THERE CANADA LEADS THE STATES "In speaking of Canada and everything rtaining to the country, including the vernment, Americans generally make the remark that we are one hundred years behind the age," said a prominent Canadian olice official to a reporter for the Detroit

"There may be some truth in the statement," he centinued, "but in the administration of criminal justice I am of the opinion that Canada leads Michigan, if not any of the states in the union. Last March when Ashman, Khun, and Bowles escaped from the house of correction at Ionia, I among others received a circular from Warden Watkins, offering $225 reward for their capture, or $75 for the capture of either of them. Unfortunately for me, however, they did not come my way, but a few days after the escape were captured by Chief Bains and the Windsor police. The annoyance and expense attending their extradition and return to the United States were very great, but that was not the fault of the Windsor authorities, who did all that was possible to get rid of the desperate trie. When they were safely caged at Detroit, and the time came for settling the bills, Chief Bains received a check for $75, one-third of the promised reward, and since then has heard nothing more of the men, except that Rowless and Kalm were hack at Ionia and Ashman "There may be some truth in the state Monday in January. ST. THOMAS' WARD more of the men, except that Rowles and Kuhn were back at Ionia and Ashman stands a good chance of being sent down stands a good chance of being sent down for a long term.

"There is no just reason why the Windsor police should not receive the remaining $150 due them. They performed all that was required of them, and the money should be paid. Escapes from Ionia are mot unfrequent, and as a rule the criminals cross the river at the first opportunity. If the prison officials desire the co-operation of the Capadian police they should fulfil all promises, even if they are expensive. Otherwise they cannot expect any assistance from us in the future.

Real Estate Active. A brisk demand for real estate exists i A brisk demand for real estate exists in this city at present. Eager & Faulkner, 21 Adelaide east, report December sales not only large but far ahead of same months in previous years. This speaks well as December is usually quiet in real estate. We recommend parties having properties to dispose of to place them with this firm. Their terms are liberal, no charge being made unless sale is effected through them.
