OVERDRAFTS.

Mayor Stewart is doing exactly this year what he did last year—laying down the law to the chairmen of committees that no irregular payments of money should be made and that the committees must keep within their appropriations, whatever they may be. That force has been played over and over again for years back with the same result. No attention is paid to the yearly lecture. The committees go on spending their money until it is all gone, and then they go on spending more they have not got. As the months pass, the mayor forgets about his admonition and promises and the finance minister weakly assents to the expenditure of money that has to be borrowed from the bank. The Council, helpless and apathetic, looks on, and sees overdraft after overdraft heaped up. The citizens also look on and wonder that men who call themselves business men should transact the city's business in such an unbusinesslike way. Why do they do it? Do they save money by this method? Does the city benefit in any way by piling up these overdrafts? We fail to see where it can. If the money is borrowed the city has to pay for the use of it, and if enough of taxes are not collected to pay the expenditure it has to be paid in some other way. It is said that a higher tax will keep manufacturers from the city, and that a lower tax will bring them here. But manufacturers are not fools. They can tell if a city is paying its way or piling up a load of debt which will hang around its neck like a millstone, and keep them busy helping to pay it off after they come here. We have just one fear in this connection, and that is, that even if the tax rate was raised we would have the same old overdraft at the end of the year. An effort has been made to minimize last year's overdraft by deducting from it the over expenditure of the independent boards. But then, why not allow for the surpluses from other quarters.

A CLEAR WASTE.

In the House of Commons a striking illustration of the uselessness and costliness to the country of the foolish course being pursued by the Opposition in regard to public documents required when referring to a motion by Mr. LeFurgey for a return showing all Public Works expenditure in Prince Edward Island and in Prince county from 1873 to 1907—a motion involving an immense amount of work, while it could as well be obtained by any member from the printed Parliamentary reports. Mr. Pugsley deprecated this objectionable and unnecessary practice, and pointed out that the leader of the Opposition had last session asked for a return which involved about 1,000 typewritten pages. He desired to give the Opposition leader the fullest latitude, but he thought that when the information could be got from the published official reports, he might have refrained from loading such work on the staff and placing extra expense on the country. In the present case he complied with Mr. Borden's request and placed the 1,000-page return before him. To the astonishment of the House, no doubt, Mr. Borden, in excusing himself for the course Hon. Mr. Pugsley commended, declared that he "hardly recalled" asking for the return! That shows how recklessly the Opposition add to the work and expense of the House and the departments.

FATAL FOOTBALL.

According to the London Lancet, football in England had on November 15th been causative of six deaths and the disablement of sixty other persons at the Association game alone. The season was then but a few weeks advanced, and it does not end till the last of March, so that if the ratio of the early weeks is continued the record will be a startling one when it closes. It would seem that such a game might be capable of some changes in the direction of moderation in this civilized age. Football must be strenuous, but it does not need to be murderous. English papers are disposed to charge some of the blame for the abuses of the game to the fact that it is almost altogether in the hands of professional players, who, says the Lancet "are all the time out for the money. If a club cannot uphold its reputation it loses its grip upon the public and ceases to be a money-making concern. Thus the premium placed upon winning is very great, and the temptation becomes proportionately urgent among the players to resort to measures which do not come within the range of legitimate sport."

And now, perhaps we shall learn something of the truth of the situation regarding the British Columbia Cabinet and Lieut. Gov. Dunsmuir, if Premier McBride's Cabinet did not give His Honor the tip to refuse his signature to that demagogic measure the doctored or botched "Natal Act," then they should promptly have resigned their portfolios; if they were responsible for the Lieutenant-Governor's course in that matter they have acted a very unmanly part. There is a constitutional question here which is vastly bigger than the small men of the McBride type or the petty legislation with which they have been playing, and the public will be pleased to see light shed upon the facts connected therewith.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mayor Stewart has not yet bought his trip-round-the-world ticket.

The Liberal Club rooms are real cozy these evenings. 'Are you a member?'

February is throwing in an extra day this year to show that, if it be cold, it is not stingy.

The Legislature opened to-day with Mr. Whitney in the leading role. There was a full House.

The hundred thousand population boom appears to have been lost sight of during the cold snap.

Harry Thaw's lawyers proved at his trial that he was insane. They will now endeavor to show that he is sane.

Ottawa has a set of professional jurymen, who serve on most of the Coroners' quests. They should get unionized.

Some would-be aldermen are patiently waiting to see if the city wards are to be redistributed before starting out on their canvasses.

It is some weeks now since there has been a death from sunstroke in this city. But people should be careful not to over-heat themselves.

The school trustees and the male teachers of Stratford recently dined together. The lady teachers didn't even have a "look in."

You will notice that Mr. Zimmerman is insisting on Hamilton's interests being protected. But Mr. Barker is too busy with the muck rake to take any notice.

Mr. Gibson is very accommodating. He is willing to agree to any arrangement the Dominion and Province may come to regarding electric roads. But he objects to the Radial being made a seapeagat.

The Society for the Prevention of the Desecration of the Landscape, if there be such a society, should come to the assistance of the Wentworth County Council in its efforts to get rid of the bill-board monstrosity. No man has any right to disfigure the natural beauty of the country by such a means.

The Mail and Empire's method of manufacturing scandals is illustrated in the case of Mr. Turfiff, M. P. It devoted five columns to insinuations and innuendoes against that gentleman, and disposed of his very full and satisfactory reply in twenty-five lines, omitting therefrom every point made by Mr. Turfiff. That's journalistic fairness.

According to the contentions of the anti-Radial Torontonians, any municipality should be free to hold up an inter-provincial railway that may be operated by electricity, and forbid it to even cross highways within its boundaries, save by purchasing its permission. Isn't that carrying the worship of municipal rule to an extreme degree? If some municipal swelled heads are not furnished with iron bands soon they may burst.

There does not seem to be much mystery about the hardship experienced in Toronto. Dr. Sheard says 75 per cent. of the unemployed, relieved by way of snow-shovelling employment by his department, had not been in the city three months, and most of them probably not that time in the country. He declares that they are quite unfit for our climate or work, and that ten of his regular men can do as much as 100 of them.

What would become of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reputation in this country if he hadn't the Hamilton Times to stand by his side and interpose its shield between him and his defamers?—Herald.

It appears to annoy the junior local Tory organ that the Times should expose its eager efforts to misrepresent the Premier, and charge him with deliberate misstatement on the floor of the House. Well, it should not place itself in such a humiliating position.

The Toronto Globe has raised by public subscription almost $10,000 for the relief of the suffering immigrants who are housed in shacks in the outskirts of that city. These people have not been able to save enough money to keep the wolf from the door during the reign of a Canadian winter, and they have suffered severely from want of proper food, scarcity of coal and clothing, and the houses in many cases are mere shells. A band of philanthropic people is helping the Globe to provide for them. It is a good work, and our contemporary deserves commendation for what it has done and is doing in their behalf.

The Winnipeg Telegram is delighted at the prospect of a new "grievance" against the Laurier Government. It has been demanding that the boundaries of Manitoba be extended and, to its great regret, it has become convinced that the Dominion Government has in view such a distribution of the territory to the north and east of Manitoba as will greatly increase the Province's area. But the Telegram is not easily daunted, and it has succeeded in finding a peg on which to hang its much desired "grievance," and it is now exploiting it. It consists in no less a matter than that, as a consequence of the enlargement of her territory, the Province will have a greater area to govern. How ingenious! What sweet reasonableness!

The fact that the London Times pays a generous compliment to Hon. Mr. LeMieux for his services in the matter of Japanese immigration, bringing to a successful cessful issue negotiations of much delicacy, will not tend to reconcile the Tory organs to the situation. They had made haste to anticipate his return by announcements of the failure of his mission and it will be gall and wormwood to them to read this tribute of the great organ of British opinion. The common sense of the people of Canada will approve the judgment of the London Times, which is that a satisfactory result has been reached, and that throughout the entire matter the attitude of the Canadian Government has been a correct one, statesmanlike, calm and dignified.

Mayor Stewart says that the city must either adopt the local improvement plan, or resort to some system of borrowing money for road work and other improvements. This local improvement plan is in great favor with the spenders in municipal life. It simply means that people who have been taxed to pay for their share of the improvements all over the city would now be taxed again to pay for the whole cost of the improvements fronting their properties. It offers nothing by way of economy; it is a scheme hard to make equitable; the one feature which commends it to its advocates is that it gives them greater power, and more money to spend. Has it ever occurred to Mayor Stewart that if many of the kite-flying schemes imposed on the city by the spenders were cut out, and the money devoted to street and other improvements, the money problem would be less acute?

The Opposition in the Commons made a great ado the other day because a demand by Ames of Montreal for original documents from the files was not acceded to. After they had been as noisy, and abusive as they could well be, they discovered that they had not complied with the very wise rule that a member wishing to have an original document brought down, should state the reason on which his motion was founded. As soon as Mr. Ames complied with this, his request was granted. Hon. Mr. Foster became quite nasty during the debate and was properly called down by Hon. Mr. Oliver, who said that he (Foster) had two years ago obtained some original documents from the Interior Department, and up till the present time he had not returned them. Mr. Foster was forced to admit his abuse of this privilege, and promise to try to find and return the missing documents.

The following opinion on the "hard times" in Canada is from the Winnipeg Telegram, a Tory organ, and is commended to the attention of the Hamilton Spectator, which expresses a regret that an effort has not been made by the party press generally to turn them to partisan account:

It is an indication of the fact that, while the financial crisis in the United States began in the speculative markets, it speedily became so acute as to seriously affect the production and interchange of commodities; in Canada it was limited entirely to speculation, and was not permitted to extend any further. It is impossible to understand what other inference could be drawn from the figures of the gross earnings of our railways. The prices of town lots and of shares do not affect the earnings of a railway company, and, as the earnings of our railways were not affected, the financial stringency in Canada must have been largely confined to the prices of town lots and of shares.

OUR EXCHANGES

Harry's Ticket. (Belleville Intelligencer.) Mr. Harry Corby dropped into the Intelligence office to-day to ask a tick for the Charity Concert on Friday evening, paying $9 therefor.

Socialism

(Goldwin Smith.) Socialism proper is a benevolent dream of universal fraternity, to be regarded with sympathy and respect, and to be carried out under the actual conditions of humanity.

Silent Now

(Cleveland Leader.) "Do you believe that men and women should have equal rights?" "Well—I used to think I've been married I don't dare to say so."

Fine Weather

(Saskatoon Phoenix.) The air has been clear and bracing through out and a healthier and more stimulating climate could not be imagined. It is a pleasure to be out of doors and women and children move around with utter freedom, as if it were summer time of fall.

Facetious Conductor

(The Argonaut.) At the railway train was stopping, an old lady, not accustomed to travelling, hailed the passing conductor and asked: "Conductor, what do you call a tick?" "Rittler, doc, ma'am," graciously answered the conductor. "The car stops at both ends."

The Leader

(Toronto Mail and Empire.) Mayor Stewart, of Hamilton, says that his city cannot deal with the hydro-electric power business it has on its hands until Toronto's civic government decides what action it will take. Toronto is looked upon as the leader of the municipalities to the Beck power policy.

Three Helpings

(London Advertiser.) A strange case has been made out for official inquiry, it is said to be a woman who has already undertaken the work and will submit a report to the Legislature. Previous references to the case, as by the Hamilton Times, have not been favorable, and it may be doubted whether that body is capable of approaching the question the question with an open mind.

Desjardins Bridge

(From the Toronto Globe of Feb. 5, 1908.) The new bridge over the Desjardins Canal near Hamilton is very nearly ready for the public. It will be opened in a day or two, all that remains to be done being the laying down of a portion of the oak planks for the road way. The new structure presents a substantial appearance; many of the timbers are very heavy. It is built on the Howe truss principle, and occupies exactly the same place as did the suspension bridge there a year ago last summer.

Watching the Ads.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.) A proud young father announced in the papers the other day the birth of a son. Since then he has received thirteen sample tins of infants' food, twenty-four advertisements of infant cradles, seven cases of assorted brands of condensed milk, eleven boxes of powder, prospectuses of thirteen kinds of feeding bottles and tansum.

erable samples of safety pins, rubber bibs, and a host of other articles. The father has also been visited by three book agents, selling various books, and by a man who offers to insure the child's life on certain new lines, and six salesmen for infants' outfitting boxes.

Beat the States

(N. Y. Sun.) The significance of the figures quoted here in our last issue, that the Government of the United States, a nation with un-surpassed resources in men, money and material, is outdone in the foreign markets by its competitors, England exports $500,000,000 worth of manufactured goods a year. Our sales last year were about $15,000,000. Germany leaves us far behind in many lines, in goods in general, in chemicals, drugs and dyes, in leather and leather goods, and even in sales of cotton goods made from American cotton.

WINTER WINDS.

What way way does the wind come? What way does it go? The following poem, from the snow, through wood and through vale, and over rocky heights, while the great cannot climb, takes its sounding flight.

He will suddenly stop in a cunning nook, And ring a sharp "larum"—but if you follow, he will be gone, and you will be left with a cold and a cough. There's nothing to see but a cushion of snow, Round as a pillow and whiter than milk, And where the foot cannot tread, and the hand cannot grasp. As soon as 'tis daylight to-morrow with me, You shall go to the orchard, and there you shall see That he has been there and made a great row. And cracked the branches and strewn them about. Heaven grant that he spare but that one upright twig. That look up at the sky so proud and so big. All summer, as well you know, Studded with apples, a beautiful show. W. Wordsworth.

FOUND CUTICURA INDISPENSABLE

For Her Children—Little Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema Which Simply Covered Back of Heads—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too.

ALL PROMPTLY CURED BY "WONDERFUL OINTMENT"

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads, which were simply covered. Before I read of Cuticura, I used to try almost everything, but they failed. Then my mother recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment. I did this four or five times and I can say that they have been entirely cured. I have another baby who is no plump child, but the folds of skin on his neck were broken and even cut. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. I am using the Cuticura Remedies yet whenever any of my family have any sore skin, I can't find its equal. Mrs. Napoleon Desjardins, 41 DuRoi St., Montreal, Que., May 21, 1907."

PAINFUL ULCER

On Foot for a Year. Healed by Two Sets of Cuticura

"I had an ulcer on my foot for a year or more and it was very painful as it was a running sore. I had a doctor, but his treatment did not heal it. About eight months ago I commenced to use Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. I used two sets and was cured. Mrs. E. F. Ryder, West Brewer, Mass., April 29, 1907."

QUEEN AMELIE UPBRAIDS FRANCO.

HE ALONE THE CAUSE OF ALL THAT HAD HAPPENED.

Innocent Man Killed in Mistake for Assassin—No Time for Tears—One Assassin a School Teacher—King Too Courageous—To Convene Parliament.

San Sebastian, Spain, Feb. 5.—The newspaper Voz de Guipuzcoa prints a despatch from Lisbon to the effect that when Franco presented himself before the Queen after the assassination she cried:

"It is you alone who are the cause of all that has happened and I dare not trust myself to speak to you."

She turned her back on him unheeding the justification he sought to offer.

Killed Innocent Man. Paris, Feb. 5.—A special despatch from Lisbon says that it would now appear that the man Costa, who was killed as one of the assassins of the King, was innocent. According to the account, he was employed by a jeweler in Arsenal street, who swears that he was despatched to purchase some postage stamps at the time the royal carriage was passing; that being the sole reason he was among the crowd.

He became involved in the general stampede and was shot down by a stray bullet.

No Time for Tears. Lisbon, Feb. 5.—Queen Amelie receives only her very closest intimates friends, but made an exception in favor of the wife of the Foreign Minister. The latter remarked that her eyes were dry.

"We have no time for tears," replied the queen, "I am a daughter of France."

The arrival of her mother-in-law is expected to be a great solace to her.

The last of the regicides were identified yesterday as a school teacher. He had an abundance of heavy chestnut hair and beard and a high broad brow and was plainly the master mind. He looked the typical dresser and it was easy to imagine how the other two men, ordinary workmen of the lower class in dress and appearance, under the fire of his words believed in the ridding of the country of tyrants.

King Carlos was the victim of his own imprudent courage. Premier Franco had arranged a military escort, but the King disclaimed to meet his people surrounded by armed guards. Instead he telegraphed to Franco to have open carriages in waiting and no troops. The Premier, who knew the people better than the King, is blamed for not insisting on his arrangement.

The Dowager Queen, who was at Lisbon, urgently advised the King against returning to that city and when he insisted, she telegraphed to him at Villa Vicosa that if he came to come alone.

To Call Parliament. Lisbon, Feb. 5.—There is no truth in the rumor current in Berlin yesterday that an attempt had been made upon the life of the Minister of War in the first Cabinet announced, Jose Matias Nunes.

The new Cabinet, at its initial session, decided to order elections and to convene Parliament at the earliest possible date. Franco has officially announced his retirement from politics, but his followers will attempt to continue the party he organized.

LATE ROLAND HILLS.

Funeral Took Place at Toronto Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Roland Hills, Secretary of the Canada Life Assurance Company, was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence, Spadina Gardens, and was largely attended, a number of the directors and officials of the Canada Life attending.

The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wallace, pastor of Bloor Street Presbyterian Church Toronto, assisted by Rev. Dr. Lytle, of this city. The interment took place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The honorary pall-bearers were chosen from his old associates in the head office of the company, and included: W. T. Ramsay, A. Gillespie, G. D. Burns, C. W. Ricketts, J. McMaster, A. E. Perrie, C. CONCENTRATION OF TURKISH TROOPS.

RUSSIANS IN THE CAUCASUS ALARMED OVER MOVE.

Reply to any Movement on the Part of Russia—Turkey Massing Troops at Bayazet—Turks Could Sweep the Caucasus in Ten Days.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 5.—Recent advices received from the Caucasus indicate that the Russian inhabitants are considerably alarmed over the concentration of Turkish troops in Armenia and the region seized from Persia, which, it is believed, is designed as a reply to any attempt at demonstration on the part of Russia.

Under the cover of Kurdish tribesmen the Turks are reported to be massing infantry at Bayazet and other strategic points near the frontier in such strength as to dispose of the probabilities that the movement is intended solely against non-militant Persia.

Russia now only has two army corps in the Caucasus, a large part of which is dispersed in detachments through the country to preserve order or engage in punitive expeditions. An officer is quoted as saying that the Turks could in case of trouble sweep the Caucasus and occupy Tiflis in ten days.

Turkish emissaries and spies, it is stated, are to be found everywhere, fomenting disorder, and the Moslem inhabitants, particularly Daghestan, are in open sympathy with their co-religionists across the border.

The authorities here, although admitting the seriousness of the Russo-Persian relations, do not share the alarmist views held in the Caucasus, and declare that the possibilities of hostilities with Turkey, even if the Russians there are panicky, is utterly excluded. Certain precautionary measures, however, are being taken by the military council, and during the past three weeks all regiments in that territory have been notified to hold themselves in readiness to move at short notice.

Mrs. E. Chute, of Stratford, lately deceased, has left a bequest of $300 to the Stratford Baptist Church, and $6,000 to Baptist home and foreign missions. Two sons, Rev. J. E. Chute and Rev. Elbert Chute, of the Canadian and American Baptist Boards, respectively, are both missionaries in the Telugu field, India.
