CITY COUNCIL AND EDUCATION BOARD.

Looks Like Strained Relations Over Responsibility For Increased Tax Rate.

crease the tax rate this year unless a Finance Committee of the Board of Education to restore the school fees in the Public Schools to the old figure is acted Board cut the fees in half and talked of abolishing them entirely later on. If the tax rate must be raised it looks as if the Council and the School Board will have a lively inttle mix-up. Mayor Mc-Laren, who appeared with Chairman Per-egrine, the city's Finance Chairman, be-fore the Finance Committee of the Board yesterday, when the estimates were be-ing considered, told the truscees that if the city had to raise the rate it would be obliged to let the people know that the Board of Education was responsible for it. After the Mayor and Ald. Pere grine left the trustees discussed this point, and they agreed to take a very decided stand if the city attempted to make them shoulder the responsibility.

The city may find it necessary to increase the tax rate this year unless a recommendation made yesterday by the Finance Committee of the Board of Education to restore the school fees in the Public Schools to the old figure is acted apon by the trustees. Last year the Board cut the fees in half and talked of Abolishing them entirely later on. If the between the leaders of the temperance and liquor people, and after considering the points on both sides the Councillors decided that such a reduction would prove a detriment to the community and not an advantage, and so gave a unanimous decision in favor of the liquor men. Ald. Thomas S. Morris upheld the temperance side of the question, and asked for a reduction of two licenses. He said that it was a question of morals, and that morals were more important than the looking "firer of good roads, etc. He informed them that they had the power to make such reduction, as the statutes definitely stated. Among other things Mr. Morris pointed out that the liquor question had been a burning issue for the past thirty years, and would continue to be until it was properly adjusted. He was in favor of legitimate hotels, but was against the barroom and the sale of an article that was injurious to mankind.

of an article that was injurious to mankind.

Rev. Cyril Dyson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Crown Point, thought that five 'sotels were too many for the needs of the township.

Mr. W. F. Coote called the attention of the Council to the fact that many of the large industries in the United States were out working for prohibition, and would not under any conditions employ a man who drank. "If these people found liquor injurious to their business it stands to reason." he said, "that it has the same effect, even if on a smaller scale, in the township."

Webber Bessey, proprietor of the Mountain View Hotel, in speaking for his own interests, said that he had spent large sums of money in fitting up his

"The country hotelkeepers often come in for censure when they do not deserve it," said County Constable Williams, "Men get drunk in Hamilton and then wander out in the country to sleep their jags off. They are seen in this condition and the country hotelkeeper is blamed for supplying them with liquor."

Mr. Morris again took the floor and remarked that of all that had been said in favor of the hotelkeeper no one had said a word to unhold the bar.

In answer to this Mr. Bessey said that it was impossible to run an up-to-date it was impossible to run an up-to-date.
