ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD

Our Own Saint Rose

On August 30 the Church celebrates the feast of America's own Saint, the Virgin Rose of Lima. The child of predestination was marked from her infancy with miraculous gifts and favors. The flowers themselves recognized her as their queen and to do her homage blossomed out of season. The trees bent down their branches to her, and even the insects formed themselves into choirs, while the birds vied with her in celebrating the praises of their common Master. She beautifully makes pray upon the names of her parents when she would sing: "O my Jesus, who beautiful Thou art among the olives and the flowers, and Thou dost not disdain Thy Rose!" She was the daughter of Gaspar Flores and Maria Oliva.

In the Bull of canonization, Clement X relates how one day when Rose was very ill the infant Jesus appeared and played with her. He taught her in a manner suitable to her tender age the value and the advantages of suffering. He left her full of joy and endowed her with an heroic love of the Cross. In legend we learn how far the Saint carried out in her rigorous penances the lesson that she had learned from the infant Jesus Himself. When some one exhorted her to courage in the super-human agonies of her last illness, she replied: "All I ask of my Spouse is that He will not cease to burn me with the most scorching heat till I become a ripe fruit that He will deign to cull from this earth for His Heavenly home."

EARLY DEATH.

They tried to assure her that she would go straight to Heaven and her answer well expressed her character. "I have a Spouse. Who will do all that is greatest, and Who possesses all that is rarest, and am I to expect only little things from Him?" When only thirty one years of age, at midnight on the Feast of Saint Bartholomew, in the year 1617, she received her reward and heard the cry: "Behold, the Bridegroom cometh!" Not only in Peru but throughout the whole of the Americas prodigies of conversion and miracles signaled the death of this humble Virgin who had been hitherto very little known. The Sovereign Pontiff in the Bull of canonization, said: "It has been judicially proved that, since the discovery of Peru, no missionary has been known to obtain so universal a moment of repentance." The Liturgy of the Church gives us this beautiful account of her saintly life.

"The first flower of sanctity that blossomed in South America, the Virgin Rose, was born of Christian parents at Lima. From her very cradle she gave clear signs of her future holiness. Her baby face appeared one day changed in a wonderful way into the image of a rose, and from this circumstance she was called Rose. Later on the Virgin Mother of God gave her also her own name, bidding her to be called thenceforward Rose of St. Mary. At five years of age she made a vow of perpetual virginity, and when she grew older, fearing her parents would compel her to marry, she secretly cut off her hair which was very beautiful. Her fasts exceeded the strength of human nature. She would pass whole Lent without eating bread, living on five grains of a citron a day.

PENANCE AND SUFFERING. "She took the habit of the Third Order of St. Dominic and after that redoubled her austerities. Her long and rough hair-shirt was armed with steel points, and day and night she wore under a veil a crown studded in side with sharp nails. Following the arduous example of Saint Catherine of Siena, she wound an iron chain three times round her waist, and made herself a bed of the knotty trunks of trees, filling the vacant spaces between persons in various parts of them with potshards. She built France, by all of whom it was herself a narrow little cell in a distant corner of the garden and there devoted herself to the contemplation of heavenly things, subduing her feeble body by iron disciplines, fasting and watching. Thus she grew strong in spirit, and continually overcame the devils, spurning and dispelling their deceptions. "Though she suffered greatly from severe illness, from the iron disciplines, fasting and watching, she would say that she was not treated so badly as she deserved. During fifteen years, she suffered for several hours a day terrible desolation and dryness of spirit, but she bore this suffering worse than death itself, with undaunted courage. After that period, she was given an abundance of heavenly delights, she was honored with visions, and felt her heart melting with seraphic love. Her Angel-Guardian, Saint Catherine of Siena and our Lady used often to appear to her with wonderful familiarity. She was privileged to hear these words from our Lord: "Rose of My Heart, be thou My bride." At length she was happily introduced into the paradise of her Spouse, and being famous for miracles both before and after her death, Pope Clement X solemnly enrolled her among the Holy virgins."

HALF THE ILLS OF LIFE ARE CAUSED BY CONSTIPATION.

When the bowels become constipated, the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follows the violent sick headaches, sourness of the stomach, belching of wind, heartburn, water brash, biliousness, etc.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They will clear away all the effects and poisonous matter which has collected in the system, give you a free, easy and natural motion of the bowels every day, start the sluggish liver working, and give tone and vitality to the whole intestinal tract.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Priest Harvesters.

Priests and Brothers of the Holy Cross at Notre Dame University, Indiana, got out into the harvest fields during one of the hottest spells of weather ever known in northern Indiana, to help save the bumper crops of wheat, rye, oats and hay, raised by Brother Leo, C. S. C., head farmer at Notre Dame.

A coincidence was that the 1918 crop of rye measured just 1918 bushels. One field of oats produced 93 bushels per acre which breaks the record for the territory in which Notre Dame is situated.

The object of the vow is to obtain money for the basilica, and for this purpose the smallest offerings will be accepted. The end of the vow is the establishment of the reign of Christ upon this earth; and therefore it is the making of the vow itself which is all important, for it is an act of religion and sacrifice which will draw down the blessing of heaven.

Money is needed for the basilica, but though this is necessary, it is less important than an immense number of associates united around the Heart of Jesus in one same act of faith and of reparation in order to obtain speedy help from God, to put an end to the miseries from which the world is suffering.

Tickets of enrollment and instructions on the devotion may be obtained from the Convent of the Visitation, Harrow-on-the-Hill, Middlesex, England.

Looking Backward

Cardinal Gibbons has this beautiful retrospect of fifty years:

"I have lived a long time, and I have lived through a very critical time. Not only have I held office many years, but I have held office during a time of transition, when the old order was changed.

"I am the last living Father of the Vatican Council. Now, alone upon this earth, I can report what happened within those sacred walls—not by hearsay, nor from books, but from what I actually saw and heard.

"There are a few Americans living now who can remember the things which I can. I followed Mr. Lincoln's dead body in procession when it was brought to the city; I have seen every President, since his death, and have known most of them personally; I was a crown man and a priest during the Civil War, when it seemed as if our country were to be permanently divided.

"Very few people now living have seen the country in such distress as I have seen it. But I have lived, thank God, to see it in wonderful prosperity and to behold it grown into one of the great powers of the earth. Younger men may tremble for the future of this country, but I can have nothing but hope when I think what we have already passed through, for I can see no troubles in the future which could equal, much less surpass, those which have afflicted us in bygone days.

"If only the American people will hold fast to that instrument which has been bequeathed to them as the palladium of their liberties—the Constitution of the United States—and fear and distrust the man who would touch that ark with profane hands, the permanence of our institution is assured."

PIMPLES AND RUNNING SORES. WOULD HOLD HEAD DOWN FACE WAS SUCH A SIGHT.

Pimples are caused by the blood being out of order. Those festering and running sores appear on the forehead, the nose, the chin and other parts of the body.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing by the use of that grand old blood purifier Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Victor G. Fry, North Battleford, Sask., writes: "I used Burdock Blood Bitters when I was about 18. I was so bad with pimples and running sores, that when I went down town I would hold my head down when I saw anyone coming, my face was such a sight. I got two bottles and my face began to clear, so I kept on until I had a beautiful complexion.

I recommend it to everyone who is in a rundown condition, as it builds up the blood, and when the blood is all the face is clear."
