The Man In The Street

Some rain last night—and then some.

The street cleaning department must have a splendid pull with the weather department.

Every time the streets have reached the limit of dirtiness lately a downpour of rain has done the work and saved the reputation of the moneyless department.

Halifax can accommodate five to seven thousand troops, but Halifax officials have grave doubts that St. John can find room for more than one thousand. Why?

In Toronto the exhibition cattle sheds have been fitted up for the soldiers and we have a lot of good accommodation in St. John before we have to rely on that style of housing.

They say Kitchener is going to see the King of Greece. Why not get right down to business and see the real ruling power; the queen is still there.

Sweden's German queen is the latest to claim the line-right as an enemy of the Allies. The aspect of queen seems to have been one of Germany's most important industries in auto-bellum days.

"Germans thinking out on eastern lines" says a newspaper. Just reflect upon how long a certain dissonant creaking has been in reaching St. John.

Did you notice that cold shiver which ran up the spinal column of the Empire when the Kaiser delivered his message to Great Britain.

The note-writing habit must be contagious.

To appreciate fully how this is an age for rapid transit, just reflect upon how long a certain dissonant creaking has been in reaching St. John.

And in these days of rapid railway construction the progress on the Valley railway might also furnish food for thought.

St. John is still waiting for that new I.C.R. elevator too. The port faces the busiest winter in its history with no provision for handling grain over the government railway.

Isn't It On the Level?

The Standard built with great glories the achievement of Hon. Mr. Hazen in securing a contract for a local factory. Does the paper mean to imply that he has used his influence to bring to St. John a contract to which the company was not entitled? Either the company was entitled to the contract on the merits of its proposition or Mr. Hazen is accused by the Standard of something improper. How about it?

Instead of playing "See the Conquering Heroes Come" on the party organ when an odd contract is awarded to this city there should be uttered every plant in St. John is not working at full time on war orders. If the work can be done as well and as cheaply here elsewhere.

Most Inconscient of Him

A popular eloquent had taken suddenly ill. He had been greatly in demand about the city at various concerts, socials and similar features where his ability made him always a welcome figure. The day after he took quite seriously ill, the phone in the office where he had been employed, rang, and a lady's voice asked:

"Is Mr. Hazen there?"

"No," replied his associate, "Mr. Hazen is very ill. His case is critical."

"Dear, oh, dear," replied the lady, who said she belonged to a certain local society. "What shall I do? He promised me last week positively that he'd give a reading at our concert this evening," and in recognition of the young man's kindness in having promised to help her, she rang off without even enquiring as to how he was, or expressing a regret for his sickness.

"At the meeting at which Sir George E. Foster spoke in the Imperial Theatre this week, a prominent citizen, desirous of meeting Colonel Hay of the 22nd, coming up to an officer inquired:

"Young man, where is the colonel; I should like to meet him."

"I am the colonel, sir," was the polite response.

The mistake was a tribute to the gallant soldier's appearance of youth and vigor. The situation was well accepted by both civilian and officer and a pleasant chat followed.

NOVEMBER RASPBERRIES

Ripe raspberries from the garden of Mrs. Sarah Senior, Manawagomish road, were brought to the Times this morning. They were fully ripe and the bushes bear others partly ripe. Indeed ripe berries have been picked at intervals throughout the fall season. It is most unusual to find ripe berries out of doors on the 20th day of November.

FINE NEW HALL OF THORNE LODGE I.O.G.T., DEDICATED LAST NIGHT

Large Gathering at Interesting Ceremony—Many From the Order Are in the War

A large number were in attendance at the dedication services held by Thorne Lodge, I. O. G. T., in their new hall in Thorne avenue, last evening. Congratulations were extended to the lodge by those present, on the progress shown in the building and on the pleasant quarters they will have when completed. The beautiful dedicatory service of the order was conducted by E. N. Stockford, G.C.T., assisted by R. B. Campbell, G.V., and J. Vernon Jackson, of Moncton, G. Chaplain.

After the service and a solo by John McEachern, Michael Kelly addressed the meeting, calling attention to the work carried on in the city by the lodge. He made special reference to the political aspect of the reform for which they stand, and made an appeal for the election of representatives to the legislature who will have a sense of the importance of restrictive legislation.

John Beaulieu, a veteran Templar, gave an interesting resume of the history of the order in the province, calling attention to its usefulness in the past and its possibilities for the future.

Henry McEachern, G. T. of Thorne Lodge expressed the hearty thanks of the lodge to those who had been giving of their time and money to the building of the hall. He spoke of the sacrifice made by many members and what a home of their own meant to the lodge.

G. A. McKel, G. T. of St. John District Lodge, conveyed the congratulations of the district lodge. He pointed out the progress being made throughout St. John district and the enthusiasm being generally shown in work of temperance.

Vernon Jackson, national secretary of Moncton, said that this occasion was the second at which he had the privilege of assisting in conducting services of dedication, as it was also the G. C. T's. Such times marked the material progress of the order. While at times the movement onward might appear slow, advance was sure and steady. The order would suffer greatly by the present war, for every country, almost, concerned in the war had well established and members of the order were in almost every fighting line. From this country thousands had already been on the casualty lists. The provincial work was going on very satisfactorily. Lodges and temples were being instituted and added to the strength and the membership was becoming more energetic in the work called for.

C. T. Hunter, D. G. of Empire Lodge, Fort William, now with the 52nd Battalion, conveyed the greetings of his fellow members present and of his home lodge. His lodge had about fifty members who had followed him in his active work now, was somewhat depleted. He spoke of the effort being made in Port William to procure local oil and hoped to hear in January next that this time the temperance people would be successful in securing it.

Private Hunter and other members of the order present were given a very hearty reception. Miss B. Campbell sang a sacred solo excellently. The meeting was closed by the National Anthem. Mr. Stockford presided at the meeting.

OVERDUE SCHOONER FROM NOVA SCOTIA HEARD FROM

Capt. William Duple of the steam trawler Spray, which arrived at Boston on Wednesday from the fishing grounds of the coast of the United States, reported that the overdue British schooner, Millie Louise, Capt. Bordeaux, bound from Pictou, N.S., for Boston, was last seen on the coast of Nova Scotia.

The Millie Louise was badly battered by gales when the fishing steamer fell in with her on Friday of last week on Georges Bank.

Her forecastle was torn to tatters and fresh water casks swept away. Capt. Bordeaux reported that he had been blown off his course, and was ignorant of his correct position. He was given his latitude and longitude by Capt. Doyle, who also put a barrel of fresh water on board the schooner.

The Millie Louise left Pictou on Nov. 4 with a cargo of American fertilizer, which was originally shipped from Boston to Nova Scotia, but was rejected by the consignee. It is said, and is being returned to the shippers.

THAT WELDON HOLLOW BRIDGE

The Times some time ago printed the statement of Edgar M. Day that he had been offered $20 and later $60 for a bridge in Weldon Hollow, near Day's Corner, for this and other reasons. Mr. Saunders, the road commissioner, has written a letter to the Standard declaring that the contract for a bridge 18 feet wide and that Mr. Day only built it 14 feet wide. Mr. Day flatly denies this and adds that he was there many times when the bridge was being built and passed it, and never found any fault until long after the work was completed. Mr. Day adds that he has witnesses to prove the truth of what he says.
