Tigers Lead Hoop Loop As Squad Swamps Shearwater 62-35 GRID LOSS TO NAVY SINKS DAL

Damn it-the Navy has done it again. For the second consecutive year the Draught Beer boys from Stadacona have come between Dalhousie Tigers and the city football championship. Last year it was Dal vs. Navy in the finals. Navy scuttled the Cats. Saturday it was again Dal-Navy-this time with the Tigers fighting to stay alive and get a playoff berth. An 18-0 loss and a grim afternoon was all the Bengals had to show for it.

After watching the game in Truro when Dal trimmed Stad 20-6 few of those spectators could have foreseen the powerful ground attack that the Tars opened up from the kick-off Saturday. In Truro the whole Bengal squad couldn't do anything wrong. Saturday it was just the opposite. Two defensive lapses, both on pass defense cost the Tigers a brace of TD's. But even before that Navy built an 8-0 lead, and it was apparent that if the Studley offensive didn't uncoil in the third quarter the game was a goner.

For three glorious passes in the final minute of the first half all was "Jake." But in the next half the old routine returned. The vaunted Dal offensive was gummed up-but good. It wasn't a case of playing against a mediocre team and not getting the breaks. The Navy was a good team Saturday-and the breaks still didn't materialize.

Navy's blocking, particularly by Larson and Agnew was effective Ed McLeod, Carroll and Ed McSweeney played good football. Navy's line played their best football of the year. That's how it was.

On the exchange of body blows Dalhousie fared much betted than their opponents. Defensively the Tigers hit like sledgehammers. Except for the odd leak through the line and around the ends plus the lapses aforementioned the Navy ground gaining was done in small bounds.

The Dal tackling was so hard that three of Navy's top men were carried off in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Carrol suffered a broken ankle on a runback, Ed McSweeney was knocked out cold on a plunge. After the game was over Navy coach Hindle talking to Gabe Vitalone said that his boys had never been hit so hard before. But you know who won the game. The loss was also unfortunate because of the effect it might have on the Homecoming program. However, the best thing to do now is take the Wanderers in our last league game Friday and then begin planning for next year.

For better or for worse Dal is going into Inter-Collegiate hockey this season.. This corner extends its sympathies to those players who will be carrying the colours this year, not becaue of the possible lack of players, but because they will have the same superior competition, the same mess with practise facilities and games, the same everything. Some people say that the entering of a team in Intercollegiate hockey this year will be Rink Insurance. If that's the case well and good. November of NEXT year will tell the tale. And don't forget, as you bear with the players with their difficulties support them in their endeavours. It takes guts to step onto the ice against powerful teams like St. F.X. and Acadia without having the competition and the facilities that they have. . Dal hockey squads in the last two years have tried to make up those deficiencies with spirit. A little of that same spirit in Dal fans wouldn't go amiss.

Bengals MaulAirmen Capture League Lead

On Saturday night before a crowd of about 200 the Dal. Tigers past Collins. sunk the Shearwater basketball team by a 62 to 35 score. What started Acadia, behind two goals, began out as a rout for Dal in the opening minutes of play turned into a hard to solve Dal's tricky passing p fought battle. It was only in the last few minutes of action that the Gonzales, playing forward for Black and Gold opened a large gap. At half time the Cats lead 27-15. The first half opened with both teams employing a fast break. Jim Mahon of Dal, on a one hander from side court put the Tigers in front. A basket and a foul put the Navy men in the lead. In Practice Game

In a practice game played yessenior and intermediate players, and more than held their own in the abbreviated contest. Due to early classes the game lasted only 25 minutes.

Sparked by Kezel, the Engineers drove to an early lead as Young went over on a pass from Trainor. The Bengals came back strong as Delory and Laphen teamed up on several brilliant runs, and after Cruikshank had bulled 30 yards to the ball to the Dal 30 yd. line. His the Tech 10, the game ended with placement kick failed but it went Tech in possession.

Once again Mc-Sweeney drove back for Navy and punted for another point. The next play proved costly to Dal for in punting, Bobbie Wilson injured his ankle and was forced to leave the game.

> > The play in the second quarter for all but a brief spasm in the dying moments took place in Dal territory. McSweeney on a pass from MacLeod went over for the first major of the game giving Navy a 7 to 0 lead. With one minute to go in the half the Tigers on their own 10 yd. line let loose with a do or die aerial attack. MacKay completed four successive short passes and in the final play of the half threw a 40 yd. desperation pass to Stacey who wedged deep into Navy territory before he was brought down to end the half.

The second half was much the same story. Dal's attempts for touchdowns all ended in failure as the score indicates. McSweeney booted another point for Stadacona while Carrol and Murray each racked up touchdowns.

The Right Smoke

McLeod of Navy is stopped for a loss by Dalhousie's Hugo Jones on an extension play around the Tar's left end. Tigers Levison and Nickerson (28) are following up on the play, while Tommy Belliveau (19), has fallen prey to a Navy blocker.

McLeod was especially effective on these short sneaks around the end, and deserves much of the credit for the Sailor's win.

Tigers Drop Soccer Game

Dalhousie's unsung soccer team battled the "Appleknocking" Axemen to a 2-all draw at Acadia last Saturday. However, as the Axemen were up one goal in the total points series, Acadia walked off with the N. S. crown. They will now play the winner of the N.B.-P.E.I. series for the tri-province title.

The Tigers opened the scoring early in the first half with Hanoman booting the ball past Collins on a screened shot. They wasted little time in racking up another goal as Hibberts pushed another

Engineers Win Over Liverpool

An eleven man team of Dal Engineers, led by Manager Jim "Spike" Fenton, and captain Ross 'Snapper" Kenway downed the thirteen man Liverpool High School English rugby team by a 30-0 score last Saturday.

While eating their lunch, the boys were asked if they could field a team to play at 4 P.M., right after their trip through the Mersey Paper Co. plant.

The Engineers were sparked by Mahon, with 11 points, and Franklin and Smith, both with 6 points. It is planned to make the game an annual affair.

Cap Corning racked up his second score of the day on a beautiful 30 yard goal to give the Blue and White a 7-0 lead soon after the second half began.

Then the Tigers began to roll, and controlled the ball for most of the remaining time, but although pushing deep into Kings territory, were unable to cross the line.

D.G.A.C. Activities

Intermural basketball is still in command of the spotlight position among D.G.A.C. activities. As things stand now, the Swish are leading the league. So far they have notched up two wins without any defects. The Schmoos and Skunk Hollow are tied for second place, with a win and a loss apiece. As yet the Atomettes haven't been able to end a game as the victors, but they certainly have put up lots of competition. Perhaps in tonight's game their 'fightin' ' spirit will gather in a victory for them. This evening at 6:15 the Swish will be playing the Skunk Hollowites, and at 8 Atomettes and Schmoos will clash.

Let's not forget about swimming. The Physical Education Department went to considerable trouble to get Stad for us. Keep in mind that at least 15 swimmers have to appear, if we have even vague hopes of having the pool after Christmas. (Remember Mondays 4.30-5.30).

Varsity basketball practices are still continuing Wednesday and Friday at 1.30.
