

Minak Lodge

is satisfied with other varieties may fish from the rocks or boats in the immediate vicinity of the hotel. Minaki is also a convenient centre for the big game hunter, for this territory is the home of the moose, bear and deer.

The Lodge is a separate building situated close to the main building of the Inn and resembles it in design and furnishings. During the midsummer season it is operated as an annex to the Inn but as it is a complete hotel in itself with dining room and kitchen facilities, in addition to its cosy bedrooms, its fire places, lounges and music room it can be operated separately earlier and later in the season than the main building when the full accommodation of the latter is not required.

The numerous bungalows on favoured sites denote Minaki and its environment is rapidly growing in favour as a summer resort for residents of Winnipeg and the prairie provinces.

The boundary line between Ontario and Manitoba is just west of White Station. At Anola the railway line clears the forest and enters upon the prairie passing through a section of the great wheat area of this fertile province. The change to perfectly level country is almost startling. As far as the eye can see there is nothing to obstruct the vision, and villages far distant boom up
