

ABERDEEN MILL LIKELY TO BE REBUILT SOON

Mr. Donald Fraser Likely to Have a Conference With Mayor McLeod Today Upon the Concessions Which the Firm Require from the City—A Switch from the C. P. R. to the Mill Also Required—Good Prospects Ahead.

It can be stated definitely that there is every reason to believe that the Aberdeen Mill will be rebuilt in this city during the coming summer by the firm of Donald Fraser & Sons.

All that the firm wants to proceed with the work is the proper concessions from the city, which will be asked to give fire protection, and an agreement with the C. P. R. to construct a switch from their depot to the mill so as to offer the proper facilities for shipment.

Today Mr. Donald Fraser, sr., is in the city and it is expected that this afternoon he will have a conference with Mayor McLeod on the subject of rebuilding the mill. His Worship being anxious to do everything possible to have the mill rebuilt, feeling that its loss has been a severe blow to the city.

There is a very strong feeling among the people of the city that the Messrs. Fraser should be given every encouragement to rebuild their mill in this city and undoubtedly the City Council will have in mind this great public feeling when the matter comes before them for decision at an early date.

THE ICE MOVED SUNDAY MORNING

And Likely to Go Out at Any Hour—Jam Above Springhill—At Other Points.

The ice in the river in front of this city is expected to run out at any time and when it does go it will pass out very quietly. There is scarcely any blue ice in the river here at all, it being principally slush.

There is a big jam of ice above Springhill, and the tail at Chapel Bar, five or six miles above Springhill. Practically all the ice that was in the river between Springhill and Grand Falls is jamming there and the jam is getting bigger all the time.

The ice in front of the city made its first move on Sunday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock and moved a few yards. Many people were out on the bridges yesterday expecting the ice to make another start but they waited in vain.

The water is considerably below freshet height and is not coming up very rapidly today. Yesterday afternoon at the pumping station the water came up about fourteen inches within an hour but it soon dropped away again.

The ice is reported to be all out of the Nashwaak, Nashwaak and Kennebec rivers.

Just as soon as the ice goes out the St. John River Log Driving Co. will commence stringing the booms at Crook's Point and Lincoln, and no trouble is anticipated in handling the lumber that will come down or in holding the 4 or 5 million feet of lumber in the booms from last season.

Reports from the Miramichi are to the effect that the ice in that river is still solid.

The reports from up-river points today are as follows:

Woodstock—Ice started running here on Friday night and is still running. The river is full of floating ice.

Grand Falls—The ice above the falls and below is still solid.

Edmundston—The ice is solid here and they are still crossing on it.

Bath—The river here is clear of ice.

A telephone message this afternoon from Oronoto says that the ice is still solid there, while another message from Sheffield states that the river is open between Bakers and McGowan's wharves on the Sheffield side of Gilbert's Island but below that there is a jam.

BAD SUNDAY FIRE AT MARYSVILLE

Double Brick Tenement House Owned by Gibson Co. Totally Destroyed—Other Buildings In Danger.

There was a bad fire at Marysville yesterday morning, shortly before noon, which resulted in one of the double brick tenement houses on the west side of the Nashwaak river being totally destroyed, so that now only part of the walls remain standing.

The house was occupied by C. F. Moorehouse and J. A. Spafford, and their families, and was a two and a half story brick structure with two entrances and built for two families. It was comfortably fitted up, as all of the Marysville houses are, and well furnished.

The fire started about 11 o'clock, but it was some time afterwards before it was discovered. The cause of the fire was a defective flue, and as the occupants of the house were down stairs or out at the time, and the fire started in the attic, it was not noticed until it had got such headway that it was impossible to check the progress of the flames.

At the time of the fire a very heavy wind was blowing, and thus the buildings in the range of the wind were very much in danger.

Fortunately, the wind was blowing directly across the Nashwaak river and away from the other buildings in close proximity, or else it might have been that a serious conflagration would have resulted. As it was the sparks and cinders were blown all the way across the river, and in one case they caused a fire to start at one of the white frame cottages on the east side of the river.

The shingle mill and the blacksmith shop on the west bank of the river and down over the hill from the scene of the fire were also in imminent danger of destruction owing to the cinders blowing upon them, and on one or two occasions it seemed certain that the fire would spread.

However, when the fire was pretty well under way the people were coming from the churches and soon there were hundreds of men available. They formed bucket brigades and did salvage work, so that the fire was stopped from spreading and the furniture in the house was practically all saved, although somewhat damaged in being removed from the building.

The building, which was owned by the Alexander Gibson Railway and Manufacturing Company, is a total loss. It was worth about $3,000 and was well insured in the Guardian Insurance Company.

The volunteer fire department, which worked so faithfully and hard at the fire, should be congratulated upon their successful efforts in stopping the fire from spreading to some other buildings.

The Judicature Act.

After all the planning and scheming in regard to the Judicature Act, after two years of work upon it by the ingenious masters of finesse in provincial administration, it is still ineffective. The seventh judge is not to be appointed in New Brunswick this session, as the Dominion Parliament will not provide his salary. There are several new judges provided for in the west this year, so the east must wait. Happily it can do so without injury to the public—St. John Globe, Liberal.

Concert at Marysville.

Preparations are being made at Marysville for an Old Folks concert, which will be given at the Orange Hall on the evening of May 8th by the Young Men's class of the Methodist church Sunday school, assisted by the young lady teachers and the young ladies of the Sunday school. The entertainment promises to be one of the best local attractions ever offered at Marysville.
