

THE LAST SAD RITES.

The Mortal Remains of Late William H. Murray Consigned to Mother Earth.

Many Citizens of Fredericton and St. John Accompanied the Remains to Springhill.

THE SERVICES AT ST. JOHN.

St. John, Oct. 4.—This morning services were held over the remains of St. John's dead lumber king and today they were taken by special train to Fredericton, and then Springhill, York County, for interment. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Kuhnig, assisted by Rev. H. P. McKim, and although there was no music, it was most impressive. No hymns were sung, but deep silence reigned as the casket of the dead lumber king slowly moved through the streets of St. John. Several appropriate collects and a portion of the epistle to the Thessalonians. The funeral procession was a long one. Nearly a hundred mill employees marched in front, followed by the casket with mourning relatives and the eight who had acted as pallbearers. Behind the hearse there walked at least two hundred citizens. On the arrival of the procession at the depot, the millmen opened their ranks and stood with bowed heads as the body of their beloved employer was carried to the special train ready to take the remains to Springhill, where interment will be made this afternoon. The special train, which left the city about 10.45 a. m., was decorated in black and purple; the train consisted of a baggage car, two first class cars and the Rosemere, St. John's private car, which was put at the disposal of the mourners.

At nine o'clock this morning the casket was placed in the funeral home at Fairville and was closed and the men to the number of between two and three hundred lined up near the Fairville station as the special was due. The sight was a most impressive one. Slowly the train passed between the files of men standing with bowed heads. The mill resumed work again at one o'clock.

The special train, having on board the remains of the late William H. Murray, arrived here at about 1.15 o'clock this afternoon. The train was composed of three cars, including Divisional Superintendent William Downie's private car, Rosemere, which had been kindly placed at the disposal of the family by Mr. Downie. One of the other coaches was occupied by about 90 of the employees of the firm of Murray & Gregory, Ltd., while the third was for the railway employees.

The remains, which were in a handsome casket with silver lining and silver mountings had been placed in the back of the Rosemere, which was the last on the train, and soon after the arrival the casket was placed in the hearse in waiting, being carried by several of the employees of the deceased, and under the supervision of Undertaker Brown of St. John and Undertaker John G. Adams of Fredericton. In the meantime the ladies had entered the coaches in waiting and at 1.30 p. m. the train started for Springhill. Those who came on the special train were the Misses Murray, Mrs. J. Fraser Gregory and a number of the intimate lady friends of the family and the following named gentlemen:

E. F. Gregory, E. S. H. Murray, Judge Gregory, A. J. Gregory, Geo. Murray, Hon. Jas. Holly, A. W. Macray, Jas. Pender, Neil McLean, E. Moore, Chas. Miller, F. C. Hestley, Geo. Harshill, Harry Miller, Hy. Hayward, L. L. Jewett, Fred Harshill, W. C. Purvis, F. D. Miles, A. B. Holly, E. J. Ferguson, A. P. Harshill, A. B. Farmer.

Most of the members of the party had dinner at the hotels and at about 2.30 p. m. the coaches left for Springhill, in the meantime the casket had been placed in St. Peter's church and opened so that many of the residents of Kingsclear, where Mr. Murray was born and reared, had an opportunity of viewing the remains of the man who was loved and respected by all.

Shortly after three o'clock the solemn and beautiful funeral service of the Church of England was commenced. The service was conducted by Rev. H. Montgomery, rector of St. Peter's, assisted by Rev. Mr. Kuhnig, of St. John, who came on the special train. The little church was crowded to overflowing during the service and many a tear was shed by the hundreds gathered, few of whom could not remember when Mr. Murray had been their friend when they needed one.

At the conclusion of the services, which were attended by many Fredericton people, including all of the prominent lumbermen, the remains were carried to the family lot in the church yard at the north of the church, and there lowered into the grave with the usual services conducted by the clergy.

The gentlemen who acted as pallbearers were: Donald Fraser, senior, John Kilburn and A. H. F. Randolph of Fredericton, and Hon. James Holly, James Pender and Charles Miller, of St. John.

The special train is expected to return to St. John at 9.30 p. m.

STANLEY FAIR.

Very Largely Attended and Grandly Successful Today.

Agricultural Exhibit Best Ever Shown and Live Stock Good.

Village Crowded With Visitors, Many are from Fredericton.

STANLEY, Oct. 4.—The attendance at the annual Fair of the Stanley Agricultural Society, being held today and tomorrow, is probably the largest in the history of that flourishing Society. It is next to impossible to get any sort of accommodation for visitors, and teams this afternoon so crowded is the village. Everything is passing off most pleasantly and the success of the exhibition was apparent from the opening hour. Among the visitors are a large number from Fredericton, probably fifty, and among these are Aldermen McGinn and Stockford. They will be among the guests at the annual dinner of the Society this evening.

The exhibit of live stock is large and fully up to the high standard of former years, while the display of vegetables and roots far surpasses in quantity and excellence anything previously shown in this part of the county. There are a number of games and side shows in progress which add to the attractiveness of the Fair and tend to amuse and entertain the visitors.

PAINT THE BUILDING.

To the Editor of THE GLEANER.

DEAR SIR.—It was rumored a few weeks ago that the Directors of the Arctic Rink had decided to paint the building, but it begins to look as though the rumor was unfounded. The Directors of the Arctic Rink are all gentlemen who are known to have an eye for the beautiful, and they must surely realize the importance of having this large building provided with a coat of paint. It is to be hoped some step will be taken in this direction without further delay.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for the space I am,

Yours respectfully,
MERCHANT.

FROM THE COTTON CENTRE.

The Funeral of Late Barry Brown Largely Attended.

Tramps Disturbed While About to Hold Up a Citizen.

Interesting Event in Near Future—Dear Quia Pleinful.

MARYVILLE, Oct. 3.—The funeral of the late Barry Brown took place at 10 o'clock this afternoon. It was under the auspices of Victoria Lodge, No. 23, Freemasons, of which lodge the deceased was a valuable member prior to his removal to St. John where he had been employed for some short time. The "Freemite Boys" of Maryville and Gibson, about forty in number, attended in full regalia, six of whom acted as pallbearers. After a short service at the house the procession wended its way to the Free Baptist Church where the pastor, Rev. H. H. Ferguson, assisted by Rev. H. Thomas, pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted a most solemn and beautiful service. Music was furnished by the choir of the church. At the close of the service the procession reformed and the body was conveyed to the cemetery adjoining the church. After the close of the service by Rev. Mr. Ferguson at the grave, the beautiful and impressive burial service of the Freemite Boys was performed. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and showed the high respect in which the deceased was held by all. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Voting in the county council election passed off very quietly here; very little interest was manifested in the contest.

Yesterday afternoon while Mr. Thos. Winter was walking along the sidewalk on the western side of the river he met a trio of hoboes, one of whom informed him that they were hungry and must have money. Mr. Winter informed him that he could get some from him. How it might have ended up and the Weary Willows moved on, one, who has quite a reputation as a sprinter, says he was ready to take a flying start had his friends not arrived when they did.

Divide the number of days in November by two and if Dame Rumor is correct the result will give you the date of an interesting event in which a popular salesman of Fredericton will be the principal.

Mr. M. F. Reid has returned from his holidays and is again at his post in the grocery store.

Four deer made a call on Mr. Joseph Walker, head gardener for Mr. Alex. Gibson, Sr., on Sunday last. Mr. Walker says they were very tame.

Arrangements are being made for the annual rifle competition of the Maryville Rifle Club in a few days. As a great many of the boys have been doing good work at practice some good scores may be expected. Who will take the cup?

Col. H. H. McLean of St. John was in town today on professional business.
