

Choice Miscellany.

My Ship Comes In.

'Neath summer's sun and winter's blast,
While the long years swept slowly past,
I waited, looking out to sea,
For sure my ship would come to me.

Ah, here! For with this morning's sun
My glad heart heard the signal gun;
And safely down the sheltering bay
I saw my ship come in to-day.

And then I learned that she had been
Eleven weeks in quarantine,
While yellow fever sunk the crew
Deep in its complimentary slumber.

And long before, while tempest tossed,
Her masts and rigging had been lost;
And then the crew, a frightened horde,
Had flung the cargo overboard.

And then a steamer of the line
Laid hold upon this ship of mine,
And towed her through the waters wild,
And fearful claims for salvage filed.

And then I learned the company
Had gone no higher than a kite—
Sunk wide open out of sight.

And so again I sit all day
Down where the restless breakers play,
And wish—though all the good it does—
My ship had staid out where it was.

And when the evening, gray and dim,
Falls on the ocean's misty brim,
With weary heart and quivering lip
I wish I'd never had a ship.

Heroic Lives at Home.

The heroism of private life, the slow, unchronicled martyrdoms of the heart, who shall remember? Greater than any knightly dragon-slaying of old is the man who overcomes an unholo passion, sets his foot upon it, and stands serene and strong in virtue. Greater than Zenobia's world, and laughs at the ruin it has wrought. It does that and more. It murders the soul. It is the sum of all villainies, the father of all crimes, the mother of all abominations, the Devil's best friend and God's worst enemy.

In Brief, and to the Point.
Dyspepsia, is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

The Fate of Poets.
We hope amateur poets will take warning by the following:—The deaths of many of our celebrated poets were occasioned by very singular accidents.

Cowley, returning with his friend Spratt, from a visit to a gentleman in the neighborhood of Chertsey, lost his way, and was obliged to spend the night under a hedge. He caught a severe cold in consequence, which terminated in his death.

Otway had an intimate friend murdered in the street. The murderer fled to France; Otway pursued him on foot as far as Dover, and the fatigue occasioned a fever, which was the cause of his death.

Sir John Fawcett was robbed by his valet de chambre. The moment he discovered it, in a passionate hurry, he put on his boots to pursue him. A large rusty nail was in the bottom of one of them, which pierced his heel, and brought on mortification.

Lee had been confined to bed for a considerable time, in consequence of lunacy. One night he escaped, and drank so immediately that, becoming intoxicated, he fell down at the strand, was run over by a hackney coach, and expired on the spot.

A Beautiful Incident.
A gentleman relates that many years ago he was on a visit to the Isle of Man, and during his walk he strolled into the quiet little churchyard, where repose the bodies of many faithful Christians.

Near a grave in a corner of the churchyard he noticed a lady with a little girl (the latter about twelve years of age) to whom she was relating the story of the "Dairyman's Daughter," whose remains lay beneath their feet. As the lady proceeded with the narrative, he observed the little girl lift up her eyes filled with tears and heard her say she would try to be as good as the "Dairyman's Daughter" had been. After planting a beautiful lily on the grave they walked slowly away. The gentleman, upon making inquiry, found that the lady was the Duchess of Kent and the little girl, her daughter. The latter is now the Queen of England.

That Old Bachel Again.
An old bachelor asserts that the best and quietest way to revive a lady when she faints is to begin to take down her hair; if it isn't her own she will grab it in a jiffy. A better way to stop fainting and to produce hair of her own is to use Minard's Liniment.

but desiring to do my duty as a woman. The fact that my husband is your minister gives me of right no position among you, and gives you no right to demand of me any public service. If my husband fails to do his duty, admonish him; but in the name of justice and humanity, do not establish any supervision over me. Let my private life be sacred from intrusion as that of any other woman. This I have a right to demand and will be satisfied with nothing else."

Ingersoll on Alcohol.

Colonel Ingersoll may not be quite orthodox as to theology, but he is sound as to alcohol, as the following utterance from him shows:

"Alcohol is the blood of the gambler, the inspiration of the burglar, the stimulus of the highwayman, and the support of the midnight incendiary. It suggests the lie, and countenances the liar, condones the thief, and esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligation, reverence, fraud, turns love to hate, seems virtue and innocence. It incites the father to butcher his helpless offspring, and the child to sharpen the fratricidal axe. Alcohol burns up men, consumes women, destroys life, curses God, and despises heaven. It suborns witnesses, nurses perjury, defiles the jury-box, and stains judicial ermine. It bribes voters, disqualifies votes, corrupts elections, pollutes our institutions, enlarges the government, degrades the citizen, debases the legislator, dishonors the statesman, and disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not happiness; and with the manevolence of a fiend, calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and reveling in havoc, it poisons faculty, destroys peace, and ruins morals, wipes out national honor, curses the world, and laughs at the ruin it has wrought. It does that and more. It murders the soul. It is the sum of all villainies, the father of all crimes, the mother of all abominations, the Devil's best friend and God's worst enemy."

West's World's Wonder, for external use, excels any other liniment for rheumatism, neuralgia, cuts, wounds, burns and bruises. Always useful. All druggists.

The first iron boat is thought to have been built in 1777, at Foss, in Yorkshire, England. It was fifteen feet long, and made of sheet iron.

The "Maud S." Condition Powder is as far in advance of its rivals, as Mr Vanderbilt's celebrated mare is ahead of her rivals in the estimation of the public.

There are men in New York who spend half their time dodging people they have borrowed money of, and the other half in hunting fresh victims.

Nervous headache, carache, toothache and in fact any ache or pain, cured like magic with West's World's Wonder. 25 cents and 50 cents. All druggists.

The dyspeptic's friend, West's Liver Pills. Take one sugar-coated West's Liver Pill every night, and you will bless the day you read this. 30 pills 25c. All druggists.

"Yes, sir," said Dibbs, earnestly, "we should always look upon long-haired men with respect. It is a surety that they haven't been in prison for a while."

Wonderful is the instantaneous effect of West's Pain King in relieving cramps, colic, and bowel difficulties. Worth its weight in gold, and costs but 25c. All druggists.

Sundials were the first form of clocks. After them came the water-clock. Rude clocks were invented in the eleventh century. Watch springs came into use about 1550.

West's Pain King works like a charm in relieving pain in the stomach, all low ailments and cholera. No traveller should be without it. Should always be in the house. Costs but 25c. All druggists.

The literary education of women began to prevail in England in the early part of the seventeenth century. In 1620 neither of Shakespeare's daughters could write.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has no equal in merit and efficiency, as a hair dressing, and for the prevention of baldness. It eradicates dandruff, keeps the scalp moist and clean and healthy, and gives vitality and color to weak, faded and gray hair. The most popular of toilet articles.

This season of the year it is very important to have a reliable remedy in the home for such diseases as flux, dysentery, diarrhoea summer complaint, cholera, cholera morbus and cholera infantum. Such a remedy is West's Pain King. Only 25c. All druggists.

A Western editor once apologized to his readers somewhat after this fashion: "We intended to have had a death and a marriage to publish this week, but a violent storm prevented the wedding, and the clock being taken sick himself, the patient recovered, and we are accordingly cheated out of both."

Life saved at midnight by the timely use of West's Pain King. Do not fail to always keep it in the house for sudden attacks of colic, cholera, cholera morbus, cramps, flux, dysentery, and all kindred diseases, always very sudden. Be prepared. 25 cents. All druggists.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Welsh language can never expect to be a pronounced success.

For Bronchial and Throat Affections, Allen's Lung Balsam is unequalled.

Our life is an apprenticeship to the truth that around every circle another can be drawn.

The "Royal Flavoring Extracts" are made of great purity and strength. Take no other.

Thirty-six Vassar girls have been made bachelors of arts. A bachelor of arts is a maid of wisdom.

Campbell's Cathartic Compound is pleasant to the taste, and more satisfactory than Pills.

A photographer has this rather pet inscription over him:—Here I lie, taken from life.

Perry Davis' Pain-Killer—Its effects are almost instantaneous, affording relief from the most intense pain.

A reporter has just won his spurs by an article headed "Desperate Bloodshed—the murdered man not expected to live!"

Pimples and sores are cured by using Minard's Family Pills and applying Minard's Liniment from 10 to 20 days.

Reckless orthography, an impressionist's avowal wrote "Marry, I love the well." She replied that she was glad he was a testator.

"How can I leave you, my darling," murmured a lover, in tones of distressing tenderness, as he observed both hands of the clock approach a perpendicular on the dial. "Well, John," responded the girl, with wicked innocence, "you can take your choice. If you go through the hall, you will be liable to wake up father, and if you leave by way of the back door, you will be likely to wake up the dog."

FATHER WILLIAM REVISED.
You are old, Father William, the young man said.
You are hale, Father William, the young man said.
Now tell me the reason, I pray,
In the days of your youth, Father William replied.

I used Minard's Liniment rare;
On my head which was moulting and shedding its locks
Now grows a thick crop of black hair.

Mowers and Rakes.

The "TORONTO" Mower is the finest and best, and has the most extensive sale of any Mower in the Dominion; and through the United States it stands ahead of all. The draft is light; and in operation it is noiseless; will work on rough ground with greater satisfaction than any other machine.

The "MASSEY" Mower, a Favorite Machine, Strong! Powerful! Compact! Stands next to the "Toronto." No other Mowers can be controlled by the operator with such ease, a small boy being capable to do fine work with either. No stopping these Machines to kick it in or out of Gear, as in other Machines. In these, this is done with Hand Levers, and the knife runs perfectly in any angle.

NO EQUAL OR NO SALE.

"SHARP'S" HORSE RAKE.

It is now a well-known fact that these Rakes have no equal. It is only fun for a small boy to do good work with these rakes. They are a acknowledged by all to be the best Horse Rake in existence. We will pay money to any one who will show us an equal.

These Mowers and Rakes are as cheap as the cheapest and better than the best. It will pay you to examine them before buying elsewhere.

Railway Depot, Wolfville, June 17, 1887.

Appleton's American Cyclopaedia.

New Edition, complete in 28 Royal Octavo volumes, containing all information down to 1887.

The Latest, The Cheapest, and The Best.

THE LATEST.—A corps of contributors who hold the foremost rank in Science and literature, both in Europe and America are employed on this work the year round. And a new volume is added annually, recording the progress in literature, in the arts, in science, and the social, political, religious, commercial and industrial developments to the latest possible date. Hence it is the latest.

THE CHEAPEST.—It is a well selected library in itself, presenting a panoramic view of all human knowledge from the earliest time to the present day. It is the only complete new and exhaustive cyclopaedia in the English language. Its annual volume keeps it completely abreast of the times, and precludes the necessity of buying other books. Hence it is the cheapest.

THE BEST.—It is prepared by the ablest writers and scholars in every department of knowledge. It is impartial, doing justice to all men, all creeds, and all countries. Space is everywhere duly proportioned to the subjects. Its range of subjects embraces more than all other cyclopaedias combined, and any point is instantly available by means of an elaborate analytical index. Hence it is the best.
