a Red-Hot, Sizzling BattleMcIntyre Slides Over the Plate for Only Run in the Ninth—Tigers Held to Three Hits—Errors Help.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—Both clubs fought like demons for the rubber this afternoon, and after a grueling duel between Pitchers Steele and Willett fortune favored the visitors, who scored the only run in the game in the last inning.

Manager Jennings showed that he cared to take no chances by putting Willett for the second time in the series, and the big fellow showed that he merited the confidence placed in him by pitching an elegant game of ball. Boston failed to see second base in but one inning during the game, the third, while Detroit on the other hand, hit to point three times, and to third twice, McIntyre being the lucky man to get to that point.

Boston opened the eighth and ninth innings with safe hits only to have the next man double his predecessors. Willett received grand support. Schaefer, O'Leary and Rossman put up a game that was of royal hue. Cobb made several fine catches, and Schmidt did excellent work behind the bat.

Eighteen Out.
How well Steele pitched is shown by the fact that beginning with Cobb in the first inning 13 men went out in succession, and then it was Cobb who broke the ice with a safe hit in the seventh inning. But 26 men went to the bat off him in eight innings, just the same number that went to bat off Willett in that period.

Boston had its regular team in the field for the first time in some days. McConnell was back again at second. Lord played a star game at third and Wagner, Stahl and Criger shone by their brilliant work. Lord was the only one on either side who made more than one safe catch.

McIntyre opened the game with the only hit of the game worth more than one base—a ripping triple to left, but Schaefer failed to send him home, hitting a grounder to Wagner on which Mac was easy out at the rubber. Then Schaefer tried a steal and was caught. Crawford walked, so that this gift was lost.

Cobb Singled.
In the seventh Cobb singled with two men down, and took second on Sullivan's failure to handle the ball cleanly, but was left on Rossman's long drive to Gessler. Lord was the first of the locals to hit safely, and his hit in the first was followed by an out in a try to steal. Criger singled in the third and Steele walked, giving Boston its first chance to score, but Criger was caught napping and McConnell, after singling to right, was caught trying to stretch it to two bases on Cobb's slight fumble. In the sixth McConnell walked with two out and was left.

Sullivan opened the eighth with a hit to right and was doubled on Wagner's liner to Schaefer, and in the last Cravath batted for Steele and singled only to be doubled on McConnell's pop to Rossman. In the ninth, Cravath, McIntyre and Steele, in that order, were out. McIntyre walked with one down and Schaefer fouled to Wagner.

Mac Went Down.
Then Crawford singled to right, McIntyre going to third. Crawford slipped in rounding first and McConnell got the ball and threw low to Stahl. The ball rolled a few feet away from the first baseman and before he could recover it Mac slid over the rubber.

C. A. A. U. Intends Grappling With Problems of Paid "Amateurs."

Members of the East London Baseball League will be interested to know that the C. A. A. U. will shortly grapple with the question of amateur baseball as it applies to field and track athletics.

The rulings made in the local league have at times been highly humorous. Men who have played in days gone by on the old International League team, and even in the Eastern League, have been allowed to play, while boys like Clucker Dunn, Louie Kerr and Jack McHugh, who played in the late International League—and are still mourning the loss of their time and salaries—are barred.

The Toronto News, in discussing the question, says:
The state into which so-called "amateur" ball has got itself in regard to amateurism has been a topic of conversation among sporting men for a long time. Recently, however, the subject has received the attention of some of the men in authority. Before very long it will undoubtedly be sufficiently before the general public to warrant the application to it of the term, "a real live topic." The question will probably be threshed out before the opening of the season next year.

A Blind.
It is well known that with many of our ball clubs and leagues the word "amateur" is nothing short of an empty name, and sometimes a blind. It is quite generally used, in many cases, in conjunction with professionalism, either open or partly hidden. The term, as largely used today in Toronto, simply seems as a distinction between those of our local boys who play ball and those men hired by the Toronto ball club who make their living at the business. The sign of money-making in both cases is identical.

Will Draw the Line.
Now comes a hint of the drawing of

PAID $3,000 FOR COLT
WHICH WON $75,000

Frank Gill, the winner of the Yonkers handicap Saturday, is an imported colt bought by Jack McGinnis from the stable of Harry Brown, of Pittsburgh, from which Thomas Hitchcock and John Madden purchased Chased Salvidore a year ago. He was by Collar and he is a chestnut of fine proportions. He cost McGinnis the trifling sum of $3,000, and he has won close to $75,000 in two seasons.

Frank Gill was the first colt to win the Coney Island Jockey Club stakes. He captured that $25,000 purse a year ago last June, winning from Peter Pan and Salvidore. Frank Gill went amiss soon after his victory in the Coney Island, and although he won the Travers at Saratoga and the Hindoo at Gravesend, he was not himself again until this season.

BASEBALL.
The Clarence Street Lions yesterday defeated the Terrible Cubs by a score of 13 to 3.

The Lions also defeated the Junior Beavers by 5 to 2. Hewitt, Fox and Macaroni performed for the victors, and Star and Irwin for the losers.

NOTES OF THE GAME.
Boston, Aug. 17.—Threatening weather kept the attendance down.
Mr. Evans umpired very satisfactorily during the series and kept the players well in hand.
"Ty" earned a place on the bench by remarking that he made in the first-base coaching box in the fifth that Umpire Evans did not relish.
The Detroit players are free to admit that the locals have given them the toughest argument of any club and are glad they landed two out of three here.
The trade of Frank Laporte, of Boston, for Harry Niles, of the New York club, has been announced. Laporte left for the scene of his former labors tonight, and Niles is expected here Tuesday.
Ned Hanlon was a very deeply interested spectator and Mrs. "Ty" Cobb watched the game from a box in the grandstand directly behind the screen. She greatly enjoyed her visit to the Hub.
"What's the matter with the Tigers?" shouted an excited enthusiast after Schaefer "executed" his double play in the eighth. Detroit without a doubt for another American League pennant is the Boston verdict, and it is the general belief that the National team to be in the play-off will be Pittsburgh.
There was a hubbub all right when Willett caught Criger off second. O'Leary got his man, but failed to hold the ball, and then there was a howl that Criger knocked the ball out of his hand. A moment after Schmidt caught Criger at second by a great throw.

YESTERDAY'S GAME between the Tigers and the Beaneaters must have been a game "as was a game." It looks like Detroit and Smokestown now.

IN ALL PROBABILITY the London Rugby team will be managed by a Philadelphia college team. This gentleman, who wishes his name withheld for the present, states that he thinks London can be turned into a winning team with proper management. There are others who think the same way and it is to be hoped that an early start is made toward getting a team together.

NEW MATERIAL, however, will have to be found, for many of the old-timers are out of it this season. These include Billy Rowland, Frank Spry, Walter Bice and Davy Bole—all good men.

DUNDAS IS GOING to be a strong contender for Rugby honors this season according to all appearances, and already there is talk of Awrey, the Cub's last year's captain, playing in the Valley Burg. Dundas can certainly stir up a great aggregation of football talent.

STANLEY KETCHELL is right in asking Tommy Burns when he heads in at, for while Tommy heads the list of eligible heavyweights Ketchell occupies the same position among the middleweights, and an ex-coupe great drawing-card as Burns. Burns won't make himself more popular by these hold-up methods. In days of old a champion was willing to battle at any time and with anybody and he didn't ask for a few old dollars. All Burns asks is 75 per cent of the purse, win, lose or draw. And that over a man who is many pounds lighter than himself.

IT WAS ERRONEOUSLY stated in yesterday's Advertiser that Bobby Jones had apparently thrown badly to allow Brennan to steal those two coveted bases in the East End League games.

BY THEIR DEFEAT of the Nationals at Toronto Saturday the Tecumseh practically clinched the N. L. U. championship. Speaking of the game the Telegram says:

IT WAS A GREAT GAME of lacrosse. In the early periods Nationals showed some phenomenal bursts of lacrosse. They could outrun the Indians. With the ball on the ground they were the better team, and the way their fast combination worked the ball in on the net left little to be desired.

BUT THAT BIG INDIAN defence played them to perfection. They didn't try to chop them down, but gave them the body check at every opportunity. And as man after man of the speedy Nationals picked himself off the ground, spitting out a mixture of dust and Lower Canadian French, their speed slackened, their shots came from further out, and an ex-coupe eye could easily see that they were a beaten team.

Papke didn't work yesterday. He never does on Sunday. He confined himself to a little jog on the road, athletic games being run off at his training camp. When the winner of the 100-yard dash came up for his prize, Jones challenged him in behalf of Papke. Everybody had a broad smile but when Papke pulled a pair of spiked running shoes out of his pocket, the smiles faded. Then Papke confessed that he was a ten-second man and the Illinois State champion. When the picnic champion heard this, Papke was forced to put his running shoes back into his trunk.

Papke will work hard today, and on Tuesday, the day of the fight with Burke, he will rest. Sailor Burke has gone to Stratford, Conn., to finish his work for the Thunderbolt.

Tom O'Rourke is to blossom out again. Tom hasn't had a show since the night the police raided the McNamee-Johnny Summers bout. This where he has hired a big pavilion. He is trying to get Matty Baldwin and Jack Goodman for his opener.
