

especially in my endeavors to advance His cause and kingdom.

Whatever success may have crowned my imperfect efforts is attributable to God's power and grace. He can use the humblest means in the accomplishment of His purposes, and to Him let all the praise be ascribed.