was tickling his hand. By the d and consoled, comforted with l been deposed 1 determination ne resolved: "I pe of my very white handles. resolve without ecessary fifteen penny, was not eptember. ier, but tending was a labor of s no pecuniary , and it was so nt as to leave ts to get gain s come to him hile he waitsits passed over of eager hands ed rope. The forth without the eyes of her an nature, and ging enough to reached home, or Nancy to go at four o'clock azing series of ackwards and the girls came from school-

Then Mag led tion, and there in the speech e rubber strap n, don't you tips now? It on was almost er of a second n it steadied aid performed tic eccentrici-Declaration of with stacatto t the fashion.

all precedent, September.

E ANGEL.

the night,

mI,

wo eyes

been.' go .ll too blue, oo red.

gled in bitter words 'u?" lair hell

th you drew,

oke my heart

r white hands ar to God

nay?" my two hands woeyes that led eight?

? night'''

rew the door,

in light,

1 she

g the gates

THE SCORN OF CHRIST.

June 19, 1907

Instead of writing anything this week, I shall give you an extract from a wonderful book, written by Dean Slattery, called "The Master of the World." This book was published in 1906, and is well worth reading. I have not room for the whole of the chapter on "His Scorn," but will place part of it before you, trusting that you may some day have an opportunity of reading the whole book, which describes our Lord's graciousness, gladness, beauty, vitality, etc. HOPE.

forgiving with many of the worst types —the persons who drag down humanity, their savings that should death overfeeling that He was always tenderness, kingdom of heaven. We need not try orphans might be provided for. "Deny and that the Lamb was the only symbol to explain away or even tone down the yourselves in the present," is the patheof His character. To this end many invectives and the curses: they are part tic cry of the insurance tract, "to make passages in the records of His Life are of His redeeming love for humanity, safe the future of your families." Very softened, or altogether explained away. and must be studied just as they stand proper language this, had these officers Such violence to the documents is not in the narrative. only unscientific, it is irreverent. We must face the facts as history records them. He was not always gentle: He those who consciously or unconsciously was often fierce as lightning.

personal anger; that is, He did not resent people tried to turn Him from His rageously high salaries, to pension the insults or wrongs done to Him as an Messianic duty, but also when He say members of their own families, to buy individual many Put in a few that His countries to contain individual man. But in so far as oppo- that His earnest followers were being up legislators, and otherwise to contribsition to Him kept men from the happy beguiled from "the way. life to which He tried to lead His people, He did resent men's opposition. The resentment was official. Moreover, as nation we feel when we see the face of a remembrance of the philanthropic pamwe shall see, the resentment was often mother who has discovered that to her phlets sent out by these would-be beneagainst those whom He loved; and so, boy, hitherto unspotted from the world, factors of mankind. A villain who is a though it was, in a real sense, anger, some villain is holding out the tempt- hypocrite is an arch-villain. If a man is anger is perhaps not the best word to ation to depart from righteousness. a plain, straight-torward murderer, the describe His attitude. It was never that slow, sullen rage, which often is suggested by the word "anger"; but was always a quick, fiery intensity, by its very brilliance and heat calculated to burn the sin to ashes. For these reasons, the best word available is

In the attempt to disclaim for Christ any wrath against persons, it has sometimes been argued that this scorn was for the sin rather than for the sinner. The sophistry of such a distinction was as far as possible from our Lord's spirit. If sin were disowned by its victim, Christ counted it separated; but if the sin were cherished, tolerated, Christ counted it identical with the sinner. His resentment, His contempt, His anger, His scorn, were for the concrete, personal sinners of His day, not merely for abstract qualities which hung about

People who think that they follow Christ, sometimes become insensible to sin through an exaggerated tenderness for bad people. They reach the depth described by the Psalmist, "Neither do they abhor anything that is evil." their villainous influence spreads. Christ make its first timid plunge into gross sin. starts the crime, the world never forgets. was a surgeon, cutting evil men out of They are the tempters of innocence. And no one dare say that the world in the great organism of humanity, to The mother who discovers that such a such a mood is un-Christian.

"That's exactly what I do not be a such a mood is un-Christian." check the progress of Death. Because malign personality is approaching her pitiless to the man who barred the prospring upon this murderer of her child's gress of Life to the whole human system. soul. Tenderness has its limit: there ity that its neglect to destroy sin is more the youth sees the horror on his mother's than its power to build up righteousness. face, he will know at last how loath-The writer who did most to reform some is his tempter—and he will be English life in the nineteenth century saved. "It must needs be," said Christ, was not Thomas Carlyle, who wrote "that occasions of stumbling come; violently of sins, but was Charles but woe to that man through whom the Dickens, who wrote vividly of living, occasion cometh! . . . Better concrete sinners. The schoolmaster for him that a great millstone should be Squeers, the nurse Mrs. Gamp, the hanged about his neck, and that he employer Mr. Pecksniff, the ruffian should be sunk in the depths of the sea. Sikes, and a host of other evil persons were held up for hatred; people came to a sense of the blackness of the crimes which made human nature bestial, and denunciation of hypocrites. public opinion rose to a great reform. On these people the Saviour poured out Into his open grave in the Abbey the vials of His wrath. He called them the poor threw flowers continuously for one whole day; because he had forced men to hate and depose the sinners who had been allowed to make miserable the exposed them to hiting spread as he had been allowed to make miserable the exposed them to hiting spread as he depose the sinners who had moments of such strong in Cod's graphs as he the Master who had moments of such strong in Cod's graphs as he strong in the passers by were such as he strong in the latter thereof. The passers has a latter thereof. This conversation of the passers he with passers had been allowed to make miserable the exposed them to biting sarcasm as he the Master who had moments of such strong in God's gymnasium, where weak and defenceless. Nor, in such a pictured them standing up and offering anger and scorn was, notwithstanding, you need no medicine to make you connection, can we forget that superb to remove motes from other people's first of all tender and loving. Only the eat. Stay with the farm, where life force of righteousness, Thomas Arnold. eyes—when in their own eyes there were love was not soft and flabby, but had is natural and friendships more real It was said that many an Englishman beams. And the "woe," "woe," all the elements of perfect strength. It where you can wear what you want hurled back temptation in the thick of of His invective falls with the force public life because he remembered how as and regularity of a bludgeon. If ever a boy he had seen the face of Dr. Arnold people were cursed, Christ cursed the fash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash disgust and scorn in the presence of hypocrites. The cursing of the promisflash di any person who had done a mean or low ing but fruitless fig-tree removes the and did his best was rewarded. Just down the line to the swallow who identified with such sin-he saw again shall ye escape the judgment of hell?" the indignant gaze, the anger, and the A large share of the disgust roused by contempt—and so, with that memory, the recent investigators of the great he dropped the temptation, he kept Insurance Companies comes from the himself unspotted. Surely we need to fact that these trustees of enormous Because Christ was the tender physician in the presence of all degraded people who admitted the sickness of their souls, because He was patient and scorn for certain types of sinful persons, the responsible to the responsi

THE QUIET HOUR

I. AGAINST TEMPTERS.

It is quite certain that He had no expressed this scorn not only when astuteness, to vote themselves out-

* * * The purity and splendor of such indigbrought to mind how Dr. Arnold would Lord's estimate of the hypocrite. He look upon him, his once loved pupil now said quite definitely to such men, "How of insurance companies really cared for working men, widows and orphans; but Christ had very evident scorn for hideous and contemptible jargon, if these pleaders turned from their tracts, tempted men from the right. He with an amused twinkle at their own ute to their own wealth and power. The mere villainy is bad enoughbut it is all intensified with the rankling hopelessly bad boy and sends him away trom his privileges, lest, remaining in the school, he drag others down to his own infamy, so the merciful Christ rejected the tempter, the hypocrite, the hardhearted, the worldly, from His kingdom. Some men feeling the heat of His scorn must have come to a sense of their condition. For the scorn of a perpetual blusterer does not hurt; what does hurt is the scorn of the gentle, the kind, the loving. We can be candid with ourselves and measure exactly the attitude which Christ will have for any of those qualities in us which once He faced on earth with terrible scorn. He was fierce as only the Gentlest can be fierce. There is no paradox between His forgiveness and His anger; only completeness, in love.

—From "The Master of the World."

OUR FUNNY LANGUAGE.

You take a swim, You say you've swum; Your nails you trim. But they're not trum; And milk you skim Is never skum.

When the words you speak, Those words are spoken. If a nose you tweak, It's never twoken; Nor can you seek And say you've soken.

If a top you spin, The top is spun; A hare you skin, Yet 'tis not skun. Nor can a grin Be ever grun.

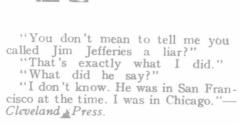

If we forget Then we've forgotten; Yet if we bet We haven't botten. No house we let Is ever lotten. What we upset Is not upsotten. Now, don't you think Our language rotten? -New York World.

Editor (to stranger)—We have all the manuscript we can find use for during the next six years, every page of which is furnished by the leading thinkers, essayists, historians, philos-tisement for mother-of-pearl soap. Editor—Ah, I see. Take a seat on the sofa, sir. We will try and find room your copy by killing an essay or two.

ophers, journal-Stranger-But this is a page adver-

"That's exactly what I did." "What did he say?" Another class of men upon whom cisco at the time. I was in Chicago."—

Charles F. Raymond, in Raymond's or persuasion could penetrate to their Record, Oakville:-They tell me that you hearts. They came then to have what are thinking of leaving the farm this has been called "the ossified heart." . . spring. Don't do it; keep close to the illed "the ossified heart." . . spring. Don't do it; keep close to the This scorn for hard-hearted- soil. You are tired feeding the cattle, ness is perhaps most clear in the Fourth the sheep and the pigs, tired of chop-Gospel, particularly in the fiery dialogue ping the wood, tired of cleaning the between Christ and the prejudiced stable out, tired of the store on the opponents which is recorded in the corner—tired of it all. You have visited eighth chapter. "Ye are of your father the city, and its roar has fascinated Christ was especially vigorous in His the devil," He cried, "and the lusts of you. Everyone seemed well dressed and happy, and the laughter and He is a liar and the father thereof." His conversation of the passers-by were

There are men who take a fiendish world is content with a legal penalty; Because bad men are tolerated, excused, pleasure in watching the unspoiled life but when it is the kiss of a Judas that His pity was not soft, but strong, He was beloved has the right of a tigress to It is possible so to emasculate Christian- comes a time for scorn, for hatred. When

The tempted man 's imagination last doubt, if any could exist, upon our as the merciful schoolmaster detects the builds in the barn, Christ vented his scorn were the hard- Cleveland Press. hearted. These, too, for the most part seem to have been Pharisees. They shut their lives into so hard a case of stubbornness and prejudice that no truth our father it is your will to do.

high; -my eyes

-Smart Set,