

BLOOD AND THUNDER

Review gives me great pain

Dear Editor,
You have done us great injury in your article on Caribbean Nite 1993 in the March 26 issue with your casual comment "Dinner-better than you would expect from a mass produced meal."

Being on the Food Committee it gives me great pain to think that all the work that the Secretary, Maureen Richie, did in coordinating and lining up all 17 cooks and all the other helpers from the student body, spouses and children of students and local residents should be for the purpose of mass production of the food; which suggest [sic] that the individual cooking ability, pride and dexterity was put aside in order to meet the demand of the occasion. You fail to take into account all the diligent and hard work that went into the provision of the food. The checking of prices for the best deal, the procurement of the food by various people, the removal of fat from the chicken, the desperate rush to get the required spices from Toronto, the late night spent in parceling and delivering the ingredient [sic] to the various people, the preparation of the food for cooking on Saturday, the cooking of the food, the transportation of food from the various location, the setting up and the distribution of food - all of this so we can bring you a plate of hot mass produced food and in a timely fashion?? I beg to differ.

Keath Yhap

PS - The reason why there was no J. Wray and Nephew Appleton Rum

in the fruit punch is that Caribbean Nite and all other culture nites put on by other various ethnic groups are family events and we really don't want our children under the influence during and after the event. You may have noticed that there were a large number of children, in fact there was a group of 30+ and the servers of the fruit punch were intentionally young teen-agers as we believe in our youths.

A thanks to Maggie Jean residence

Dear Editor

I want to take this opportunity at the end of the year to publicly acknowledge the contribution that Maggie Jean Chestnut residence has made to the university and to the community.

The Maggie residents took part in the Curl-a-thon to raise money for the Boys and Girls Club and were the top UNB residence. At Christmas, the Maggie gang took care of a family and provided an entire Christmas for them; gifts, extra clothing, and a complete Christmas dinner. Some of our inhabitants participated in the "12 Homeless Hours" on behalf of homeless teenagers, and others took part in the 30-hour famine for World Vision Canada. These are just the visible community projects and there are many "quiet" contributions that are made by individuals.

Much of the spirit of the house and its accomplishments are due to the leadership of a fine house committee - Peter Snowdon, Jennifer McIntosh, Frank Delph, Sue Richard, and Rod Jeddore, and the proctor, John Branch. I feel very fortunate to have lived with everyone at Maggie Jean this year. Thank you for enriching my life and that of the residence and university community as a whole.

Moira McLaughlin
Don, Maggie Jean

I'll get a plate of fries

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank the student union for the $2 rebate. It will make such a difference in my life. Never mind the fact that this campus needs a daycare service, an improved health care plan. Maybe I will use the $2 to help say for my tuition costs for next year. I could also use donate the $2 towards my favorite student group on campus, or towards a sub expansion fund. The possibilities are limitless.

Thanks again for the $2, maybe I will just get a plate of fries.

Signed a rich student

A thank you for support

Dear Editor,

To: The Student Body

I would like to thank all those who gave me their support during the recent Spring election 93, especially to my fellow graduate students at the Faculty of Computer Science for cheering me on and keeping a positive attitude to the last minute.

I would also like to congratulate James Van Raalte and Andrew Van Wart as well as the rest of the executive elected in their victory. I wish van Raalte and van Wart the very best in their new responsibilities and look forward to seeing them play a proactive role in the Board of Governors, considering the importance of such a body for the well being of our Institution and our student community.

Sincerely,
Jaime Marquez-Velandia

NEWS FLASH!!

Once again the real media triumphs over the wannabe journalists. The other evening the Brunswickan Bowling Barbarians trounced the meek staff of the ERTW. Comments made by the defeated staff of the ERTW included:

I knew I should have been a Brunisie.

-Troy Morehouse

Why didn't I join Arts?

- Larry Fitzgerald

Another strike! Man, can they ever play!

- Some nobody.

Remember, whatever they say in their paper, they lost big-time!!

Attention all Bruns Staff

Since this is the last issue of the Brunswickan, there will be no staff meeting on Friday.

However, keep in mind that all Bruns staff are invited to the Bruns party on Saturday. For further details phone the office or ask someone who knows.

Shades of Light

GET A MARCH BREAK!
Passion Clothing 30%
Selected Jewellery 50%

Worried About Mid Terms?

Soothe yourself into spring with our New Line of STONES.
Wide Selection To Choose From.

The Oldest Craft Shop in New Brunswick

Open: Mon - Thur 9-6, Fri 9-9, Sat 9-5 288 Regent St.

Students Save 20%

On 1 hour PhotoFinishing

Please present I.D. at time of film drop-off.
Not valid with any other specials,
offers or discounts

Japan Camera

We've got to be good. It's your life we're developing.

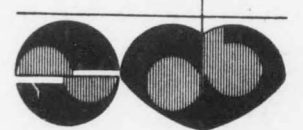

458-9009

REGENT MALL

Mon-Sat 10-10

STRUGGLING with the 'what ifs'
of religious life???

COME!

WORK with the poor.

EXPERIENCE our prayer and community lifestyle.

CLARIFY, REFLECT, and DECIDE!

Sacred Heart Discernment Week

May 5-11, Caledonia, Ontario

OR

August 2-8, Toronto, Ontario

Respond by April 23, 1993 to:

Jim Keenan, SCJ

419 Parkside Drive

Toronto, M6R 2Z7