EAST LONDON NEWS BOY BADLY BITTEN BY BIG BULLDOG

Stewart Dean, of 630 Dufferin ROADWAY WAS FLOODED Avenue, Severely Injured on Saturday.

Stewart Dean, a young lad residing at 630 Dufferin avenue, was so severely bitten by a bulldog on Saturday that it was necessary to have the wounds treated by a physician. The young d was walking along Dundas street, near William street, at the time, when suddenly a rather large-sized bulldog rushed toward him and grabbed him by the calf of the leg.

The dog sank its teeth into the lad's leg, and blood flowed from the wound After quite a struggle, young Dean reed himself from the vicious animal and with the aid of a passerby chased the dog away. His leg was badly bleeding, and he was taken into Dr Beal's office, where the wounds were cauterized and bound up. The lad was then taken home and he has been confined to the house ever since.

The owner of the buildog is not known, and the animal has not been seen since. The dog appeared to be as. especially vicious one. It had no provocation to attack the lad as he did not notice it until it was rushing toward for the Duke of Connaught and his party was a luncheon at noon today at the home of Ambassador and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, following which sight-seeing tour of the city in automobiles may be taken. Tonight there will be a dinner at the Reid house at which Cardinal Farley, Bishop and Mrs. David H. Greer, Mr. and Joseph H. Chote, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. T. Lincoln, Major-General and Mrs. Frederick D. Grant and others, are invited. A musicale follows the din

In the vice-regal party beside the duke, the duchess and Princess Patricia, are Miss Pelley, lady-in-waiting Col. Lowther and Captain Beaupre controller of the vice-regal household Duke There Before.

The arrival here today of the Duke of Connaught recalls his previous presence in New York, when, on Jan. 21, 1870, as Prince Arthur, he passed through the city on his way from Canada to Washington, whither he went at the express command of Queen Victoria, his mother, to pay his respects to President Grant.

The stay of the prince in this city at that time was made memorable by the arrest of several persons on suspicion of being connected with a plot to assassinate him, but the report, i was found later, had apparently ori ginated in the brain of a policeman. As Prince Arthur, the duke made favorable impression wherever he went. On one occasion when attending a performance of Charles Dickens' play, "Feichter" at Niblo's Garden, the orchestra began the strains of torate, were made by representatives of the various denominations.
