"Pigeons!" repeated Judith.

Tripp nodded.

"Funny, isn't it," he went on his "funny, isn't it," he went on his "that a man like Bayne Trev hard as nails and as free of sement as a mule, should fancy hoosing, innocent-like pigeons? The property of the pigeons, in the morning."

But Judith was not to be distrately tripp's talk. She smiled at however, to show him that she inderstood and appreciated the pose back of his light words.

"We're all going to heave a man and the light words."

We're all going to have our had for a spell, Doc," was what d. "To Trevors, with a free a ree, it must have appeared rath appeared rath appeared to make so complete t

"Yes," he answered. "You're interes, Judith. There's nothing making sure."

"He's not thru with us," continue he girl thoughtfully; "you could re that in the look of his jaw and even he left. Just what he stand of make on his play, I don't know that he western Lunger crowd is offering us only a quart of what they'd be willing to pay hey had to. That means that the bould afford to bribe Bayne Treveretty heavily and still save half tillion on the deal if he succeeded the their he has begun."

"In his way," admitted Trip, toughtfully, "Trevors is a big man cost big money. And, beside looks to me as the he were heavy stockholder in the Wester umber. He'd stand to win tways."

"Another thing I want you to do." idith went on, "is to try to locate all dad's old men whom Trevors let go than Hodge and Kelley and Harpe and Tod Bruce. We'll need them be've got to have men that crocked oney can't buy,"
"Aren't you magnifying things, Judh?" asked Tripp quietly. "There's ich a thing as law in this country, bu know."

But she shook her head.
"Maybe I am seeing the dangers too
g. But I don't think so. And it will a a lot better for Blue Lake ranch
I see them that way at the beginng. And as for the law, it consoney. I'm not sure that Trevers or

ROSELAND RATEPAYERS HOLD FINE FIELD DAY

There were 1,500 present at Roseland ratepayers' field day, held yesterday afternoon and evening in Dennis' field. Sporting events for children of all ages, as well as contests for those from 16 to 60, filled out a program of 26 items. The day, which was originally intended by the association as a treat for the children, turned out to be of even more pleasure to the older ones. At least half the events were open to those living outside of the district. The annual field day in Roselands was started during the ANDREWS-On Thursday, July 1, 1920.

TO ELECT TRUSTEES.

Dominion Day was spent quietly by Earlscourt folk, many of them taking advantage of the fine weather by working in their gardens. At the Oakwood Lawn Bowling Club members were out bright and early and some good play put in. In the evening eight rinks were made up and some spirited playing was the resulf, the lawn being in splendid condition. In the new Earlscourt Park hundreds of residents and their families were seen enjoying themselves and several picnics took place here from churches and organizations. The movies were well patronized during the evening, the Oakwood, Allen's St. Clair, Royal George, Allen's Christie all having capacity houses.

The drinking trough for horses near St. Clair on South Dufferin street is the cause of many accidents, owing to the congested condtion, of this street, which is found to be too narrow since the new stores have been erected here, bringing a large influx of shopping people to a hitherto quiet neighborhood. The vehicles when using the trough block the street and cause delay. Complaints are being made daily and it is suggested that the board of works take the matter up and have the trough removed to a more convenient place. Three to four hundred horses drink at this trough daily thru the summer months, there being nothing nearer than West Lansdowne avenue.
