DOMINION DAY.

How it Was Celebrated in Fredericton.

THE BICYCLE AND HORSE RACES AT THE PARK.

Dominion day as it comes around, year after year, finds Fredericton always ready

This season of the year finds the celestial at its best; the gardens and lawns are in full foliage, the streets have been cleaned and repaired, most of the house painting has been done and the best appearance of the town may be seen on Dominion day. From early morning till noon the various oads from the country were thronged with vehicles. It is a feature of American Civilization that few go afoot. The highway bridge was crowded and the opening of the draw for but a few minutes caused quite a commotion. All the chief business houses had closed their shutters and the proprietors with their wives and families took advan-
