

Cast thy care on Jesus,
Tell Him all thy sin,
All thy fierce temptations
And the wrong within;
He Himself was tempted,
And He pleads above
For the soul that asketh
Pardon through His love.

Cast thy care on Jesus,
What is death to those
Who in deep submission
On his love repose;
But a short step further,
Nearer to His side,
Where their eyes shall see Him
And be satisfied.

This hymn is very beautiful in its sweet simplicity of expression and suitability for church purposes.

In no form of verse has Canon Scott done better work than in the sonnet. Dr. O'Hagan in his essay on Canadian poets says that if ever there is a volume of Canadian sonnets compiled the strong and artistic work of this author will occupy a foremost place. His beautiful sonnet on the return of the Canadian troops from South Africa is worthy of a place amongst the best work of the kind in modern literature.
