20 NELSON STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B., General Patent Medicine Agency For the Maritime Provinces. BFLINT'S THE ACCUSED'S STATEMENT.

Orms and I were playing pool; he had Roden to keep the game and had some talk with Roden some time previous. I saw Roden swindling me. Whatever I "burst" "put up;" but Orms don't. I said to Roden, "If you keep game, keep it right and put the balls down when either of us 'burst, and stop handling the pot money." He said, "if you don't like the way I keep game, keep it right and put the balls down when either of us 'burst, and stop handling the pot money." He said, "if you don't like or growing about?" Then he struck me again on the way I keep game, keep it yourself." Orne said, "What in the hell are you growling about?" Then he struck me with a billiand cue. I threw up my hands and received the blow on the sirm and grappled me; he beat me with a billiand cue. and your reporter keeping tally of Dona-hue's life current as it ebbed against the of William Orme :-On the evening of the 11th of July last William Orme and M. J. Donahue were playing pool at Tehama, in Heider's minutes a slight tremor passed over the whole body; the chest heaved once. The pulse at 1.02 marked now the remarkable saloon, when an altercation sprang up;

most retill this morning.

Donahue is a young man of twentyeight, and a native of Ireland. He is five feet seven inches. He has light blue eyes, light hair, thin features, thin chin whiskers, moustache and fine forehead.
He is a man of much intelligence and shrewdness. He has been much given to drinking and sprees. The defence set up was insanity.

Last night the shadow of death began and asked whence this extra expense in the way of the funeral, when he was informed that B. C. McKeon, Geo. Worthing, M. Kennedy, M. Ward, Father Coleman, H. Mooney and some half dozen others had contributed the money, and determined this friendless wretch should have a decent burial. They followed him to the cemetery, Father Coleman pronounced a prayer, and so ended the last act in the drama of the law's swift vengeance. up was insanity.

Last night the shadow of death began

This morning at nine he ate a light breakfast. At nine o'clock the priest visited Donohue and administered the rites of the church. At half past twelve our reporter had an interview with the priest. porter had an interview with the prison-er. He made the following statement;—

COATINGS, TROUSER NGS, years. I never harmed a man until Orme "crushed in on me." If I had friends I'd TO THE SCAFFOLD. Deputy Sheriff—"Come, Donahue, time is up." Donahue—"All right. I am ready." Donahue walked out of his cell in his attaching foot and abits alconomic in his stocking feet and shirt sleeves, went to each prisoner and bid them goodbye. To two he said, "God bless you; Nursery Rhymes--No. 24. may you never come to what I have. See what liquor has done for me."

The Sheriff went ahead; next came A STORY OF DOOM! (almost. The coffin-maker bent low at his work, And, coughing, cast his eyes upon his bench,
a spasm came, which gave his frame a jerk,
And shook his head about with fearful wrench:
The blood skipped from his ears and sought the

The Sheriff went ahead; next came Donahue; your reporter then, the priest and Deputy Sheriff. As we came into st the blaze of the sun of a most glorious Spring day, warm, balmy and beautiful Donahue stopped and looked upward and all around, then, seeing the crowd outside the fence of the jaft yard, he lifted his hat, bowed, waived it and cried out in a loud voice, "Goodby, boys!" The procession went down the south walk of the yard, and as we turned into the east walk another crowd was seen on that side. He repeated the salute to it.
It was a dull and dismal afternoon,
The ice had melted in the Skating Rink,
And lovers sighed to walk beneath the moon.
And topers paused at Bars to get a drink;
The coffin maker hummed an air, then stood,
And drove a nail deep in the coffin wood.
