When it assem-bled at Berlin under the constitution as quoted representatives were present from the Knights of Labor, and numerous unions known as independent or national bodies, which are purely Canadian, and not in affiliation with international organizations of the same call-

Many of these organizations have, for reasons which appeared vital to them, firmly resisted the persistent efforts which have been made in recent years to persuade them to throw in their lot with the American Federation torial Grain Growers' Association will of Labor, which, up till recently, was purely a legislative body, similar to the watch wheat shipments. The American Federation of Labor, as well as the international organizations, has its headquarters and is controlled in the United States.

These national or Canadian bodies have up to the present been recognized as genuine labor organizations, and admitted to the Trades and Labor Congress, which body in some instances gave them being through the charter issued by its officers, and have also been admitted to the local trades councils, where, with one exception, representatives of all the various classes of organizations have worked harmoniously for the common good.

SOME CAUSES OF FRICTION. Labor has displayed great activity in the Dominion, especially in the Eastern Provinces, and there has been more or less friction in consequence. A number of the locals chartered by it have refused to recognize the Canadian congress. These local organizations have also organized trades councils, and in from 25 to 35, and in some cases 45 at least one instance, at Charlottetown, bushels to the acre. the labor ranks has occurred, which has resulted in two rival trades councils being established, one composed of organizations connected with the international bodies, the other having for the Knights of Labor and purely Can-adian unions, which refuse to affiliate with the internationals or American Federation of Labor. The feeling is especially bitter between these factions because of the situation in the boot and shoe trade in that city. The National Boot and Shoe Makers' Union, a purely Canadian organization, had a strike in a certain factory, and the head of the International Boot and Shoe Workers' Association, which has its headquarters in the United States, was called in. The result was the or-ganization of the shop under interna-tional affiliation, contrary to the wishes of the Canadian organization, and consequently there are now two rival unions in that trade in Montreal. NOT RECOGNIZED AS GENUINE.

By the action of the Trades Congress at Berlin all these purely Canadian bodies in trades where international organizations exist are refused recognition as genuine labor organizations, even although, in some cases at all events, they were the pioneer organiza-tions in Canada. This policy was with his daughter, because he thought she might strain herself when the crisis of the disease was approaching, but the child only smiled. Four hours later her heart, weakened by the presence of disease, ceased beating. Little Mary Ann Jamieson was a child with a host of friends in the west side. She was a juvenile elocutionist of promise and talent and spoke at many entertainments. She was a pupil of Charles Benson's, and when the child's death was announced her teacher burst into tears. The child also possessed a sweet voice, and her father had arranged a splendid future for her. The funeral of the child was held Tuesday afternoon, and Rev. David I. Sutherland, of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, conducted the services. At the grave at Woodmere, Miss Anna Benson and Robt. Benson sang over grave of the child the song she had repeated before her death, and the strains of the "Dream of Paradise" formed a fitting anthem for the sad occasion of the funeral. Jamieson is inclined to think the child must have had a presentiment of death before she sang the song.

Boer Manifesto Created a Bad Impression.

LEYDS AND REITZ ARE BLAMED

A German Subject Convicted of Treachery Sentenced to Ten Years Imprisonment.

London, Sept. 25. - The tone and contents of the Boer generals' manifesto, issued in the form of an appeal to the civilized world for contributions to assist destitute Boers and help in the education of Boer children, excite the resentment of the whole British press, and the document tends to alienate the sympathy hitherto felt for the Boer people in many quarters. It is regarded as showing hostility to Great Britain, and the work not of Botha, Dewet and Delarey, but of Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Boers, and Mr. Reitz, former state secretary of the Transvaal-a blunder which the Boers will live to regret.

The statement in the manifesto that 30,000 houses have been burned is declared to be a gross exaggeration, and complaint is made that while the document presents the case against Great Britain in the worst possible light, it dishonestly ignores the fact that the British Government has promised to advance loans free of interest for two years to enable the Boers to resettle on their farms. It is pointed out that even if the Boers' estimate of 30,000 farms destroyed is correct, the $15,000,000 granted under the peace terms will give each family $500. The idea that the appeal is likely to result in getting anything like $150,000,000 is ridiculed as preposter-

Roberts Pronounces Practice a Dis grace to the Army.

London, Sept. 25. - As an outcome of the recent Gregson incident, Earl Roberts, commander-in-chief of forces, has notified all commanding officers of the necessity of suppressing with a strong hand any such practices as "ragging," which he declares to be a disgrace to the army and most pernicious and prejudicial to the spirit of discipline. Earl Roberts declares that officers who show zeal and love for their profession deserve all honor and encouragement, and threatents severely to punish in the future any cases similar to the Gregson case which are reported to him.

nd Lieut. Gregson, of the Second Life Guards, was known to be a hard worker and efficient officer and popular with his men. On the night of July 21 a number of officers of the regiment chased Lieut. Gregson out of his quarters, hunted him through the barracks with whips, ducked him in a horse-trough, and later wrecked his quarters and destroyed is kit. The only explanation of this treatment was that Lieut. Gregson was socially undesirable. A good Range will last many years, and when it saves in fuel it pays for its self, while a cheap Range is constantly adding to its price in extra consumption of fuel. The "Happy Thought" Range is the lightest fuel consumer in the world, and the most perfect Range constructed. It is a perfect cooking apparatus.

Toronto, Sept. 25 .- An extraordinary case from Brantford came up yesterday morning at Osgoode Hall. A couple of spiritualists named Walter and Gladys Dudley are holding seances in Brantford, and the woman has been attracting general attention by describing what she asserts were the circumstances regarding the Quirk murder there some months ago. She tells of the murdered hotelkeeper and another man, whose description she gives, coming down the street laughing and joking together, and of the two going into a room together and the other striking Quirk over the head with a

Mrs. Dudley even suggested that she could tell the name of the murderer if the authorities desired. As the inquest is not finished, this was regarded by Mrs. Quirk and her advisers as going too far, and an interim injunction was obtained from Judge Hardy to prevent the unseemly discussion at the seances. The case will come before a judge in single court today on an application to make the injunction permanent.
