Doctors and lawyers played their last match of the season on the Asylum crease yesterday afternoon. A number of the latter's best men were out of the city, and consequently the team was weakened. The doctors went first to bat and piled up 105 runs, Dr. Ecemer making 23, Dr. Williams 35 and Dr. Rosss 22. This probably scared the men of law, for when they went to bat "extras" was the only one to make double figures. Four of them succumbed in playing for goose eggs." In the second inning the pill men scored only 43 runs. Dr. Williams' 16, not out, were well played for. Drs. Macklin, Weld, Drake, Butler and Bayly succumbed in piling up the phenomenal score of no runs, When the lawyers came in for their second inning they had decided to do something wonderful, and one of them did. Frank Love scored 15. The others would have made more runs than they did had they not lost their wickets so soon. The lawyers were fairly beaten at cricket, but they outshone their opponents when the inner men were brought into play. How the hot reast beef and potatoes and peaches and cream did disappear! The men of law had ferocious appetites, and one of them devoured such a quantity of cream that his comrades called him a churn. There may be some doctor bills to pay as a result of the game. The lunch, which was highly appreciated by both elevens, was kindly provided by the Asylum authorities. Below is the score of the MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—About a month ago John Taylor, employed in the Canadian Pacific shops at Montreal, shipped on board the Canopus, a cattle vessel bound for England. When the ship reached Quebec two stowaways found on the ship jumped overboard. One of the men who could not awim was drowned and his body was identified by friends as that of Taylor, the master of the Oddfellows Ledge to which Taylor belonged, being one of the number, the Oddfellows took charge of the funeral and bought the lot in Mount Royal Cemetery. At a late hour last night Taylor's wife was startled by his reappearance. He had just returned from England on the Canopus and had neither been dead nor buried.

Two Mon Asphyxiated—The Bogus Advertisement Case on Trial.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—Two men were found dead in a room to-day over Botham's drug store at York and Queen streets. A double gas jet in the room was on full and the room was full of gas. From papers on the bodies their names appear to be Robt. Hamilton and Frank Harper. They had C. P. R. train tickets on them from Myrtle to Toronto.

The trial of Wm. E. Kelly, the Simcoe lawyer, and Wm. D. Vandebury, the Testerville hotel-keeper, on the charge of obtaining money from a Toronto student by means of bogus advertisements, occupied Judge MacDougail and a jury all day at the General Sessions. The evidence was very damaging against both men. The examination was not concluded when the court arose.

The Anglican Synod. The Anglican Synod.

MONTREAL, Sept. 16.—At the meeting of the Anglican Synod to-day a grant of $1,500 was made to Bishop Sullivan, of Algoma, in order to enable him to take a holiday, as he is in fill-health at the present time. A conference was arranged between the upper and lower houses of the synod to discuss consolidation of the church in British North America.
