represented by Mrs. A. T. Wood; Treasurer, Mrs. Hoodless; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, Toronto; General Secretary, Miss Teresa Wilson.

A formal address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. S. Lyle, president of the local council. Lady Aberdeen replied.

At the conclusion of her address Lady Aberdeen moved a resolution of sympathy for Lady Edgar, and Mrs. Boomer of London and Mrs. John McDougall of Montreal moved a similar resolution for Mrs. Sanford. Both these were carried on a standing vote.

Aid for Canadian Soldiers. It was moved by Lady Thompson, seconded by Mrs. Edward Griffin, Ottawa, and resolved, that a standing committee of the National Council of Women of Canada be appointed which shall be empowered to offer assistance, on behalf of the women of Canada, to the Dominion Government in making arrangements for the comfort of the Canadian contingent, which is about to proceed to the Transval war, or to offer co-operation on behalf of the council now or in the future, in any way that the Government may deem desirable.

A telegram received from Mrs. Hutton of Ottawa, wife of Major-General Hutton, asking co-operation in the effort to form an association of women to assist in providing for the men who go to the Transvaal, and also to look after the families left behind, met with the approval of the council, and the secretary was instructed to telegraph Mrs. Hutton accordingly.

Cash on Hand.

Mrs. J. Hoodless, national treasurer, presented a report showing that after paying all expenses the Council had $211.55 in the treasury. The receipts of the year were $1021.04, and the expenditure amounted to $8509.49.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the auditor, Miss Kate Sadleir, who was reappointed.

The Evening Gathering. The Evening Gathering.

This evening's meeting of the council was held in the capacious assembly hall of the Normal College, which was filled. Lady Aberdeen was in the chair and stated the object of the meeting, which was to hear from officers and delegates who attended the International Congress at London last June their impressions of the work done there.

There were other ladies on the program to speak, but the lateness of the hour prevented more addresses being given.

Miss Springer Appointed.
The Public Library Board met this afternoon and chose Miss Isabel Springer as attendant, to succeed Mrs. Sutherland, who resigned a few days ago. Miss Springer, who has been an assistant in the Art School office for some years, is a daughter of the late Dr. Springer, registrar of the county. There was a full attendance of the board, and quite a number of names were submitted.

The Great Friedheim. The Great Friedheim.

In his last visit to Montreal, the audience that greeted Friedheim, the great Russian planist, was wildly enfhusiastic, the hall resounding again and again with ringing plaudits and bravos, until Friedheim returned once more and played the sixth rhapsody with as much fire and energy as though his previous performance had been mere child's play. It is natural to expect that lovers of high-class music look forward with interest to this artist's visit to Toronto Nov. 16.

The Irish Leader.

The well-known Irish comedian, Mr. Joseph Murphy, is the acceptable star of next week at the Toronto Opera House. What Joseph Jefferson and "Rip Van Winkie" are to contemporary comedy, Joseph Murphy and his Hibernian dramas, the "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue," are to the tens of thousands of patrons of the theatre, who enjoy the comedies redolent of Oid Ireland, with her humor and her pathos. Joseph Murphy is a trained actor of the old school. To thorough knowledge of the histriconic art he adds a personal magnetism that invests his efforts with an undeniable charm—a mystic force that is part of the man. The enduring merit of his efforts is attested by the number of years the public has demanded him in "Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue." It is in the seçond act of the latter drama that Mr. Murphy, as Larry, lingers by the side of the grave of his mother before taking his departure from the land he loves so well, to sing "A Handful of Earth." The song never fails to The Irish Leader,

G. Brown, Brantford Ont.

Organs Affected-"I was run down in health and had spells of coughing which left me prostrate. My lungs, heart and kidneys were affected. Took Hood's Sarsaparilia upon advice and soon felt better. I continued the treatment and now feel like a new woman." Mrs. Summerville, 217

what He Wants

If offers have been and from whom? Is the British Empire really imperilled and praying for our help to defend it, or are we face to face with an attempt of military federation of the Empire, to Mr. Chamberlain?

These are questions that the Canadian people had a right to put, and have answered clearly before they are driven into a war, the causes and the legitimacy of which I am not going to discuss now. It is sufficient for me to say at the present moment that this war is not the act of the British people; that it has been condemned beforehand by several of the most distinguished statesmen of the United Kingdom; that it has no bearing whatever upon the interests proper to Canada or upon those interests which are common to both Great Britain and Canada, that, according to the loudest Imperialists, it threatens in no way the security of the Empire. It is stated that the order-in-Council providing for the enlistment and the sending of our troops makes a special reserve as to future action, and prevents the present one to be considered as a precedent. The precedent, sir, is the accomplished fact.

The principle at stake is the axiom, "par excellence" of British Liberalism. It is the very basis of Parliamentary institutions, no taxation without representation, and the sacrifice of human blood is the heaviest of all public contributions. The question is to decide whether Canada is ready to give up her prerogatives as a constitutional colony, the freedom of her Parliament, the compact entered into with the Mother Land after seventy-five years of struggles, in order to go back to the primary state of Crown colony.

Government on the advisability of those bloody contests.

I shall never consent to uphold such a retrogressive policy. A British citizens, proud of his rights and jealous of his liberty, loyal to England and to her noble sovereign, I am ready to spare neither my life nor my property, my words nor my deeds, for the defence of the British flags throughout the length and breadth of this Canadian land of ours. But loyal to Canada first, last and forever, I pledged myself to my constituents to work for the progress of my country without deparsing from the fundamental spirit of its constitution. In order to fulfil my promise, I have given my support to your Government as long as you have remained within the limits laid down to you by the Canadian people. I have approved and still approve of your Administrative policy, but I look upon this last action as the initial step of a new constitutional policy which the majority of your supporters have always denounced, and upon which you have never consulted either Parliament or the electorate. Such are the principles that I would have est down the opinions that I would have repressed to the House of Commons.

Deprived of this right, one means only is left to me of asserting and justifying my position. I resort to it reluctantly on account of the personal admiration I entertain for you and of my devotion to the other political principles by which you have always been guided and in the defence of which I intend to persist; but my conviction is so deep as to allow of no further hesitation on my part. I, therefore, resign to-day my seat in Parliament, and will again offer myself to the judgment of the electors of the riding of Labelle. I will place the question loyally before them, and, trusting the result of the test, I shall wait for their answer before again taking my seat in the House of Commons.

I have the honor to Papinta, who will come to Shea's Theatre next week, is the originator of the first dance, and so far outclasses her imitators that there is no comparison. Papinta's work has been described as the "Most are itstically beautiful spectacular act ever prepared in vandeville. A vision of faise, a spiritualized lepidoptera, a whiriwind of sunsets, a creature of cloud and ether foot ing in darkness and emerging like some bicseom from its calxy in a myriad of dazzling petals." F. W. Watkins Assigns.

F. W. Watkins' big departmental store is closed to-day, and a notice on the door states that stock-taking is going on. Mr. Watkins has made an assignment to C. Armstrong of London. A meeting of creditors, who are Toronto, Montreal, Glasgow and London (Eng.) firms, will be held next week here.

To many business men, this action of Mr. Watkins was not unexpected, as some time ago he made a move which was considered nercantile suicide, closing on Saturday from sunrise to sunset. Mr. Watkins was moved by religious convictions to close his store, but experienced business men looked upon it as a fatal move, as the store had a large farmers' trade.
