

GLORIA SWANSON AT THE IMPERIAL

"Her Husband's Trademark"
a Very Fine Paramount
Picture, Gorgeousness and Excitement.

Audiences at the Imperial theatre learn today with satisfaction just what constitutes "Her Husband's Trademark." Gloria Swanson's latest Paramount vehicle, which is the feature at that theatre today.

In this case, the husband's trademark is a gorgeously dressed wife. The husband is not wealthy, but hopes to attain wealth by making a show of wealth. The plot thickens when a friend of husband and wife, returns after gaining both wealth and greatness, falls in love with the wife, and the husband, to promote his selfish financial aims, encourages the romance. The outgrowth of this situation is a powerful climax showing the disillusionment and after a thrilling encounter with bandits in old Mexico, the scene of the friend's old lands, the death of the cowardly husband and the triumph of righteous love.

Stuart Holmes plays the husband with all his old-time finesse, as a suave villain, Richard Wayne portrays the friend and the other roles are in the hands of Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Burton, and Charles Ogle. Gloria Swanson is undeniably a star who has made of each of her pictures a stepping stone to greater triumphs. "The Great Moment," appropriately enough, was ideally titled to fit the occasion of Miss Swanson's becoming a star in her own right. Then followed "Under the Lash," a gripping drama of the broad rolling veldt of South Africa. And now, a colorful, dramatic screen play of New York and Mexico, bearing both the trademark of success in its genuine merit and the trademark of an unscrupulous husband in its story and its title. Not for quite some little time has so compelling and unusual a title been offered to the screen world and this, coupled with the popularity and personality of the star and the distinct forcefulness of the story makes the picture itself one to be offered to the public with both pride and confidence. The Imperial enjoyed liberal patronage yesterday although it was very lovely out of doors. The Pathe News and Topics of the Day preceded the feature.

DUAL ATTRACTION AT OPERA HOUSE

"Way Down East," Filmed
by Griffiths, and "Mordella, the Mystery Girl" on Last Night's Bill.

Probably the best combination bill yet offered by the Opera House is the programme now playing, according to some who witnessed it last night. "Way Down East" made into a film story by the masterful D. W. Griffith, shown as the first part of a bill, is one of the film sensations of the year. The story is well known and needs no introduction, other than that it is one of those stage successes that producers were in the habit of re-building each season. The cast is an elaborate one and includes the Gish girls, Richard Barthelmess, Allen Hale, Lowell Sherman, Burr Macintosh, Kate Bruce, George Neville, Mary Hay, Creighton Hale and Emily Fitzroy. The big ice scene, which is reputed to have taken ten weeks to complete, although it covers barely ten minutes on the screen, and which, it is said, cost Griffith $200,000, is one of the most thrilling climaxes ever injected into a picture. The second part of the bill consisted is usually the result of sluggish, torpid action of the liver and bowels, and disappears when Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are used. One pill a dose. 25c a box, all dealers.

Indigestion

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver K & L Pills

When the game goes longer than you expected; or you get bumped unusually hard; or you get a nifty cut or bruise; get out your bottle of and bathe the sore or swollen places. "ABSORBINE JR." will take away the soreness and tiredness out of aching, strained muscles—break the cuts—reduce inflammation—and prevent "next-day" stiffness. "ABSORBINE JR." is highly recommended by famous Athletes, Sportsmen, Physical Directors and Trainers.

Absorbine Jr.

$1.25 a bottle — at most drug stores or sent postpaid by W. F. YOUNG, Inc., Lyman Building, Montreal.

For sale by J. BENSON MAHONEY, A. CHAPMAN SMITH CO., E. CLINTON BROWN, W. J. McILLAN, MOORES DRUG STORE, F. W. MUNRO, WASSONS LIMITED, C. W. WALKER, ROSS DRUG CO., GEO. K. BELL.

FECHAM'S PILLS

Sweeten the Stomach

Why Be Skinny?

No matter how thin you may be—you should try Ironized Yeast which thousands of thin folks have taken with startling results, many gaining 5 pounds on the very first package!

The reason Ironized Yeast brings such amazing results is because it embodies the new scientific process of ironization—which enables yeast to build flesh just twice as quickly. Why be content with a stringy under-developed figure when it is so easy to build new firm flesh? Get Ironized Yeast from your dealer today.

FREE TRIAL! Ironized Yeast is simply sent postcard for 3 days' test. Address: Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., 100, St. John St., Toronto.

IRONIZED YEAST Tablets

THE ONLY YEAST THAT IS GENUINELY IRONIZED

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

Good-bye, sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelly feet, tired feet.

Good-bye, corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off.

"TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel. A few cents buy a box of "TIZ" now at any drug or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

of "Mordella, the Australian mystery girl; she sees and knows and tells all." Mordella last night read the names and addresses on cards, that were held in the hands of people in the audience while she was on the stage. She described articles of wearing apparel, the time on watches and the number of buttons on a man's vest. Her crystal gazing caused no little wonder and surprise, as she delved into the future and cautioned some against possible future happenings and encouraged others to take the step they were contemplating, gave advice on love affairs, offered suggestions where families were drifting apart might be brought together again, and in all, probably gave more good advice than was liable to be accepted.

Mordella will remain at the Opera House all week, but "Way Down East" only four days. There are only two performances daily, one at 2:15 and one at 7:45. The programme is opened with a two-act comedy, then the psychic act and finishes with "Way Down East," the reason for this arrangement being that those who come late may still see all of "Way Down East."

Dazzling Beauty

By Carmel Meyers

"This is the best season of the year to lay the foundation for a beautiful complexion," says that wonderful actress and well known beauty, Carmel Meyers. Don't wash your face, use Liska Cold Cream instead. It cleanses more thoroughly and at the same time beautifies and softens the skin. Then before going out use that ever popular beautifier DER-WILLO (it comes in 8 shades, Flesh, White and Brunette), and you instantly have a complexion of peach-like baby softness which will make anyone appear many years younger. Try DER-WILLO and Liska Cold Cream today. At toilet counters of Department Stores and Druggists everywhere. Ask for your money back if you are not pleased.

FREDERICKTON PERSONALS.

(Frederickton Gleaner) Mrs. Arthur Langway and her son, Clifford, of Quebec, have arrived in the city to attend the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Charters. Frank Charters, of Cranbrook, B. C., arrived in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gordon Green left St. John yesterday for Santa Maria, Cal., and the best wishes of many friends throughout New Brunswick follow them to their new home. Mrs. Green was

TINT AWAY GRAY OR FADED HAIR

The Safe, Harmless Method By Which Thousands of Women Keep Looking Young.

TRIAL PACKAGE SENT FREE. There are many hair "dyes" and so-called "restorers," but there is only one "Brownstone" Hair Tint—safe, harmless, instant in results, easy to apply and preferred by every woman who has tried it.

ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS. "Brownstone" is not only odorless and greaseless, but is positively non-injurious. It absolutely guarantees to contain no lead, sulphur, silver, mercury, zinc, arsenic, or any other toxic substance. Used for wigs as well as growing hair. Brownstone is sold and recommended in St. John by Watsons Stores and other leading dealers. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.50.

Special Free Trial Offer. Send 10c. in stamps for this coupon for Free trial package and helpful booklet on the care of the hair.

Mail This Coupon Now. The Kenton-Pharmaceutical Co., 800 Bloor St. W., Toronto, Ont. Enclosed find 10c. (to cover postage and packing) for trial package of Brownstone.

..... Light to Medium Brown or ..... Dark Brown or Black. Mark with X shade wanted and mail with full name and address.

formerly Miss Anna Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson of this city.

Samuel Lawson, a former resident of Sanbury county, who has made his home in Winnipeg for some years, is making his first visit home in many years and is receiving a warm welcome. He is the guest of his brother, J. E. Lawson, South Devon.

Miss Isabelle Lewis, of the comptroller general's department, was given a bride and variety shower last evening by her friends. The bride-to-be received many gifts, including silver, cut glass, linen, etc.

MISSIONS AT DEVON.

A mission was opened in St. Anthony's church, Devon, on Saturday by Father Arthur of the Franciscan Order.

PITABLE WRECK SAVED FROM EARLY GRAVE

"I couldn't sleep, my nerves were all unstrung, I was steadily losing weight."

"My husband is a mechanic and earns good wages," writes one woman. "We have six children between the ages of seven and fifteen. Both my husband and myself have done ourselves actual necessities out of use that ever popular beautifier DER-WILLO, (it comes in 8 shades, Flesh, White and Brunette), and you instantly have a complexion of peach-like baby softness which will make anyone appear many years younger. Try DER-WILLO and Liska Cold Cream today. At toilet counters of Department Stores and Druggists everywhere. Ask for your money back if you are not pleased."

I was so weak that I was ready to catch anything that was going. I tried several preparations but none of them did me any good. One day my husband came in and said, "I see a preparation in a drug store called Carnol. No extraordinary claims are made for it and I have an idea it might do you good. Why don't you get a bottle? They say if it doesn't do you any good they will refund your money." I believe that advice of my husband saved my life because seven weeks after I started taking Carnol I was doing more work than I had ever done before and was feeling stronger than I ever felt in my life." Mrs. T. 6-129

For sale by J. BENSON MAHONEY, A. CHAPMAN SMITH CO., E. CLINTON BROWN, W. J. McILLAN, MOORES DRUG STORE, F. W. MUNRO, WASSONS LIMITED, C. W. WALKER, ROSS DRUG CO., GEO. K. BELL.

FECHAM'S PILLS

Sweeten the Stomach

Constipation Is Relieved

Prompt—Permanent—Relief CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

Relieve after dinner distress—relieve indigestion—improve the complexion—brighten the eyes.

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT QUEEN SQUARE

Greenwich Village Review Wins Instant Favor and Real Applause in Their Opening Bill.

Last night at the Queen square theatre there was a capacity house to welcome the Greenwich Village Review Company. It was the first appearance here of the company, and judging by the steady hearty laughter and enthusiastic applause, they have made themselves solid in St. John. The comedy is clean, the singing out of the ordinary, and the dancing up-to-the-minute. Special scenery, beautiful costumes, spectacular numbers and scenic effects make this organization one of the best that has played in that theatre. George Rubin, the principal comedian, comes to this town a stranger, but judging by the laughter he created he has ceased to be a stranger after the opening. He is ably assisted by Buckle Carlton and they are fast workers. Arthur Brooks, the juvenile and dancer, showed plenty of "pep." Tommy Anderson, the manager, comes in for his share, too. He has a voice and dances well and works all through. Harry Hollis, the straight man, also does a "book" character that is good. Alice Melvin, the leading lady, won the audience by her voice, looks and personality. Lily Rubin, the dainty soprano, showed up well and got over nicely. Kitty Guilmette, the prima donna, has a beautiful mezzo soprano voice that evidently was appreciated. All in all, this organization measured up to the highest expectation of the patrons. Special credit should be given also to the chorus. This company just came from a seven-week engagement in Halifax.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then resident in Canada, who went overseas at the outbreak of the world war and served his native country for two years as a private in the ranks. He was then assigned to serve as chaplain in the French army in Morocco, where he was located for the ensuing five years, returning to Canada last fall.

At Montreal, Father Arthur was one of a number of French priests then