THE CLERGY RESERVES.—We have given an abstract of part of the debate on this question in our present number, with the intention of resuming and concluding it in our next. The sentition of the debate on this question in the "British," Lt. Col. Hewat presiding.

1st Innings.

S. A. Dunbar b Galston by Lt. Col. Webster, mustered the same day in C. Buckland b Galston have had an opportunity of hearing the sentiments was no muster of the Fergus Battalion. of several Reverend Gentlemen, receipients of the Government bounty, on the subject. These gentlemen, who, six months since, would have sold their interest in the Reserve Fund for half a dozon years' purchase, now look remarkably pleasant-Price, Baldwin, and Hincks to the true faith as regards vested rights-confess their infinite obligations to the present Administration, who, they scruple not to afirm, are, after all, the best friends smacks of treason, affirm that Mr. Price has a much better claim than had ever Henry the Eightheto the title " Fidei Defensor."
