact, prove invaluable as a handy text-book for reference.

Every species of bird occurring in the British Islands will be included; a concise and careful account being given of the distribution and habits of each, together with accurate measurements of the bird and descriptions of its plumage at all ages and seasons, especial care being taken to render the information sufficient for the identification of any species without difficulty by a reference to the handbook. Particular attention will also be paid to the nidification of those species found breeding in the British Islands, the descriptions of their nests and eggs being such as will be of practical service for the purpose of identification.

The book will be sent to press as soon as 250 orders have been received. Those wishing to subscribe are therefore desired to communicate their willingness to the Author, 10, Harrington Street, Regent's Park, London. Remittances should not be sent until the book is received.