Mrs. Beecher, of London, has received a cablegram from Mr. Jeffrey Hale, who is now in France, stating that his son, Dr. George Hale, who has been seriously ill, is very much better. His Brantford friends will be glad to hear this news.

There has recently been organized in London what is known as the Oceana Club, primarily intended for the convenience of the ladies of the Outer Empire, now in England whose husbands and sons are in the army. It has already a membership of about 2,000, Canada being represented on its committee by Percy and Mrs. Alfred Cole. The club will exist only for the duration of the war.

An event of importance which will take place at the Grand Central Palace, New York, is the Allied Bazaar, to be held from June 3rd to 14th, by which a million dollars is expected to be raised for various war charities. What perhaps will be the most distinctive individual feature of the affair is the Booth of the Nine Allies, which will be conducted by the following well known war relief committees: The International Reconstruction League, American Committee Collecting for American Women's War Relief Fund, Lady Helmsley's War Emergency Fund, the Russian War Relief Committee, Committee for Relief of Belgian Prisoners in Germany, Charities of the Queen of Belgium, Princess Louise's Mine Sweepers' Fund, the Millicent Sutherland Ambulance, La Vie Feminine, the Secours Daryes.

Miss Fan Nadell was hostess of a delightful kitchen shower on Tuesday last, when about thirty young ladies journeyed to her home, 115 Market street, and surprised her sister, Sarah, who is to be one of this month's brides. After a most enjoyable musical program, dainty refreshments were served. Many useful and pretty gifts were received by the bride-to-be, who, although so completely surprised, made a few happy remarks, thanking her many friends for their good wishes. The merry party dispersed about 1.30, after singing the National Anthem.

Mr. Reg. Scarfe and Mr. W. H. Webbing and Mr. Iden Champion motored to Hamilton on Thursday to be present at the opening of the beautiful new Hamilton golf links. There was a very large attendance, the weather being perfect. The beautiful links never looked better. The old stone farm house has been converted into a most "comfy" club house. Hamilton golfers, by the way, have just been made a present of a most beautiful silver cup by Col. Fearman and officers of the 120th Battalion, in recognition of the courtesy of the directors in allowing them the use of the club house on the old links during the winter months. Lieut. Colonel Myler, Honorary Colonel of the 120th, made the presentation on behalf of the officers.

"If the wives of soldiers are living better now than before the war, so they should be," said Sir John Willing, speaking at the annual meeting of the Women's Conservative Club the other afternoon in Toronto. "One hears," he said, "that the burden of contributing to patriotic funds falls upon a few rich men, and that this money should be raised by taxation. But this would be putting the burden of taxation on those least able to bear it. While the war lasts every dollar we can spare from the decent support of our families should be devoted to the war effort." He declared, and added emphatically that "the man who is richer at the end of the war than he was at the beginning, is a disgrace to his country."

Many Brantfordites will be interested in the following account of the entertainment given in Toronto by the pupils of Miss Sternberg, the well known dancing instructor, who has taught here for many seasons. Miss Norma Coulson of this city, was among those taking part in the exhibition, Miss Norma Coulson danced three classical numbers, "Summer," "Moment Musical" and "Butterfly Dance."

Perfectly delightful is none too extravagant a phrase to use about the entertainment of classical and national dances by pupils of Miss Sternberg at the Gayety Theatre last night in the interests of the 208th Battalion. Large or small, snark or dapper, dancers expressed, in graceful motion, the spring and the leaves, the soft languor of summer, the play of the birds, or the fluttering flight of the butterflies with a charm which was a pleasure to every sense.

The affair opened with the awakening of spring, roses and butterflies and nymphs being kissed into life at its greeting. A sailor's romance brought on a squad of midship mites, the sweet ones bringing down the house as they tried to catch up to the pace of the bigger lads. The tiny rosebuds, too, who were duffs of pink tufted, captivated more by forgetting than the bigger ones did by their faultless performance.

"They're a thousand times more adorable when they make mistakes," exclaimed an enthusiastic onlooker, and everybody within earshot smiled thorough sympathy with the sentiment.

There was a glimpse into Merrie England, too, when older pupils, frocked and smocked as village maids and yokels, danced a country dance round the maypole, frolicked through a Morris dance and tripped "Pop Goes the Weasel," as they might have done in the times of Elizabeth and Shakespeare.

Individual performers did some very finished work in the Toe Ballet, Dance Characteristique Pierrot, Onittra's Dance and Nevin's Dragon Fly, being among those specially enjoyed. Miss Thekla Munday, being "Little Miss Canada," was presented with a bouquet of roses, and Mr. Phillips' song, "Canadian Boys," by Marsh Magwood, was given rounds of applause.

SIBBICK-CLEMENT. A pretty wedding was solemnized at "Fairview," Brantford Township, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Clement, when their eldest daughter, Rheta B., became the bride of Earl C. Sibbick, only son of the late Mr. John Sibbick, and Mrs. J. Wallace of Etonia, Rev. W. J. Brandon officiating. The bride was given away by her father as the wedding march, "Lengrin," was played by Miss Lucille Clement, and wore white crepe de chine and Georgette crepe. Miss Eunice and Miss Fern Millington of 451 Keele St., Toronto, and Mrs. Myrtle Clement were flower girls, wearing dainty gowns of pink and white silk voile. After the ceremony a bridal feast was served, the happy couple leaving later for a short trip, the bride travelling in Alice blue whipcord, with hat to match. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sibbick will reside on the former's farm near Etonia.

ROSE DAY IN FULL SWING

The Women's Hospital Aid Hold Their Annual Event.

This is Rose Day, but no doubt you are already well aware of that fact. The proceeds go for the benefit of the funds of the Women's Hospital Aid, and their headquarters in the old Y. M. C. A. building have constituted a very busy spot all day. Mrs. Schell, the President, and her band of energetic workers had all the arrangements in most complete shape and the campaign has been waged with clock-like regularity. The girls were out bright and early, many of them by 6 a. m. During the week the manufacturers were waded on, and the total received from them
