"IT'S MINE."

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Once upon a time a very self-centered, cold-hearted, wicked old woman died and went straight to the place, call it what you will, to which people go. Now, in the midst of her suffering, this woman looked up and seeing an angel in Heaven.

(I don't personally understand how the architecture of the place to which such people go would make that possible, but I am simply relating an old, old story as it was told to me), cried out to him and begged him to get her out somehow. Evidently the angel had a tender heart, for he told her he would see what he could do. Then he asked her if she had ever done any kind act. This was a poser for the self-centered old woman, but after racking her memory for a long time, she remembered triumphantly that she had once given away a carrot to some poor starving creature.

At this the angel disappeared and came back a few minutes later with a huge carrot which he let down to the woman. "Take hold of it," he said to her, "and I will lift you out of it." The woman did so, and the carrot did not break, but by this time a crowd of other miserable creatures had gathered about her, and as they saw her being lifted up toward Heaven, they frantically seized hold of her skirts, hoping to be lifted up too. And they were. Up toward Heaven went the carrot, and the selfish old woman with a long train of miserable creatures

FOR THE WOMAN WHO THINKS AND FEELS.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life, due to abnormal conditions in life, such as over-exertion, over-taxed strength, bad air, poor or improper food, wet feet, sluggish liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from native medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, has proven its value in thousands of cases, like the following:

Mrs. DORA M. MARSH, of Auburn, N. H., writes: "I have used your medicine for several years and have found it to be the best for all my troubles. I have used it for my nervousness, my headache, my dizziness, my indigestion, my constipation, my irregular menstruation, my general weakness, my inability to get on my feet, my inability to do my work, my inability to sleep, my inability to eat, my inability to live. I feel like a new woman now. I feel like a young girl. I feel like a woman who is really happy. I will gladly tell my friends about the good work of your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, revised up-to-date edition—1008 pages, answers hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know. Sent free in cloth binding to any address on receipt of 50 cent-stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only.

Stewed rhubarb has a well-known medical value, besides being a complexion beautifier, it is said to be valuable for rheumatic troubles.

When using vinegar to remove paint stains from white goods, have it as well as the cloth with which it is rubbed on, as hot as possible.

A little muriatic acid added to the rinsing water after a blue-and-white fiber is scrubbed with soap and water will help restore the color.

Peaches are good baked. Take out the stone, fill the cavity with sugar, chopped nuts and raisins, and bake in the same way as an apple.

Castile soap should be bought in quantities, and put away on the shelf to ripen. It may grow dark, but the older it gets the better it will be.

To make butter scotch, mix four cupsful of brown sugar, two cupsful of butter and three tablespoonfuls of water and boil until crisp in water.

For a tight, hoarse cough, where phlegm is not raised, take hot water often, as hot as can be sipped. It will nearly always give great relief.

A delicious way to serve baked potatoes is to remove them from the skins, run through a vegetable press and mix with salt, pepper and butter.

Keep all wide-mouthed bottles that come into the house. They are handy receptacles for keeping tacks, seeds, screws and other small things.

Lettuce, watercress and all such things should be kept on ice or in ice water long enough before a meal to get them thoroughly chilled.

To brighten the eyes, take occasional

LONDON, April 30.

The Home Office to-day inaugurated a more active campaign to put an end to suffragette outrages. The headquarters of the women's union, where many of the outrages have been organized, have been occupied by the police, and all the active leaders taken into custody, including Mrs. Drummond, and Miss Kenny, who were out on bail. They are arrested on a fresh charge of conspiracy with the Pankhursts to commit malicious damages. Over 1,000 policemen and detectives from Scotland Yard were engaged in the capture of the offices. They had scarcely taken possession when Mrs. Drummond, ignorant of what had happened, arrived. She was admitted, not realizing that she had voluntarily entered the lion's den, until she found herself under arrest and on her way to Bow Street, where she and the Kenny woman, who had been caught elsewhere with five other active officials of the organization, Kerr, Lake, Lennox, Barrett and Saunders, who were in charge of the offices at the time of the raid, were had been arrested. A large quantity of documents were seized, and several typists and other clerks were ordered to leave the premises, which were then closed, the police remaining on guard. The women are charged with a conspiracy contrary to the clauses of the Malicious Damages Act.

LONDON, April 30.

Austria's threat to take matters into her own hands and carry out the declared decision of the Powers, regarding the evacuation of Scutari, is regarded here as an attempt to bring pressure to bear on Britain, France and Russia, to induce them to accept the Austrian proposals at the Ambassadors' Conference in London tomorrow. The situation is critical, and the Conference may have to decide the fateful issue. The attitude of Russia is, perhaps, the gravest element in the situation, as it is more than doubtful if Russia has, so far, cooperated loyally with the other Powers. This is indicated in some measure by the fact that she took no active part in the blockade of Montenegrin ports, but delegated France to represent her. The crucial point is now reached. If the concert of the Powers breaks down under the stress of Russia's opposition to Austria, it is impossible to foretell the consequences. Austria is, meanwhile, making urgent representations to Italy to join in her campaign, but Italy, it seems, is still holding back. I must not be forgotten that King Nicholas is the father of the Queen of Italy.

WARSAW, April 30.

An extraordinary sensation has been caused by the arrest of Baron John Biebing, one of the wealthiest landlords of Lithuania, on the charge of murdering Prince Ladislas Dulic Lubeki, a close relative by marriage whose body was found pierced by two bullet wounds on April 22, in a parlour adjoining his residence at Tochin near Warsaw.
