

Places of worship of all denominations are centres of community activity in every part of Canada