Tarzan of The Apes

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1912, by the Frank A. Munsey Company.

CHAPTER IX.

At the Mercy of the Jungle.

CLAYTON turned and rushed back toward the spears. The sailors stood in a frightened group, with drawn weapons, peering into the jungle. The wounded man writhed and shrieked upon the ground. Clayton, unseen by any, picked up the fallen revolver and slipped it inside his shirt; then he joined the sailors.

"Who could it have been?" whispered Jane Porter, and the young man turned to see her standing, wide eyed, beside him.

"I dare say Tarzan of the apes is watching us," he answered. "I wonder how wide that spear was intended for? If for Snipes, then our ape friend is a friend indeed."

"By Jove! Where are your father and Mr. Philander? There's some one or something in that jungle, and it's armed, whatever it is. Ho! Professor! Mr. Philander! young Clayton shouted. There was no response.

"What's to be done, Miss Porter? I can't leave you here alone with these cutthroats. You certainly can't venture into the jungle with me, yet some one must go in search of your father. He is more than apt at wandering off aimlessly, regardless of danger or direction, and Mr. Philander is only a trifle less impractical. I have it! You can use a revolver, can't you?"

"Yes—why?"

"I have one. With it you and Esmeralda will be comparatively safe in this cabin while I am searching for your father and Mr. Philander. Come, call the woman, and I will hurry on. They can't have gone far."

Jane Porter did as he suggested, and when he saw the door close safely behind them Clayton turned toward the jungle.

Some of the sailors were drawing the spear from their wounded comrade, and as Clayton approached he asked if he could borrow a revolver from one of them while he searched the jungle for the professor.

The rat faced one, finding he was not dead, had regained his composure and with a volley of oaths refused.

This man, Snipes, had assumed the role of chief since he had killed their former leader, and so little time had elapsed that none of his companions had as yet questioned his authority.

Clayton's only response was a shrug of the shoulders, but as he left them he picked up the spear which had transfixed Snipes, and thus primitively armed the son of the then Lord Grey-stoke strode into the dense jungle.

Every few moments he called aloud the names of the wanderers. The watchers in the cabin by the beach heard the sound of his voice growing ever fainter and fainter, until at last it was swallowed up by the myriad noises of the primeval wood.

When Professor Archimedes Q. Porter and his assistant, Samuel T. Philander, after much insistence on the part of the latter, had finally turned their steps toward camp they were as completely lost in the wild and tangled labyrinth of the jungle as two human beings could be, though they did not know it.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glassy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning gray hair has disappeared and another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. Paris News

PARIS, March 23—Although floods have been reported at various points along the Grand River, the water here is not a great deal above winter normal. The Grand Trunk bridge is causing a large ice jam which extends only from the east shore two-thirds across the river, the channel being open from the shore to the first abutment on the west side, this is causing the river to take a new course, and unless the jam breaks shortly a new channel may be permanently cut through Riverview Park and to the west of the present channel.

One of the most highly respected farmers passed away last Monday from heart failure in the person of Mr. L. Parnall of Brantford Tp. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Hurdall, who has for a number of years conducted a photo business here, has disposed of the same and will remove to Vancouver. The purchaser of the business is Mr. Cyril Plomley of St. Thomas and formerly of Paris.

Mr. W. L. Clark will deliver a number of lectures on "Social Purity" to the young men and school children of Paris this week.

Since the return of cold weather the ice surface at the rink is in the best condition of the season and the curlers and skaters are taking full advantage of it.

John Schultz, of Chicago, was refused naturalization papers by Judge Pettit when divorce records were produced showing that he beat his wife.

SURPRISES MANY IN BRANTFORD

THE QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis, is surprising Brantford people. Many have found that this simple remedy drains so much foul matter from the system that a SINGLE DOSE relieves constipation, sour stomach and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY. Adler-ka is the most thorough bowel cleanser ever sold. M. H. Robertson, druggist, agent.

"I read to them; talk scandal with them; discuss the stage and sing their favorite old songs, 'Annie Laurie,' 'Ben Bolt,' and 'The Last Rose of Summer.'"

"I was paid just one cent for two weeks' hard work in a cotton mill at Rockspur, N.C." said Andrew Neugebauer, in Baltimore, Md., who was given money to take himself, wife and two children back to their home in New York.
