Reliance defeated the Conwithout significance. In the first leg, which was the only one sailed under fair racing conditions, the Reliance had shown again that in a light wind and smooth water she was the queen of the trio. The course was an elevenmile beat to windward and eastward, a three-mile close reach across the Sound, and a broad reach of eleven miles to the finish line-25 miles in all. Both Columbia and Constitution entered protests. At the start, Capt. Rhodes, by able jockeying, sent the Constitution across the line almost side by side with the Reliance and to windward of her, but was recalled by the regatta committee and compelled make a new start, while Reliance got safely away. In starting the second time the Constitution, in an awkward position by the recall, forced the umbia to tack almost on the starting line. Columbia immediately hoisted a protest flag. Reliance beat the Constileg, and 3 minutes 5 seconds on the second, and beat the Columbia 9 minutes 15 seconds on the first leg, and 18 minutes 30 seconds on the second. Against a strong head tide, Columbia barely moved up to the finish line and hung at the wrong side of it for half series. The official time:

> Cambridge, Mass, May 30. — Harry D. Elkes, of Glens Falls, N. Y., the premier motor pace follower of the United States, was killed, and Will Stinson, almost as well known as a bicyclist as Elkes, and F. A. Gately, a motor steersman, were seriously in jured in an accident at the initial bicycle meeting in the new Charles River Park track this afternoon. The accident occurred in the first lap of the sixteenth mile of a motor-paced race and was due to the bursting of the rear tire of Elkes' wheel at a point where the track bank is at an angle of about 33 degrees. Elkes tried to stop his machine and in doing so was thrown over the handle-bars, turning a complete somersault, and with his wheel rolled down the steep embankment directly in front of Stinson's motor, which was manned by Batteries-Milligan and Shaw; Hardy and Toft. Umpires, Latham and Brown. Sons of the Heather Went Down Before Bowling Team Representing the World.

> The Scotchmen went down to defeat Saturday in spite of the bagpipes and the All-the-Worlds were too much for them. The winners were led by Dr. English, the vice-president of the London Rowing Club, on whose well-kept green the match took place. The Scotchmen lost by a score of 86 to 98 or 12 "down," the score by the rinks being as given below. As will be seen there were five rinks in play during the afternoon, meaning a total of 40 bowlers. They were all good bowlers, too, and the various plays were matters of interest not only to those engaged in the sport, but to a number of spectators, among whom were several During the early part of the afternoon a Highland piper paraded about the club grounds and though he may have given the Scotchmen inspiration enough he was unable to make their score exceed their opponents'. Both sides thoroughly enjoyed the game and both sides indulged in cheering after it. The rinks were as follows:
