LETTER FROM PRIVATE FRED WILLIAMSON TO W. J. ROLLINS

Oct. 19, 1915.

Dear Bill:—
Just received your letter and believe me it was a letter. I hardly expected you to take the bother to write me, but if you knew how much pleasure we get out of a letter from home, you would take half an hour or so of every week and drop a few lines to some of the boys.

We get our mail every day in the trenches, and it is letters, but we have to wait until we come out for a rest before we get any papers or parcels that have arrived for us. We are in the trenches for six days and then come out for a rest of six days, we have done two turns in there so far and expect to go back again to-morrow or next day.

Poor Cliff Ritchie got his last time we were in and Claude Young got wounded in both legs and the back. It happened last Wednesday when we started a little sally out towards the German trenches. Only one of our companies made the attack but were supported by our machine gunners. It only lasted a couple of hours but it was pretty hot while it did last. All the men acted great, and afterwards all the men of our Battalion, of all ranks, were congratulated by Gen. Turner on the good showing they made.

You would not believe how men will act when under fire if you did not see it with your own eyes. Every man is breast high over the parapet when in action, if his rifle jams he stands there and kicks it back with his foot all the time he is swearing at his rifle or the Germans. He does not seem to realize that he is in sight of the enemy all the time and that bullets and shells are skipping around him everywhere.

The German account of the little scrap admits that they had four hundred casualties and places ours at six hundred. We can guess that they did not place theirs any too high and they also made a slight mistake in ours, as they only had about one-tenth of what they say.

Well Bill, hope you will excuse this scribbling in pencil as it is all I have for letters, we must save our ink for addressing envelopes. Please let me know you receive this letter all right and I will write again. All the boys wish to be remembered to all the people in St. A.

Best of luck to you and your people from your old friend, SAMMIE.

His Hon. Judge Carleton was in town on Tuesday, and transacted some business in Chambers.

which took place at his residence at Bay-side on Sunday, Nov. 21. Mr. Russell was one of the best known and most esteemed residents of Charlotte County, and though of late years, owing to his advanced age, he had taken no active part in the public affairs of the County, in his earlier years he devoted much of time and great abilities to the promotion of the welfare and prosperity of the County in which he was born and in which he spent the whole of his long life.

Mr. Russell was of Loyalist stock, and born at Bay-side on November 15, 1824, and was thus just over 91 years of age when he died. He was married in 1850 to Agnes McDonald, who died in 1895. He was a progressive and successful farmer, and he resided upon and worked the farm at Bay-side which was originally granted by the Crown to his grandfather, who had been a soldier in the Revolutionary War. For a short time he was engaged in mercantile business in St. Andrews, but eventually returned to his farm.

Mr. Russell is survived by two sons, Alexander and John, who reside at Bay-side, and who will have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Tuesday from his late residence at Bay-side, the services being conducted by Rev. W. M. Fraser, B. Sc. Interment was in the Sandy Point Cemetery.
