Linens, Cottons, Bedwear at Special January Prices

Your opportunity to restock your linen chest at low cost begins this morning, January 2nd, and will continue until Friday, January 31st. The materials we are offering you in this Sale are marked at less than manufacturers' prices today. There is not likely to be a sudden drop in the value of white goods. On the contrary, our most reliable manufacturers have warned us of an advance. Yet, in the face of this, we have looked over our entire stock and marked every piece for quick selling.
You will remember, of course, that this is our regular stock which we are offering, and every item is up to the Murray-Kay standard. Today's selling:

Boys' Outfitting Department Sale of Boys' Suits, With Extra Bloomers

Just before the reopening of school we present a rare opportunity to get the boy a suit with two pairs of bloomers. The extra bloomers practically double the life of the suit, a point which all mothers will appreciate. We had to take all the short ends the manufacturer had to enable us to make these prices, and the value is so apparent that they will not last long.

Dainty Underwear From the World Over for Your Choosing

We've been planning it a long time, you see, this splendid offering of lingerie. Some of it we had made in our own workrooms—some of it came from far-away France—many other places sent their contributions. But from wherever it came, you'll agree when you see it that the Marvellous Values in Waists

We use the word marvellous ad-visedly—it will be your own exclamation when you see the materials and the styles and note the prices.

Waists at 95c

Very special for today—You'll recognize in this collection waists that you bought enthusiastically at $1.50, because you realized they were value for at least $2.00. Of fine white lawn, with pink, blue or Nile green linen or pique collars and cuffs. Also black lawn with tucked fronts and convertible collars.

Waists at $1.19

Ever so many styles and ever so many materials are grouped for selling at this amazingly low price. Smart styles easily recognized as voile for $2.00 to $2.50. There are corded voiles, plain voiles and cross bag materials. Some have high necks, others have coquetish black ties. One style has quaint little saddle pockets. Collars of pique on some. Excellent values.

Waists at $3.95

These are charming in every particular, but it is to the quality of the voile we must especially draw your attention. It is as fine and even as you would find in blouses at twice this price. The explanation—have you guessed it?—they were made to sell originally for $6.00 to $7.50. Some are pale pink, some white, and a few are pink and white or white and pale blue. Dainty picot-edged ruffles add a happy touch to the various styles of collars—some the new jabot roll, some framing a vestee, some smaller in other effects.
Val lace is used on some models, while fine tucking lends its charm to others. See window display.
