[illegible] ARRIVES

[illegible] 165th French Artillery [illegible] arrived in St. John Monday, on his way to Montreal. In speaking to a reporter he said: "There is one thing I wish to say and that is, there is not too much in praise of Col. J. L. McAvity. He certainly is a wonder and is well liked by every man in the battalion. We sailed from St. John on June 13th and on the 13th of September entered France. The regiment before us, were boasting that things had been very quiet, and that they only lost about six men in as many months. The old 26th had only been in France two weeks when we awakened the Germans and immediately we got into a fight, and believe me we started burying them in good style. The 26th used to get the worst end of things when they were in St. John, and even when we got to England everything was not the roseiest for us, but there is one thing and that is true, the 26th is the best battalion on the front, and that is going some.

OBITUARY

Among the many who departed this life in the year 1915, none is more missed in his home and among his friends and neighbours than the late Angus McLeod of Maple Green. Mr. McLeod was of pure Scotch decent, being a native of Inverness Shire, Scotland. He came to this country in company with a number of Scotch Masons to assist in the building of the I. C. R. While cutting stone in what is known as the Croley Quarry, he became acquainted with and married Miss Ellen Callahan, who was at that time a very popular young lady. They settled on a farm in that place and made for himself a comfortable and good home, still following his trade as time and opportunity afforded. He remained among [illegible] through his life, and was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was a Presbyterian and a True Liberal at heart and was promotion of bridges under the Liberal government of the Province of N. B., and in that capacity proved himself to be a capable man. There was born to him a son and daughter, John at home and Catherine [illegible] the State [illegible] time of his death he was postmaster of the place of his residence, now known of late as McLeod's Siding.

There is a very general and most genuine mourning throughout the entire community at the passing from amongst us of Mrs. James A. Sharp, who died at her residence in Summerside on Wednesday after a long and painful illness. She was a lady in the truest sense of the term, who through out her long life gave devoted to the point and the welfare of those about her, unselfish in everything and very deservedly respected by a very unusually wide circle of friends and withal a [illegible] member and worker of the Presbyterian Church. The late Mrs. Sharp was born [illegible] St. Eleanors on April 9th, 1850, a daughter of the late Wm. Bell. There are left to mourn beside a sorrowing husband, three sons and two daughters, Messrs. Herbert and Lloyd at home and Lester, of Sudbury, Ont.; Mrs. W. H. McKie, of Summerside, and Miss Jessie at home; also three brothers, Messrs. Benjamin, Alpheus and Wm. R. Bell of Wedding, in California, and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Craswell and Mrs. Wm. Craswell, both of Saskatchewan. The funeral is taking place this (Friday) afternoon. To the bereaved husband and family we tender our deepest sympathy in their [illegible] those who venerate the land, owning [illegible]
