HARD ON SMALL TRADERS.

REPROBATION TO THE GREAT CLOSING MEASURES.

Meeting of the City Council Committee on Monday evening last, the Mayor presiding, was held in the City Hall. The Mayor presiding, was held in the City Hall. The Mayor presiding, was held in the City Hall.

President Bonville of the Traders' Protection Association explained how the bylaw operated in the case of a great number of retail dry goods traders. In his own case he had taken $2000 less in May this year than he did in 1887. He pointed out that traders who had any and three departments, signed the bylaw of their departments, thus giving a fictitious importance to their signature.

Mayor McEwen stated that the inevitable result of the early closing law would be to drive out of business all the small traders, who were the backbone of the city. He stated that the bylaw was a great wrong to the city, and that he would do everything in his power to get it repealed.

Mayor Clark said he would call the committee to call the committee for the express purpose of repealing the bylaw. He stated that the committee should have the earliest opportunity of repealing the bylaw, and that he would do everything in his power to get it repealed.

THE HOBBS' TRIP.

Comparative Measurements.

To get some comparison between the ideal of woman's figure as the Greeks conceived it, and that of the modern fashioner and shakemaker regard to the New York Mail, one cannot do better than compare the proportions of the Medicean Venus with those of the modern model who exhibits line goods for the sale at the wholesale and retail stores. The Venus is 5 feet 5 inches in height, measures nearly 35 inches about the waist, 34 inches about the bust and 42 inches about the hips. The upper arm measures 13 inches and the wrist 8 inches from the base of the hand to the wrist, between 14 and 15 inches. The approved dimensions for a dress of fashionable design played in most of the large city houses, do not differ from the Venus greatly in regard to height. Her waist and bust measure as follows: Bust, 34 inches; waist, 34 inches; hips, 42 inches; upper arm, 13 inches; wrist, 8 inches.

When the dressmaker's model differs from the Venus, it is usually in the bust and hips. The bust is usually smaller, and the hips are usually larger. This is due to the fact that the modern model is usually a young girl, and the Venus is a woman of mature age.

The proportions of the Venus are such that she is a perfect example of the ideal of woman's figure as the Greeks conceived it. Her proportions are such that she is a perfect example of the ideal of woman's figure as the Greeks conceived it.

West Toronto Junction.

The public has been favored of late with having plans of estates placed before them, but their attention is now most particularly called to the plan above. The block is situated in one of the most lovely spots near High Park and close to High Park in the whole of West Toronto Junction proper, and indeed of any place for miles around. This high and healthily situated property commands an extensive view of the Lake, and the lots on the east side run down to a beautiful creek. The views from houses erected on the east side will have a beautiful view of the surrounding country which gives one the idea that they are living far away in mountain scenery. Another great feature regarding this estate is, that the facilities of getting into the city are to any part of the world are so great that it is done away with the necessity of keeping a horse. There is also a splendid school, churches of all denominations, good houses, where everything needed can be obtained and as reasonable as you can procure in the city. I am open to negotiate for the sale of the whole block or in lots under most favorable terms.

As an investment nothing can be safer or more profitable. Apply early to WILLIAM MEDLAND, Real Estate Agent, 14 Victoria-street, City.
