CHINA-A WOMAN IN CHINA.

I have been many times impressed with the utter helplessness of a Chinese woman. Life to her is indeed a lottery. True, one self-some happy faces, but al depends on where her lot is cast for her. She has little to say the lot is cast for her.

Col. P. T. Chinn announced that he would ship his entire stable from here to Windsor on Saturday. He will leave himself for Kentucky on that day to look over the yearlings and brood mares that he has quartered at his farm. He concluded negotiations by wire this morning for the Stallion Peter Quince, by Commando-Fair Vision, which he purchased from S. C. Hildreth. Peter Quince will be shipped to Kentucky some day next week. Col. Chinn has been extremely successful during the fall meetings in Canada and has succeeded in putting over several big coups. He made thirty-five entremon, and informed the club's representative, Mr. H. F. Brievogle, that he would ship forty horses to the Mexican course next month.

A good card at seven races is on for this afternoon.

The above is the list of football games scheduled to take place tomorrow in the junior series and it should prove to be the banner day of the years. While the opening day was not up to expectations the games on Saturday should more than make up for the poor start. The teams have now got down to real hard practice and are in the best possible condition with the result that some real classy football will take place. While a few of the team got off to a bad start last Saturday when they were completely outclassed by opponents who were in the best-shape, they are by no means discouraged, and with new players equal to any in their class, the teams are bound to be evenly matched. Those who think it worth while to witness the contests will certainly not see one sided scores.

Methodist will clash with St. Patrick's, vho are billed to make their debut. The Irishmen have been practicing lately under hte direction of Bob Revel and are sure to be well up in the fine points of the game. While the game put up by First Methodist against the Ascensions last Saturday puts them in a class by themselves. A large crowd is sure to be on hand.

The representatives of the different teams in the Junior Church League held an interesting session last evening at J. W. Nelson's store, when the protest filed by the Y.M.C.A. acainst the Erskines, claiming that the referee was incompetent, came up. After a lengthy discussion the league backed their officials by throwing out the protest.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP AND EXCHANGES

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—It is rumored that the Ottawa Football Club will make an unexpected change on its back division before Saturday's big struggle against the Tigers takes place. Nick Bawlf has not shown any real form at full-back, while Gordon Johnstone, the champion Canadian swimmer, has been doing such brilliant work at full for the intermediates that the executive is debating the desirability of switching them over for the Tiger game. Bawlf is not yet in shape. Martin Kilt has established himself at quarter, and Canvey will remain at right outside wing. Otherwise the team will be the same as that given yesterday.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The Argonauts put in their final work-out last night for their games with Montreal here to-morthly and the same as that which will be used in to-mortow's game. Most of the men have been playing the positions regularly and have therefore had a good chance to work up some fine team play among themselves.

Tonight the team will have a signal practice, when all players are requested to be on hand. The reserved seat plan at 189 Yonge street had a large sale yesterday and everything points to a large attendance.

James Hatfield Coming to Canada to Avoid It.

Aged Warrior Seeks Land of Peace Far From Old Home.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 8.—James H. Hattfield, of Cynthiana, Ky., one of the last survivors of the notorious Hatfield. McCoy feud of the mountain district of eastern Kentucky, is fleeing from bullets that have begun to whiz again.

This fact developed to-day in Minneapolis, where he was seen while on his way to a far-off land, thousands of miles from the hated McCoys.

"I held out the little grocery store in Cynthiana," Hatfield said, "and left enough money with the old woman and children to keep them, but I am going far away from Kentucky—to British Columbia—to tegin life all over again.

"The reason I am leaving my native State, never to return, is that the feud we thought all over years ago, when most of the Hatfields and most of the McCoys had been killed by each other, is on again. Jim McCoy has just shot to death another Hatfield, a distant relative of mine. My woman couldn't sleep over set for fear, that I would be the never

UNGRAMMATICAL.

An Objection to California's Anti-Race Track Bill.

Sau Francisco, Oct. 8.—The closing brief of former Judge Carroll, submitted in the District Court yesterday in behalf of Frank O'Shea, whose trial is a test case, of the anti-race track bill, enacted at the last session of the legislature attacks the bill on the novel grounds that it is ungrammatical. The first charge is that one sentence in the act is thirty lines in length and so involved and complex as to be unintelligible and the second alleges discrimination in favor of a man with a good memory, since only men using books, papers, etc., in taking bets are barred by the new law.

RATTLESNAKE OINTMENT.

Made by Chinese Physicians as Cure for Rheumatism.

(San Francisco Chronicle.) Rattlesnake ointment is regarded by the Chinese physicians as such a sure cure for rheumatism and similar commoct of the Hatfields and most of the McCoys had been killed by each other, is on again. Jim McCoy has just shot to death another Hatfield, a distant relative of mine. My woman couldn't sleep nor eat for fear that I would be the next to be killed or that I would kill some McCoy who tried to kill me. So at 67 years of age I am on my way to make a new home for my family.

"The McCoys won't kill women or children any more than the Hatfields would kill women and children. It was just a few weeks ago that Jim McCoy up and shot a Hatfield. He didn't give him a chance to defend himself; just shot him in the back and killed him.

"The Hatfields and McCoys began oiling up their guns, and I left. There will be a lot more bloodshed down there in that feud, but none of it will be mine.

"It's going to be just like it was twenty years ago, when old 'Bad Anse' went to court at the county seat and carried a grip loaded with six shooters, I tell you, it's hard on the women folks, this killing."

of air after a few hours' confinement. However, it is left in the bottom of the jar, completely immersed in alcohol, for at least six months. At the end of that period the alcohol is carefully removed from the par and after slight dilution with another substance is placed on the market as a sure cure for rheumatism. At Chinese drug stores its price is dear. However, little difficulty is encountered in placing the rattler in the jar, a great amount of dexterity is necessary to escape its fangs, for the fatigue of the journey has made it extremely victious, nd it strikes at any object. In order to prevent it from striking a noose is fastened over its head by the Chinese pharmacist, who after being assured that the fangs are under his control takes the snake in his hands and places it in the receptacle.

A top is then placed on the jar and the string severed. So great is the demand for rattlesnakes in Chinatown and so profitable is the market that other policemen who contemplate a vacation are said to be studying the map in order to discover likely habitations of the rattler.

Finger-Prints Never Fail.

Finger-Prints Never Fail.

Although sears from wounds and ulcers freugently partly destroy the pattern folds, such disfigurements are more often than otherwise aids to identification. When the system of finger prints was first introduced at police head-quarters in New York, a lieutenant in one of the administrative departments tried to discredit it. He had an experimental print made of the tip of a finger, and a short time afterward asked to have the same finger reprinted. He had meantime ground down the skin of this finger on a grindstone until the blood almost flowed. Nevertheless, the pattern form was more accurately disclosed in the second printing than in the first. Once the record has been made, nothing has yet been discovered to invalidate it.—From Charles Brewer's "Finger-Prints" in the October Century.

All you have to do to make a man i sist upon eating anything is to tell hi it isn't good for him.—New York Pre-

New York, Oct. 8.— The postponement of the Ketchel-Johnson fight from Oct. 12 to Oct. 16, as announced in San Francisco Monday, will not have any effect, it is said, on the local betting. In delaying the match until Saturday instead of having it on a Tuesday, it is believed Promoter Coffroth sees fore money in sight on the later date.

The delay is considered good news for the supporters of Stanley Ketchel, who has been forced to train for the battle in a remarkably short time. This will give him four additional days in which to prepare for his heavier antagonist. As soon as the Langford fight was called off in this city Ketchel was anxious to have his fight with Johnson postponed until Oct. 21, to which meither Johnson nor Coffroth would consent, so now the delay of even a few days is considered favorable for Ketchel.

James J. Corbett, while hoping that Ketchel wins, expresses the fear that the negro is too big and clever for him. Tommy Ryan, former middleweight champion of the world, cites the fact that Fitzsimmons weighed only 156 pounds when he beat Corbett and that Sharkey was nearly forty pounds lighter than Jeffries when they met at Coney Island. Therefore Ryan believes that Johnson should not hold Ketchell too lightly because the latter is under weight.
